The Cognitive Artifacts of Designing Willemien Visser,2006-08-08 In this dynamic review and synthesis of empirical research and theoretical discussion of design as cognitive activity Willemien Visser reconciles and integrates the classical view of design as conceptualized by Herbert Simon s symbolic information processing approach with modern views of design such as the situativity approach as formulated by Donald Schon The author goes on to develop her own view on design in which design is most appropriately characterized as a construction of representations She lays the groundwork for the integration of design research and cognitive science This seemingly simple framework has implications that set the stage for this mutually beneficial integration

Eric Leland Saak, 2025-06-15 This book is the second of a planned three volume systematic theology under the title Confessions of a Heretic Volume One which has the subtitle Philosophical Considerations was published by Archway in 2024 The project now turns to Theological Considerations with the forthcoming Volume Three being Ecclesiological Consideration Organized into three Parts Volume Two focuses on the theological endeavor and the doctrines distinctive to Christianity namely the Trinity Jesus Christ sin and salvation Based on the foundational distinctions and definitions explicated in Volume One the current volume seeks to ask what the philosophical considerations imply for basic traditional understandings and terminology of Christian theology including that of Jesus of Nazareth his crucifixion and resurrection The project as a whole adopts a trinitarian structure with this second volume focused on God the Son or as here termed God the Perfector The argument is that Christian Theology needs to shift from an anthropocentric to a theocentric approach recognizing human beings simply as creatures and having the courage to face what that entails Yet doing so necessitates a radical reconceptualization of the very foundations of Christian Theology itself in the attempt to combat idolatry Networked Flow Andrea Gaggioli, Giuseppe Riva, Luca Milani, Elvis Mazzoni, 2012-10-04 Identifying networked flow as the key driver of networked creativity this new volume in the Springer Briefs series deploys concepts from a range of sub disciplines in psychology to suggest ways of optimizing the innovative potential of creative networks In their analysis of how to support these networks the contributing authors apply expertise in experimental social cultural and educational psychology They show how developing a creative network requires the establishment of an optimal group experience in which individual intentions inform and guide collective goals The volume represents a three fold achievement It develops a ground breaking new perspective on group creativity the notion of networked flow as a bridging concept linking the neuropsychological psychological and social levels of the creative process In addition the authors set out a six stage model that provides researchers with a methodological framework also by referring to the social network analysis for studying the creativity traditionally associated with interpersonal contexts Finally the book includes perceptive analysis of the novel possibilities opened up by second generation internet technologies particularly in social networking that seem destined to develop and sustain online creativity As a wide ranging exposition of a new direction in theoretical psychology that is laden with exciting possibilities this volume will inform and inspire professionals scholars and students alike Pink Beam Lord Rc, 2007-07-01 A study of the novels and short stories of science fiction writer Philip K Dick 1928 1982 with presentation of a literary chronology of his career
