The Atlas Of Wintering Birds In Britain And Ireland:

The Atlas of Wintering Birds in Britain and Ireland Peter Lack, 2010-11-30 This companion volume to The Atlas of Breeding Birds of Britain and Ireland is derived from surveys of birds present in Britain and Ireland during the three winters 1981/82, 1982/83 and 1983/84. The surveys were organised by the British Trust for Ornithology and the Irish Wildbird Conservancy as were the earlier breeding birds surveys. The Winter Atlas maps 200 species, 192 of which have full page two colour maps faced by a page of text. The texts written by over 100 specialists comment on the survey results, the species generally and the distribution and abundance as mapped. In addition there are introductory chapters on the maps, the weather in the three winters, bird patterns and movements and appendices describing the planning organisation, field methods and processing of the survey data from record cards to computer output and maps. A team of 23 artists led by Robert Gillmor has provided the line drawings which head the species accounts. Bird Atlas 2007-11: The Breeding and Wintering Birds of Britain and Ireland Dawn Balmer, Simon Gillings, Brian Caffrey, Bob Swann, Iain Downie, Rob Fuller, 2014-08-14 Recommended for viewing on a colour tablet. The Bird Atlas 2007-2011 is the definitive statement on breeding and winter bird distributions in Britain and Ireland. Birds in Ireland Clive Hutchinson, 2010-10-30 Birdwatching has become an increasingly popular pastime in Ireland as elsewhere. Nor is all of the birdwatching done by the Irish. Many professional ornithologists from Britain and Western Europe find good reason to study Ireland's birds as do the numerous birdwatching visitors each year. Clive Hutchinson, a leading Irish ornithologist, has compiled this comprehensive review of birds in the Republic and Northern Ireland to coincide with the 21st anniversary year of the Irish Wildbird Conservancy's foundation and he has had the IWC's active support throughout. Knowledge about the status and distribution of birds in Ireland has increased greatly since the 1960s and this is reflected in the detailed species accounts which form the major part of the book. Factors which led to this greater knowledge, recent changes in bird distribution and status and reasons for the absence of some species are topics discussed in the book's introductory chapters. Other subjects covered are Ireland's topography, climate and habitats, a review of ornithology and ornithologists in Ireland over the last 100 years and conservation programmes of more recent times. John Busby's superb illustrations, more than 100, are a feature of the book helping to set the Irish scene as well as depict its birds. Birds in England Andy Brown, Phil Grice, 2010-06-30 The Poyser avifauna: Birds in Scotland, Birds in Ireland and Birds in Wales are all now regarded as classic works. The series is now completed with Birds in England, an avifauna for England's diverse birdlife past and present. England marks the northwestern limit for many Palearctic breeding birds and is close to the southwestern limit for several others, in particular several seabird species whose English colonies are of international significance. It is the first point of arrival for new colonists from the south. Little Egret and Yellow-legged Gull are two recent arrivals and it is also of international importance for wintering and passage populations of various species which breed in the far north of the Palearctic. A diverse and fascinating avifauna is augmented by visits from an impressive range of rarities from as far afield as Siberia and Canada. Nearctic vagrants in particular are well represented on the English list. This important new avifauna looks in detail at England and its birds, analysing present and historical data to present a complete picture of the status, range and abundance of every bird on the English list.

The Birds of Nottinghamshire Nick Crouch, Jason Reece, David Parkin, 2019. The last comprehensive review of Nottinghamshire's birds was produced more than four decades ago. Much has changed since then and a new avifauna is long overdue. This book draws together historic reports from the nineteenth century records from the files of the county bird club Nottinghamshire Birdwatchers and data from national and regional surveys and monitoring programmes. The resulting account presents an overview of the present state of the county's birdlife set against a context of environmental and climatic change. The gravel pits in the Trent and Idle Valleys form major corridors for birds moving across Britain and Nottinghamshire has attracted more than its share of national rarities. These include Britain's first Egyptian Nightjar and Lesser Yellowlegs in the nineteenth century. Bufflehead, Redhead, Cedar Waxwing and breeding Black-winged Stilts in the twentieth century and a memorable nesting attempt by European Bee-eaters in 2017. The woods and heaths of Sherwood, lying in the middle of the county, also provide a haven for an array of iconic species including European Nightjar, Eurasian Woodcock, Honeybuzzard and Hawfinch. This book describes the past and present status of the 334 species that have been recorded in Nottinghamshire up to 2018. Lavishly illustrated with photographs taken within the county and sketches from the internationally recognised artist Michael Warren, it is intended to be an authoritative reference to the birds of Nottinghamshire.

