The Asphalt Jungle A Screenplay From A Novel By W. R. Burnett:

Gangsters and G-Men on Screen Gene D. Phillips, 2014-09-26 While the gangster film may have enjoyed its heyday in the 1930s and 40s it has remained a movie staple for almost as long as cinema has existed From the early films of Humphrey Bogart James Cagney and Edward G Robinson to modern versions like Bugsy Public Enemies and Gangster Squad such films capture the brutality of mobs and their leaders In Gangsters and G Men on Screen Crime Cinema Then and Now Gene D Phillips revisits some of the most popular and iconic representations of the genre While this volume offers new perspectives on some established classics usual suspects like Little Caesar Bonnie and Clyde and The Godfather Part II Phillips also calls attention to some of the unheralded but no less worthy films and filmmakers that represent the genre Expanding the viewer's notion of what constitutes a gangster film Phillips offers such unusual choices as You Only Live Once Key Largo The Lady from Shanghai and even the 1949 version of The Great Gatsby Also included in this examination are more recent ventures such as modern classics The Grifters and Martin Scorsese's The Departed In his analyses Phillips draws on a number of sources including personal interviews with directors and other artists and technicians associated with the films he discusses Of interest to film historians and scholars Gangsters and G Men on Screen will also appeal to anyone who wants to better understand the films that represent an important contribution to crime cinema

In a Lonely Street Frank Krutnik, 2006-10-19 Taking issue with many orthodox views of Film Noir Frank Krutnik argues for a reorientation of this compulsively engaging area of Hollywood cultural production Krutnik recasts the films within a generic framework and draws on recent historical and theoretical research to examine both the diversity of film noir and its significance within American popular culture of the 1940s He considers classical Hollywood cinema debates on genre and the history of the emergence of character in film noir focusing on the hard boiled crime fiction of Dashiell Hammett Raymond Chandler and James M Cain as well as the popularisation of Freudian psychoanalysis and the social and cultural upheavals of the 1940s The core of this book however concerns the complex representation of masculinity in the noir tough thriller and where and how gender interlocks with questions of genre Analysing in detail major thrillers like The Maltese Falcon Double Indemnity Out of the Past and The Killers alongside lesser known but nonetheless crucial films as Stranger on the Third Floor Pitfall and Dead Reckoning Krutnik has produced a provocative and highly readable study of one of Hollywood's most perennially fascinating groups of films
