Sockness,1998 Brent W Sockness takes as his point of departure the judgment frequently encountered in twentieth century theological literature that the last great German liberal Protestant systematic theologians prior to the rise of dialectical theology Wilhelm Herrmann 1846 1922 and Ernst Troeltsch 1865 1923 represent antithetical and paradigmatic alternatives in modern Christian theology Going beyond the usual explanations which invoke abstract allegiances Kant vs Schleiermacher Marburg vs Heidelberg neo Kantianism Ritschlianism vs the History of Religions School the author undertakes an exhaustive analysis of the nearly thirty years of mutual commentary critique and polemic which transpired between Herrmann and Troeltsch in both published and unpublished sources Sockness charts the contours of their relations from their first encounters among the Friends of the Christian World through their increasingly hostile exchanges in the first decade of the century to their personal reconciliation after the War BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved Public Theology and Ethics of Life-World: Biopolitical Formation Paul S. Chung, 2019-05-02 This book deals with the aftermath of the enlightenment and its legacy in the political social and racial context It discusses the incomplete project of modernity in terms of social contract theory racial justice issues and political theology in the postcolonial context Hermeneutical realism and cultural linguistic inquiry become substantial features in elaborating postcolonial political theology and its ethical stance against the colonization of lifeworld and its pathologies A study of critical theory and political theology is of a reconstructive character in seeking to relocate critical theory and political ethics in the context of alternative modernities at the level of postcolonial theory

God and Caesar Constance L. Benson, 2018-01-16 H Richard Niebuhr s powerful interpretation of Ernst Troeltsch has shaped our view of the man for over seventy years Troeltsch is one of the most respected and renowned figures in liberal Protestant thought Yet as Harvard philosopher of religion Cornel West observes in his foreword Constance Benson shatters certain crucial aspects of Troeltsch s image as a liberal religious thinker with God and Caesar Benson reconstructs the historical context in which Troeltsch wrote his landmark The Social Teaching of the Christian Churches and reinterprets it in relation to that context She shows that Troeltsch s Christianity legitimized class religious and gender inequality in response to the challenges of social democracy Her controversial exploration of why most Troeltsch scholars have remained silent on this deserves serious consideration Her discovery of Troeltsch s role in the politics and ideological debates of Imperial Germany require a painful reexamination of an entire chapter of Protestant history Benson exposes Troeltsch s relationship to Paul de Lagarde a notorious anti Semite and architect of what later became Nazi ideology God and Caesar is a needed corrective Troeltsch is an important figure for the Christian right in Germany and for many mainstream Protestants in the United States Benson s courageous book is the most challenging critique of Troeltsch s politics we have an unsettling perspective that forces us to revise the beloved Troeltsch so many of us had come to admire and cherish It will be of interest to intellectual historians theologians and students of religious history and specialists in German social and political history

Hermeneutical Theology and the Imperative of Public Ethics Paul S. Chung, 2013-10-23 Hermeneutical Theology and the Imperative of Public Ethics is a groundbreaking attempt to present constructive missional theology in an integrative and interdisciplinary framework as it provocatively utilizes and contextualizes Reformation theology and hermeneutics concerning ethical theology embedded within the wider horizon of World Christianity Mission as constructive theology is explored and refined in an hermeneutical and interdisciplinary fashion underlying a new horizon of postcolonial theology and mission in light of God s act of speech Missional church founded up God s grace of justification and Christ s

Comparative Theology Among Multiple Modernities

Paul S. Chung, 2017-08-22 This book presents a heuristic and critical study of comparative theology in engagement with phenomenological methodology and sociological inquiry. It elucidates a postcolonial study of religion in the context of multiple modernities.

Constructing Reality in Comparative Theology

Paul S. Chung, 2023-01-01 In contemporary Western society the church has been pushed to the margins leading experts to describe the current era as a time after Christendom. Many traditional churches and congregations are struggling, a condition worsened by the COVID-19 pandemic regulations. As the practice of churchgoing wanes, the performance of the sacrament is called into question. How can we bring the traditional communal experience of sacrament into the modern world?

