Restorying Environmental Education Chessa Adsit-Morris, 2017-02-09 This book examines a performative environmental educational inquiry through a place based eco art project collaboratively undertaken with a class of grade 4-6 students around the lost streams of Vancouver. The resulting work explores the contradictions gathered in relation to the Western educational system and the encounter with Other real and imaginary others including the shifting and growing self and an attempt to find and foster nourishing alliances for transforming environmental education. Drawing on the work of new materialist theorists Donna Haraway, Rosi Braidotti and Karen Barad, Adsit-Morris considers the co-constitutive materiality of human corporeality and nonhuman natures and provides useful tools for finding creative theoretical alternatives to the reductionist, representationalist and dualistic practices of the Western metaphysics. Representing Landscapes: Visualizing Climate Action Nadia Amoroso, 2024-07-31 This book provides an in-depth overview of graphic and visual communication styles for conveying climate change and climate action within the landscape architectural profession and in academia. The book features visualizations of climate adaptation and resilience developed by award-winning landscape architects and academics from Canada, the United States, the United Kingdom, The Netherlands, Denmark, Germany, Italy, France, Finland, South Africa, Singapore, and China. Representing Landscapes: Visualizing Climate Action illustrates the imaginative ways in which climate action and climate resilient concepts are visually presented, communicated, and perceived. The book will be especially valuable for students and practitioners in landscape architecture, urban planning, and related fields to understand how to visually capture climate change issues and design solutions and to deliver this message to the public. Practicing Pilgrimage Brett Webb-Mitchell, 2016-11-09 Practicing Pilgrimage: On Being and Becoming God's Pilgrim People explores both the theological, cultural, and spiritual roots of Christian pilgrimage and is a how-to book on doing pilgrimage in our suburban backyards, city streets, rural roads, churches, retreat centers, and our everyday life. Brett Webb-Mitchell takes the ancient practice of Christian pilgrimage and applies it to our contemporary lives, embedding container position, relative padding, bottom 56.25%, height 0, overflow hidden, max width 100%, embed container, iframe embed container, object embed container, embed position absolute, top 0, left 0, width 100%, height 100%. Trauma, Art and Memory in the Postcolony David Corbet, 2024-12-18 This wide-ranging book provides a scholarly account of recent and contemporary memorial and counter-memorial practices occurring in the visual arts across diverse postcolonial topologies and imaginaries. The emphasis is on commemorative creative practices and responses to traumatic events of recent times within and beyond the Museum. This major survey encompasses discourses on perception, affect, and trauma in the visual arts, commissioned civic art, and memorial architecture, activist and socially engaged art projects, creative praxis, and expressions of minority and First Nations cultural resilience. The book offers insights into contemporary exhibitionary practices, decolonial methodologies, and spatial politics, with a significant focus on art's ability to reveal and reactivate silenced histories, sites, and non-places. It will be of great interest to students researchers and subject experts alike across the fields of visual arts architecture and urban planning cultural and memory studies and trauma and affect studies contextualising the work of artists and curators within some of the most urgent socio political environmental and philosophical debates of the twenty first century AB
