English Heritage Book of Roman Britain Martin Millett, 1995 How the Roman system influenced the politics art religion and general way of life of the native peoples of Britain after the Claudian invasion of AD 43 Despite the richness of archaeological epigraphic and literary evidence what actually occurred remains a subject of keen debate English

Heritage Book of Roman Towns in Britain Guy De la Bédoyère, 1992-01-01 The towns of Roman Britain were something entirely new to the island and its population Before the coming of the Romans the tribes had had gathering places but Britain was in general an agricultural society The Romans introduced towns as an essential aid to enforcing their government over the island Some were new foundations some grew up around forts some were adapted from tribal centers and a few emerged around roads and religious centers This book traces the process of urban development from the initial stages marked by the Boudican revolt of 60 A D followed by the flourishing of towns as centers for trade and industry to their decline in the fifth century Contents Foreword Introduction Settlement in pre Roman Britain Conquest and Colonization 43 61 Reconstruction and the Growth of Towns 61 200 Insecurity and Urban Decline 200 350 Trade Industry and Urban Economies Religion in Towns The Collapse of Roman Towns Appendix Inscriptions from Towns Further Reading Where to Visit Roman Towns in Britain Index Unquiet Pasts Stephanie Koerner, 2016-12-05 This important book addresses critical themes in the development of archaeology as a reflexive self critical discipline in the modern world It explores the ethical political and cultural tensions and responsibilities which need to be addressed by archaeologists when working within networks of global ecologies and communities examining how authoritarian traditions can exacerbate the divide between expert and public knowledge Moreover it analyses how localized acts of archaeology relate to changing conceptions of risk heritage culture identity and conflict Bringing insights from Alain Schnapp Michael Shanks Isabelle Stengers Bruno Latour Ulrich Beck John Urry and others to cross disciplinary discussions of these themes Unquiet Pasts shows how archaeological discourse can contribute towards engaging and understanding current dilemmas It also shows how archaeology as a localized and responsibly exercised practice can play a part in building our commonly shared and experienced world Conservation and Sustainability in Historic Cities Dennis Rodwell, 2008-04-15 Conservation and Sustainability in Historic Cities examines how the two key issues of urban conservation and sustainability relate to each other in the context of historic cities and how they can be brought together in a common philosophy and practice that is mutually supportive It sets out the theoretical and practical background to architectural conservation and how its perceived relevance and level of attainment can be extended when harnessed to wider agendas of sustainability and cultural identity It tests the achievement of urban conservation through examples from across Europe and further afield and relates them to the sustainability agenda

Deliberative Policy Analysis Maarten A. Hajer, Hendrik Wagenaar, 2003-05-15 What kind of policy analysis is required now that governments increasingly encounter the limits of governing Exploring the contexts of politics and policy making this

2003 book presents an original analysis of the relationship between state and society and new possibilities for collective learning and conflict resolution The key insight of the book is that democratic governance calls for a new deliberatively oriented policy analysis Traditionally policy analysis has been state centered based on the assumption that central government is self evidently the locus of governing Drawing on detailed empirical examples the book examines the influence of developments such as increasing ethnic and cultural diversity the complexity of socio technical systems and the impact of transnational arrangements on national policy making This contextual approach indicates the need to rethink the relationship between social theory policy analysis and politics The book is essential reading for all those involved in the study of public policy

Heritage for the Future Congress of Local and Regional Authorities of Europe, European Association of Historic Towns and Regions, 2005-01-01 The Congress of Local and Regional Authorities of the Council of Europe in co operation with the European Association of Historic Towns and Regions and the City of Norwich organised the European Symposium on Heritage for the future Realising the economic and social potential of a key asset which was held in Norwich United Kingdom on 9 10 September 2004 This publication contains the main statements and representations of the symposium The event was attended by over 100 participants from across Europe who shared their experiences relating to the heritage of European towns The symposium included discussions on the economic and social importance of cultural heritage mechanisms to facilitate the protection and enhancement of heritage enhancing the potential of cultural routes cultural heritage and technology and improving co operation between international organisations and the public

