The Extended Metropolis Settlement Transition In Asia:

The Extended Metropolis Norton Sydney Ginsburg, Bruce Koppel, T. G. McGee, 1991-01-01 Asian urbanization is entering a new phase that differs significantly from the patterns of city growth experienced in other developing countries and in the developed world According to a recent hypothesis zones of intensive economic interaction between rural and urban activities are emerging The zones appear to be a new form of socioeconomic organization that is neither rural nor urban but preserves essential ingredients of each

The Extended Metropolis Norton Sydney Ginsburg, 1991      The Extended Metropolis Norton Sydney Ginsburg, Bruce Koppel, T. G. McGee, 1991      Mega Urban Regions of Southeast Asia Ira M.

Robinson, 2011-11-01 A distinguishing feature of recent urbanization in the ASEAN countries of Thailand Malaysia the Philippines Singapore and Indonesia is the outward extension of their mega cities Bangkok Jakarta Manila Singapore and Kuala Lumpur beyond the metropolitan borders resulting in the establishment of new towns industrial estates and housing projects in previously rural areas This process has both positive and negative effects On one side household incomes and employment opportunities are increasing but on the other the growth often causes serious problems in terms of environmental deterioration conflicting land uses and inadequate housing and service provisions Mega Urban Regions of Southeast Asia is the first comprehensive work on the subject of ASEAN mega urban regions The contributors review T G McGee's original idea of desakota zones and offer arguments both for and against this concept making a significant contribution to our understanding of the true face of ASEAN cities The book brings together authors from around the world and will be of interest to a wide audience including demographers urban planners geographers sociologists economists civil servants and development consultants      Asia-Pacific Raymond Frederick Watters, Terence Gary McGee, 1997 This book examines the increasing integration of Pacific Rim countries especially in East Asia and Southeast Asia and the creation of new geographies The interaction of local and global forces is examined Nineteen papers by leading scholars from the region are presented with an Introduction and Conclusion Illustrated with maps A list of selected readings and an index are included

Critical Reflections on Cities in Southeast Asia Tim Bunnell, Lisa Drummond, Ho, 2021-11-15 Critical Reflections draws together the multi disciplinary research of scholars working in on cities across Southeast Asia The fourteen essays collected in the volume are organised into three thematic sections re conceptualisation competition and intervention Collectively these reflections contribute to and interrogate the expanding urban and regional studies literature The volume constitutes a critical corrective to the existing literature which all too often seeks to diagnose contemporary urban trends everywhere from a small number of mostly Western paradigmatic cases Yet while acknowledging the increasing interconnectedness and shared global orientation of most cities in Southeast Asia the volume is wary of positing an equally generalising regional model Individually these essays attend to the diversity of contemporary urban experiences in Southeast Asia      Handbook of Urban Studies Ronan Paddison, 2001 The Handbook of Urban Studies provides the first comprehensive up to date account of the urban condition relevant to a wide readership from academics to researchers and policymakers It provides a theoretically and empirically informed account embracing all the different disciplines contributing to urban studies Leading authors identify key issues and questions and future trends for further research and present their findings so that where appropriate they are relevant to the needs of policymakers Using the city as a unifying structure the Handbook provides an holistic appreciation of urban structure and change and of the theories by which we understand the structure development and changing character of cities New Urban Agenda in Asia-Pacific Bharat Dahiya,Ashok Das,2019-05-04

This book explores significant aspects of the New Urban Agenda in the Asia Pacific region and presents from different contexts and perspectives innovative interventions afoot for transforming the governance of 21st century cities in two key areas i urban planning and policy and ii service delivery and social inclusion Representing institutions across a wide geography academic researchers and development practitioners from Asia Australia Europe and North America have authored the chapters that lend the volume its distinctly diverse topical foci Based on a wide range of cases and intriguing experiences this collection is a uniquely valuable resource for everyone interested in the present and future of cities and urban regions in Asia Pacific Routledge Handbook of Urbanization in Southeast Asia Rita Padawangi,2018-10-11 The study of urbanization in Southeast Asia has been a growing field of research over the past decades The Routledge Handbook of Urbanization in Southeast Asia offers a collection of the major streams and themes in the studies of the cities in the region A focus on the urbanization process rather than the city as an object opens the topic more broadly to bring together different perspectives This timely handbook presents these diverse views to build a clearer understanding of theoretical contributions of urban studies in Southeast Asia and to provide a complete collection of scholarly works that are thematically structured and a useful tool for teaching urbanization in Southeast Asia Following the introduction by the editor the handbook is structured along central emerging themes It contains six parts which are each introduced by the editor Theorizing Urbanization in Southeast Asia Migration Networks and Identities Development and Discontents Environmental Governance The Social Production of the Urban Fabric Social Change and Alternative Development This handbook will be an essential reference work for scholars interested in Urban Studies cities and urbanization in Asia and Southeast Asian Studies