Postcolonial Public Theology

Paul S. Chung, 2017-07-27 Postcolonial Public Theology is a tour de force, a study in theological reflection in conversation with the most compelling intellectual discourses of our time that offers prophetic challenge to the hegemony of economic globalisation. While evolutionary science searches for an ethically responsible practice of rationality and interreligious engagement forces Christians to grapple with the realities of cultural hybridity, Postcolonial Public Theology makes the case for public theology to turn toward postcolonial imagination, demonstrating a fresh rethinking of the public and global issues that continue to emerge in the aftermath of colonialism. Paul S. Chung provides students and scholars with a fascinating framework for imagining a polycentric Christianity as well as for discussing the continuing importance of Christian theology in the public arena.

Die Jesus-Deutung von Ernst Troeltsch im Kontext der liberalen Theologie

Natural Law & Human Dignity

Eberhard Schockenhoff, 2003 Do human rights apply only to a certain culture group or can they be demanded of all cultures and religions? This discussion about a common world ethos demonstrates how relevant and explosive that question is. In his study of ethical relativism and historical thinking, Eberhard Schockenhoff shows how the universal recognition of fundamental norms that guarantee the minimum conditions for human existence can be substantiated. Dealing critically with the two most important branches of research in present-day moral theology: autonomous morality and teleological ethics, the author presents a new theological ethical theory of natural law. Integrating the theory of practical reason and Aquinas' understanding of natural inclinations, Schockenhoff compares this synthesis to the insights of present-day anthropology. This method allows him to re-establish a connection to classical natural law ethics. In so doing, he indicates how ethics can fulfill its most important duty: to arrive at the recognition of anthropologically grounded material norms without falling prey to a logical error. According to Schockenhoff, claims of natural law and of human rights formulate an indispensable minimum, while biblical ethics, the decalogue and the Sermon on the Mount, and the high ethos of the world religions point the way to an encompassing realization of the concept of the good life. Renowned moral theologian Eberhard Schockenhoff is professor at Albert-Ludwigs-

Universität Freiburg He is the author of numerous works and managing editor of Zeitschrift für Medizinische Ethik Brian McNeil is a parish priest in Munich and a translator of theological literature PRAISE FOR THE BOOK The book is impressive in many respects It is thorough and precise about the specific problems associated with natural law theory and the chapters on relativism and historicism exhibit impressive erudition and insight Few books on natural law grapple so extensively and fairly with objectors as does this one and its responses are admirable in their breadth and depth Mark Graham Theological Studies A masterly treatment of many of the most important issues in moral theology Brian V Johnstone Studia Moralia This book demonstrates convincingly that natural law has not become obsolete in ethical discussions Peter Fonk Theologische Revue In regard to topics that are coined by the Roman Catholic tradition the author includes Protestant authors in his considerations with a naturalness that has to be seen as a fortunate sign of ecumenical openness Schockenhoff manages to revive answers of the tradition that have sometimes been put aside and to bring them up in the challenges of today Heinrich Bedford Strohm Theologische Literaturzeitung An exceptional discussion of the concept of natural law as it applies to a modern world of moral relativism This is a high quality work providing both a wide overview of the concerns of natural law and offering a respectable solution worth further consideration Schockenhoff's work is highly recommended Matthew Ryan McWhorter Catholic Books Review OnLine This book by one of the leading Catholic moral theologians in Germany teaching at Freiburg University presents a simple thesis in an elaborate and sophisticated fashion Schockenhoff's highly learned and impressive account deserves attention and critical engagement Bernd Wannenwetsch Studies in Christian Ethics

The Doctrine of the Trinity in the Works of John Richardson Illingworth and William Temple, and the Implications for Contemporary Trinitarian Theology Richard Hoskins, 2000 This work illustrates that theologians John Richardson Illingworth and William Temple represent paradigmatically the main strands of trinitarian theology found in the eastern and western churches The extent to which Illingworth represents a so called social trinitarian approach a Temple a so called psychological one is examined The book is theological rather than biographical and as such it studies their respective trinitarian theologies It reveals not only that English theology has something important to offer but that a comparison of two of its representatives from different generations opens up aspects of the relationship These findings are used in conversation with the contemporary trinitarian scene

The Philosophy and Theology of Love James S. Langelan, 1994 This volume develops and aims to make more explicit what remains only implicit in the works of St Francis de Sales It focuses first on the difference between love of objects and love of persons or love solely of someone's attributes and properties and the love of the other for his sake This distinction should provide a better understanding of the relationship between nature and supranature and within the supernatural order itself the distinction between hope and charity Secondly according to St Francis de Sales love does not simply find the good already present love is a creative power it creates goodness and beauty and changes both the lover and the beloved
