The Art of the Woman Emily Fourmy Cutrer, 1988 A dramatic and authoritative biography of the flamboyant sculptor who left Europe to settle in Texas The Art of the Woman Emily F. Cutrer, The Art of the Woman Emily Fourmy Cutrer, 2016-03-15 The Art of the Woman explores the life of German born Elisabet Ney a flamboyant sculptor who transfixed the philosopher Arthur Schopenhauer and left the court of the half mad Ludwig of Bavaria to put down new roots in Texas Born in 1833 Ney gained notoriety in Europe by sculpting the busts of such figures as Ludwig II Schopenhauer Garibaldi and Bismarck In 1871 she abruptly emigrated to America and became something of a recluse until resuming her sculpting career two decades later In Texas she was known for stormy relationships with officials patrons and women s organizations Her works included sculptures of Sam Houston and Stephen F Austin and are exhibited in the state and US capitols as well as the Smithsonian Emily Fourmy Cutrer s biography of Ney makes extensive use of primary sources and was the first to appraise both Ney s legend and individual works of art Cutrer argues that Ney was an accomplished sculptor coming out of a neglected German neoclassical tradition and that whatever her failures and eccentricities she was an important catalyst to cultural activity in Texas Concise Dictionary of Women Artists Delia Gaze, 2013-04-03 This book includes some 200 complete entries from the award winning Dictionary of Women Artists as well as a selection of introductory essays from the main volume Visual Art and the Urban Evolution of the New South Deborah C. Pollack, 2015-01-18 Visual Art and the Urban Evolution of the New South recounts the enormous influence of artists in the evolution of six southern cities Atlanta Charleston New Orleans Louisville Austin and Miami from 1865 to 1950 In the decades following the Civil War painters sculptors photographers and illustrators in these municipalities employed their talents to articulate concepts of the New South aestheticism and Gilded Age opulence and to construct a visual culture far beyond providing pretty pictures in public buildings and statues in city squares As Deborah C Pollack investigates New South proponents such as Henry W Grady of Atlanta and other regional leaders she identifies cultural strivers philanthropists women s organizations entrepreneurs writers architects politicians and dreamers who united with visual artists to champion the arts both as a means of cultural preservation and as mechanisms of civic progress Aestheticism made popular by Oscar Wilde s southern tours during the Gilded Age was another driving force in art creation and urban improvement Specific art works occasionally precipitated controversy and incited public anger yet for the most part artists of all kinds were recognized as providing inspirational incentives for self improvement civic enhancement and tourism art appreciation and personal fulfillment through the love of beauty Each of the six New South cities entered the late nineteenth century with fractured artistic heritages Charleston and Atlanta had to recover from wartime devastation The infrastructures of New Orleans and Louisville were barely damaged by war but their social underpinnings were shattered by the end of slavery and postwar economic depression Austin was not vitalized until after the Civil War and Miami was a post Civil War creation Pollack surveys these New South cities with an eye to understanding how each locale shaped its artistic and aesthetic self perception across a spectrum of economic political gender and race issues She also discusses Lost Cause imagery present in all the studied municipalities While many art history volumes concerning the South focus on sultry landscapes outside the urban grid Visual Art and the Urban Evolution of the New South explores the art belonging to its cities whether exhibited in its museums expositions and galleries or reflective of its parks plazas marketplaces industrial areas gardens and universities It also identifies and celebrates the creative urban humanity who helped build the cultural and social framework for the modern southern city