Urban Transformational Landscapes in the City-Hinterlands of Asia Debnath Mookherjee,George M. Pomeroy,Le Thi Thu Huong,2023-05-16 In the context of mounting challenges stemming from a rapid transformation of the urban regional landscapes in many Asian countries this book highlights a multifaceted array of issues that increasingly engage the academic and planning communities in search of viable solutions to complex problems facing us Even though cities continue to dominate development studies urbanization of Asia is evolving toward a hybrid urban rural nexus beyond the cities This volume considers these shifting dynamics of Asian urbanization including urban spatial transformations and their ramifications in the context of sustainability and planning Through the lens of a set of empirical studies across diverse disciplines geographies and methodologies yet with an overarching concern for sustainability in varied but interconnected areas such as climate change land use planning infrastructure and urban mobility and quality of life these studies examine a range of important topics e g flooding transportation housing open space green space urban garden and such in city regional settings Together they add insights into varied transformational processes or patterns at work on the urban regional landscapes in a number of Asian countries while offering innovative approaches or alternatives The proposed volume fills a gap in urban regional studies in context of South and Southeast Asia that will be of interest to all stakeholders e g planners administrators academicians and the citizenry particularly those interested in sustainability and planning paradigms It should be a timely and valuable addition to the Asian urbanization literature

Planning for a Better Urban Living

Environment in Asia Anthony Gar-On Yeh, Mee Kam Ng, 2018-12-20 First published in 2000 this volume explores how Asia has developed very rapidly in the last quarter of the century and will be a main focus of the world in the 21st century With rapid growth and development the urban areas in the region are undergoing dramatic changes An appreciation of the heterogeneous nature of Asian cities and the related planning practices in the first step to understand various urban development problems in the region This book is a consolidated effort by prominent scholars in Asian planning schools to explore urban development and planning practices in Asia The book reflects on and examines some of the past and current challenges and considers future prospects of urban and regional planning environment housing redevelopment and conservation and planning education in Asia This book should be useful to students teachers researchers professionals and people who are interested in urban development planning and environment in Asia

Southeast Asia Jonathan Rigg, 1997 Drawing on case studies from across Southeast Asia this work assesses poverty and the ways in which the poor are identified and viewed Progress and change in the rural and urban worlds are examined in detail focusing on the strengthening rural urban interaction as farmers make a living in the urban industrial sector and factories relocate into industrial areas Giving prominence to indigenous notions of development based on Buddhism Islam and the so called Asian Way the author critically assesses the conceptual foundations of the development ideas of post developmentalism and the miracle thesis

Water Security, Conflict and Cooperation in Peri-Urban South Asia Vishal Narain, Dik Roth, 2021-12-09 This open access book explores the implications of urbanization in South Asia for water in security in the peri urban spaces of Dhaka and Khulna in Bangladesh Bengaluru Gurugram Hyderabad Kolkata and Pune in India and Kathmandu Valley in Nepal The book looks into specifically peri urban water security issues in a context of rapid urbanization and social environmental changes including the changing climate and its emerging impacts It demonstrates how urbanization processes change water flows between rural and urban areas the implications of this processes for the water security of peri urban populations and how new institutions and technologies develop to mediate the relationships between peri urban communities and water The book seeks to further the debate on peri urban water security including what constitutes the peri urban socially differentiated access to water in peri urban spaces interventions for improving water access and emerging forms of cooperation and conflict related to water access in a context of urbanization and climate change As such this book is an interesting read for academics with various disciplinary backgrounds professionals working in the worlds of national and international policy NGOs activist groups research and development institutes and individual readers interested in water security and urbanization