England's Coastal Heritage Michael Fulford, Timothy Champion, Antony Long, 2013-04-15 England's coastal zone contains an important legacy of historic assets including a complex array of fragile and irreplaceable archaeological remains This report documents the recorded coastal archaeological resource and identifies future themes for survey and investigation

Office of the Deputy Prime Minister, 2005 This Regional Spatial Strategy replaces the previous Regional Planning Guidance RPG8 and provides a broad development strategy for the East Midlands up to 2021 The sections of the document are core strategy which outlines the 10 core objectives spatial strategy which continues the sequential approach to development outlined in RPG8 topic based priorities which looks at five main topics such as housing regional priorities for monitoring and review Milton Keynes and South Midlands sub regional strategy which is published as a separate document ISBN 0117539422 Protecting and Preserving Our Heritage Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Culture, Media and Sport Committee, 2006-04-19 Protecting and preserving our Heritage Vol 2 Written Evidence The Persistence of Memory Jessica Moody, 2020 The Persistence of Memory tells the history of the public memory of transatlantic slavery in the largest slave trading port city in the world from the end of the 18th century into the 21st century revealing the persistence of slavery memory in Liverpool as an ongoing contested debate Planning for the Future Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. West Midlands Regional Committee, 2010 This report is the Committee's third inquiry and examines the issues that arose from the Examination in Public in 2009 of the Phase 2 update to the Regional Strategic Plan That examination covered contentious subjects such as overall housing growth targets for the region transport and the allocation of land for employment use The inquiry also looks at the region's preparations for the introduction of the single Regional Strategy process which will come into effect from 1 April 2010 The evidence received by the Committee was overwhelmingly in favour of retaining strategic at the regional level and they are convinced that this is necessary to agree priorities between local authorities to deliver transport infrastructure protect the environment and achieve urban renaissance Caring for our Built Heritage Tony Haskell, 2006-04-07 Conservation is now a major part of planners surveyors and architects work load This review of recent conservation schemes carried out by the County Councils in England and Wales will provide a unique and indispensable reference book for professionals in the construction industry embarking on heritage work Using detailed and highly illustrated case studies the book documents over 100 schemes from industrial archaeology to historic parks Heritage Values in Site Management Marta De la Torre, 2005 The four case studies included are Grosse Ile and the Irish National Memorial site in Canada the Chaco Culture National Historical Park in the USA the Port Arthur historic site in Australia and Hadrian's Wall History on Television Ann Gray, Erin Bell, 2013 In recent years non-fiction history programmes have flourished on television This interdisciplinary study of history programming identifies and examines different genres employed by producers and tracks their commissioning production marketing and distribution histories With comparative references to other European nations and North America the authors focus on British history programming over the last two decades and analyse the relationship between the academy and media professionals They outline and discuss often competing discourses about how to do history and the underlying assumptions about who watches history programmes History on Television considers recent changes in the media landscape which have affected to a great degree how history in general and whose history in particular appears onscreen Through a number of case studies using material from interviews by the authors with academic and media professionals the role of the professional historian and that of media professionals commissioning editors and producer directors as mediators of historical material and interpretations is analysed and the ways in which the logics of television shape historical output are outlined and discussed Building on their analysis Ann Gray and Erin Bell ask if history on television fulfils its potential to be a form of public history through offering as it does a range of interpretations of the past to and originating from or including those not based in the academy Through consideration of the representation or absence of the diversity of British identity gender ethnicity and race social status and regional identities the authors substantially extend the scope of existing scholarship into history on television History on Television will be essential reading for all those interested in the complex processes involved in the representation of history on television Encyclopedia of Library and Information Sciences John D.

