Defying the Iranian Revolution Manouchehr Ganji,2002-09-30 The realities of Iranian life are far more harrowing than most people imagine from the outside Ganji paints a portrait of duplicitous clerics arbitrarily arresting torturing mutilating and executing citizens all in the name of Islamic Justice A system of apartheid has been instituted against women While 60% of the population lives below the poverty line the mullah regime has hoarded billions of dollars in accounts and properties in Europe Canada and Japan Roughly 70% of the population is under 30 years of age and opposes the regime In the year of 2001 alone 220 000 people mostly educated youth left the country in search of better lives Ganji stresses that the best defense against terrorism is offense and that the United States can and must establish a proactive policy of helping Iranians struggling for the freedom of Iran in and out of the country Western policies toward the Iranian mullah regime have thus far been reactionary rather than proactive The regime in Iran has been an incubator of international terrorism aiding and abetting international terrorist groups in and out of the Middle East The author argues that now is the time for the United States to substitute rhetoric with action in policies toward the ruling clerics in Iran

Americans and Europeans are divided by more than an ocean when it comes to designing and carrying out policies toward countries that repress human rights develop weapons of mass destruction and or support terrorism and subversion Accounting for this divide are distinct interests domestic politics and above all profound disagreements between Americans and their counterparts in European capitals and Brussels over what tools of foreign policy sanctions engagement military force to empty to change the behavior of problem countries The result is that Americans and Europeans often work at cross purposes and that disagreements over policy toward problem countries threaten both to undermine efforts that promote desired change and transatlantic cooperation in other areas be it within Europe or in building an open world trading system This book examines the problem countries of Cuba Iran Iraq Libya and Nigeria The authors explain sources of American and European differences consequences for policies designed to influence problem states and prospects for bridging transatlantic Loret,2013-06-29 There are many conferences workshops and meetings annually around the world each emphasizing a specialty area for scientific exploration and research Yet in very few instances if at all do the multidisciplinary aspects of science get presented so one may see the diversity of dependencies these seemingly disparate disciplines actually have The Explorers Club and the U S National Park Service collaborated to make a first attempt at what will continue to be an ocean pulse effort conferences combining the aquaculture sciences the search for underwater antiquities and the marinelbio technologies utilized to explore these areas The purpose has been to bring together not just academicians to talk about their finding in the field or the laboratory but to provide a forum for the practical applications of technology to expanding our worlds fisheries as well as to continue to explore our world s oceans the earth s truly last frontier After everything is said and done we still know precious little about our ocean environments Their influences on our lives are monumental and yet we continue to be very parochial and conservative in our dedication to exploring their depths and resources We feel confident that this initial effort by our respective groups to awaken a realization in the public and private sectors of the need for a cross disciplinary approach to scientific research in the marine environment is a necessity as we approach the 21 st century