Bird Atlas 2007-11 Dawn E. Balmer, Simon Gillings, Brian Caffrey, 2013. This is the definitive statement on breeding and winter bird distributions in Britain and Ireland. It shows how the fortunes of birds have changed over the last forty years.

Ten Birds That Changed the World Stephen Moss, 2023-09-12. From a captivating storyteller, Wall Street Journal, the natural history of humankind told through our long relationship with birds. For the whole of human history we have lived alongside birds. We have hunted and domesticated them for food, venerated them in our mythologies, religions and rituals, exploited them for their natural resources and been inspired by them for our music, art and poetry. In Ten Birds That Changed the World, naturalist and author Stephen Moss tells the gripping story of this long and intimate relationship through key species from all seven of the world's continents. From Odin's faithful raven companions to Darwin's finches and from the wild turkey of the Americas to the emperor penguin as potent symbol of the climate crisis, this is a fascinating eye-opening and endlessly engaging work of natural history.

RSPB Handbook of British Birds Tim Cleeves, 2014-07-31. RSPB Handbook of British Birds, the bestselling guide of its kind covering a total of 272 British species, just got even better. This enhanced epub version of the fourth edition of the book, featuring songs and calls, is set to change birding forever. Optimised for tablets, it features the Handbook in crisp, clear, high-resolution. Its pages contain 1,200 colour illustrations plus seven comparison spreads with comprehensive text on identification, habitats, food, breeding and conservation and accurate range maps. In addition the epub edition features songs calls and other sounds from each species making this the ultimate one stop resources for anyone interested in identifying and learning more about the birds they see This collection of images and sounds represents a step change in the way birdwatchers operate No more carrying heavy books into the field no more trying to remember sounds days later while all other methods for taking sounds into the field are consigned to the dustbin The RSPB Handbook of British Birds e book provides a complete field based ID solution no birdwatcher will want to be without it Note Audio may not play on all devices Please check your user manual for details The Birds of Gwent Gwent

Ornithological society,2009-01-01 The County Avifauna series provides detailed information on the range and status of bird species at county level Areas covered so far include Norfolk Suffolk Dorset the Shetland Islands and the Isles of Scilly with The Birds of Essex in press Each title includes a breakdown of rarity records and there are introductory sections describing the area s ecology climate ornithological history and conservation record as well as a gazeteer of the best sites to visit Gwent contains a wide range of habitats in a relatively small area including estuarine wetland in the south valleys in the west and uplands in the north with heavily wooded areas in the Usk and Wye valleys Major sites include the Newport Wetlands which attracts visitors from throughout Wales and the west of England to its wet grassland saline lagoons and freshwater reedbeds Other important sites include Peterstone Wentlooge along the Severn Estuary west of Newport and Llandegfedd Reservoir

The Birds of Ireland Jim Wilson,Mark Carmody,2013-09-04 An important tool of a birdwatcher is a good identification guide Most cover the birds of Europe and few deal exclusively with Ireland This first photographic identification guide to the birds of Ireland has over 1 600 photos of more than 260 species in an easy quick reference format With eight to fifteen images per species the key identification features of each bird are shown with concise descriptions and pointers to indicate important features This guide is produced in association with BirdWatch Ireland Ireland s leading bird conservation organisation The purchase of this guide contributes funds to BirdWatch Ireland s conservation and education initiatives to help protect and promote Ireland s wild birds and habitats similar to Ireland s Garden Birds by Jim Wilson and Oran O Sullivan