McDonald, Michael Levine-Clark, 2017-03-15 The Encyclopedia of Library and Information Sciences comprising of seven volumes now in its fourth edition compiles the contributions of major researchers and practitioners and explores the cultural institutions of more than 30 countries This major reference presents over 550 entries extensively reviewed for accuracy in seven print volumes or online The new fourth edition which includes 55 new entries and 60 revised entries continues to reflect the growing convergence among the disciplines that influence information and the cultural record with coverage of the latest topics as well as classic articles of historical and theoretical importance Science and heritage Great Britain: Parliament: House of Lords: Science and Technology Committee, 2012-05-11 This report cites research that heritage tourism contributes GBP7.4 billion a year to the UK economy and supports 195 000 full time equivalent jobs The Committee argues that sustaining that contribution requires the UK to have the heritage science capacity to maintain the UK's movable and immovable heritage such as museum library archive and gallery collections and historic buildings The recommendations made in the Committee's first report on heritage science HLP 256 session 2005 06 ISBN 9780104009550 received a positive response the Arts and Humanities Research Council AHRC and the Engineering and Physical Sciences Research Council EPSRC have developed a joint Science and Heritage Programme and the heritage science community have published a National Heritage Science Strategy and appointed a National Heritage Science Forum which have done much to build capacity and develop networks within the heritage science community The Committee however heard concerns that senior heritage scientist posts are being lost and that the sustainability of UK heritage science capacity is at risk It believes that the AHRC and National Heritage Science Forum should together measure capacity and address any issues arising Whilst acknowledging the role of the heritage science community and improvements in this area since 2006 the Committee remains concerned and calls on DCMS to take action to ensure that heritage science is given the priority it deserves

Recommendations include that DCMS should appoint a Chief Scientific Adviser without further delay and set departmental objectives for heritage science with DCMS arm s length bodies also setting out how they will help achieve these objectives

Integrated Pest Management for Collections Peter Windsor,David Pinniger,Louise

Bacon,Bob Child,Kerren Harris,2015-01-15 Integrated pest management IPM is not a static approach but one that is constantly evolving Mass international travel climate change and other factors contribute to the spread of new pests and the pests themselves are constantly seeking out weaknesses in our defences An understanding of the threats pests pose to collections and the necessity for a systematic approach to combat them is now firmly embedded in the work of collection care practitioners In addition the trustees and sponsoring bodies of collecting institutions recognise that it is a significant and cost effective element of good collections management 2011 A Pest Odyssey 10 years later describes examples of how the IPM approach has been adopted by large and small institutions around the world and highlights the many lessons learned along the way Principal among these is never to become complacent and tied down to routine processes Another important lesson is the need to ensure colleagues understand and are involved with the process of pest management There is also a need to understand the wider implications of any pest control activity for example the effect of chemical treatments on DNA Coming out of the second Pest Odyssey conference this book will promote wider understanding and implementation of IPM as an integral part of any collection management programme The organisers and editorial team hope that everyone involved with the care of cultural heritage collections and buildings will find something of interest and value in this work

Conflict

Landscapes and Archaeology from Above Birger Stichelbaut, David Cowley, 2016-12-05 The study of conflict archaeology has developed rapidly over the last decade fuelled in equal measure by technological advances and creative analytical frameworks Nowhere is this truer than in the inter disciplinary fields of archaeological practice that combine traditional sources such as historical photographs and maps with 3D digital topographic data from Airborne Laser Scanning ALS and large scale geophysical prospection For twentieth century conflict landscapes and their surviving archaeological remains these developments have encouraged a shift from a site oriented approach towards landscape scaled research This volume brings together an wide range of perspectives setting traditional approaches that draw on historical and contemporary aerial photographs alongside cutting edge prospection techniques cross disciplinary analyses and innovative methods of presenting this material to audiences Essays from a range of disciplines archaeology history geography heritage and museum studies studying conflict landscapes across the globe throughout the twentieth century all draw on aerial and landscape perspectives to past conflicts and their legacy and the complex issues for heritage management Organized in four parts the first three sections take a broadly chronological approach exploring the use of aerial evidence to expand our understanding of the two World Wars and the Cold War The final section explores ways that the aerial perspective can be utilized to represent historical landscapes to a wide audience With case studies ranging from the Western Front to the Cold War Ireland to Russia this volume demonstrates how an aerial perspective can both support and challenge traditional archaeological and historical analysis providing an innovative new means of engaging with the material culture of conflict and commemoration
