Origen on the Song of Songs as the Spirit of Scripture J. Christopher King,2005-10-06 Christian exegesis of the Song of Songs has long interacted creatively with and more recently reacted critically against the allegorical interpretation developed by Origen of Alexandria c 185 c 254 in his Commentary and two Homilies on the Song of Songs Interest in Origen's exegesis of the Song's narrative elements has dominated past scholarship which has almost entirely ignored how Origen assesses the Song itself in its unity as a revealed text This study aims to show that the Commentary and Homilies when read in light of Origen's hermeneutic his nuptial theology his understanding of the prophetic mediation of inspired texts and his doctrine of last things clearly portray the Song of Songs itself as the divine Bridegroom's perfect marriage song As such it mediates Christ's eschatological presence as the spirit of Scripture in and through the intelligible structures of the text itself

Songs has been regarded as a rather chaotic but priceless mine of information about classical Arabic music literature and culture This book approaches it as a work of literature in its own right with its own internal logic and coherence The study also consistently integrates the musical component into the analysis and proposes a reading of the work in which individual anecdotes and poems are related to the wider context enhancing their meaning
