Feeling too much for you,
I gave you my everything,
I cared for you,
I loved you,
I changed myself,
Became the one that fits in your shelf....

Loving you I realise,
There is no me left
inside,
I see my reflection in the mirror,
But there is no me,
That gives me terror....

Love was a dream,
My heart felt,
But now being in it,
I feel trapped,
I hurried my voice just
for you,
Now you say what have I done for you?

Your harsh words give me chills,
Like my cold heart
being pierced,
I feel the pain,
And it too much again,
It keeps me awake,
These nights like never to end....

I wish for the dawn to come,
Taking away all the dark,
Reality shines like a sun....

Looking myself, I realised,
To gain you,
I lost myself and it
hurts like stabbed knives....

Now when I look back,
It makes me think,
Am I lonely now or lonely back then?

The realist

Poetry as Testimony Antony Rowland,2014-03-26 This book analyzes Holocaust poetry war poetry working class poetry and 9 11 poetry as forms of testimony Rowland argues that testamentary poetry requires a different approach to traditional ways of dealing with poems due to the pressure of the metatext the original traumatic events the poems demands for the hyper attentiveness of the reader and a paradox of identification that often draws the reader towards identifying with the poet s experience but then reminds them of its sublimity He engages with the work of a diverse range of twentieth century authors and across the literature of several countries even uncovering new archival material The study ends with an analysis of the poetry of 9 11 engaging with the idea that it typifies a new era of testimony where global secondary witnesses react to a proliferation of media images This book ranges across the literature of several countries cultures and historical events in order to stress the large variety of contexts in which poetry has functioned productively as a form of testimony and to note the importance of the availability of translations to the formation of literary canons