Mega-urban Regions in Pacific Asia Gavin W. Jones, 2008 Southeast Asia contains four urban conglomerates of the sort that this study characterizes as Mega Urban Regions Jakarta Manila Bangkok and Ho Chi Minh These locations are examined in this book along with Taipei and Shanghai Because the administrative boundaries of the cities at the core of these zones do not include the entire urban area the significance of the broader urban community has largely escaped scholarly attention The authors base their analysis on actual agglomeration size rather than administrative boundaries and draw on unpublished census data to study the dynamics of these massive urban zones considering area and population size as well as social and demographic patterns of change in core inner and outer zones They conclude that these mega urban regions continue to increase their share of national populations and zones immediately beyond the official metropolitan boundaries are where the most dramatic changes are occurring

International Encyclopedia of Human Geography, 2019-11-29 International Encyclopedia of Human Geography Second Edition Fourteen Volume Set embraces diversity by design and captures the ways in which humans share places and view differences based on gender race nationality location and other factors in other words the things that make people and places different Questions of for example politics economics race relations and migration are introduced and discussed through a geographical lens This updated edition will assist readers in their research by providing factual information historical perspectives theoretical approaches reviews of literature and provocative topical discussions that will stimulate creative thinking Presents the most up to date and comprehensive coverage on the topic of human geography Contains extensive scope and depth of coverage Emphasizes how geographers interact with understand and contribute to problem solving in the contemporary world Places an emphasis on how geography is relevant in a social and interdisciplinary context

Southeast Asia Transformed Chia Lin Sien, 2003 Southeast Asia with a total population of 520 million remains a region characterized by fragmentation diversity and considerable internal conflict despite the unifying influence of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN formed some thirty five years ago In the new millennium it has lost the distinction of being one of the world s faster growing group of economies since the 1997 financial crisis While it has benefited from the winds of globalization it has now to cope with the painful adjustments to problems that stem from the inadequacies of good governance and structural changes This volume brings together the combined insights of specialists who have worked and lived in the region The theme of the book is change and transformation The authors identify the trends and forces that propel the region along and then bring in discussions on key issues In some cases they offer their views on the future of the region and recommendations for solutions The intention of the book is to offer a scholarly review of the region's development over the past half century and to provide a firm basis for forecasting its further evolution in the new millennium Land Use Dynamics in a Developing Economy Shahab Fazal, 2012-10-11 Today India still remains a rural agricultural country although the share of urban population has also increased but these figures do not tell the whole story There are evidences that urban growth is dispersed and urban sprawl promotes the spread of urban land use into the rural urban fringe Here the attempt is to investigate the land transformation and the driving forces which were influencing the land transformation The present study was done on peri urban interface of Aligarh city a relatively small city but as other north Indian cities it is also expanding rapidly Moreover it too is surrounded by a populous rural area with productive and rich agricultural hinterland Such conditions give rise to many conflicts and mutually beneficial complementarities in the rural and urban spheres The result shows that the demand for land is high which results in informal urban development fulfilling the requirements of many of the city's residents Every piece of land is a tradable commodity and the pursuit of short term profits is the predominant ethic The actors in PUI are strong because it is characterized by intermixing of rural and urban activities and interests as well as the number of actors are greater than in any other area

Rural Development in Southeast Asia Jonathan Rigg, 2020-10-01 Rural areas and rural people have been centrally implicated in Southeast Asia's modernisation Through the three entry points of smallholder persistence upland dispossession and landlessness this Element offers an insight into the ways in which the countryside has been transformed over the past half century Drawing on primary fieldwork undertaken in Laos Thailand and Vietnam and secondary studies from across the region Rigg shows how the experience of Southeast Asia offers a counterpoint and a challenge to standard historicist understandings of agrarian change and more broadly development Taking a rural view allows an alternative lens for theorising and judging Southeast Asia's modernisation experience and narrative The Element argues that if we are to capture the nature and not just the direction and amount of agrarian change in Southeast Asia then we need to view the countryside as more than rural and greater than farming Cleavage, Connection and Conflict in Rural, Urban and Contemporary Asia Tim Bunnell, D. Parthasarathy, Eric C. Thompson, 2012-12-11 Asia the location of the world's fastest growing economies is also home to some of the fastest rates of urbanization humanity has ever seen a process whose speed renders long term outcomes highly unpredictable This volume contrasts with much published work on the rural urban divide which has tended to focus on single case studies It provides empirical perspectives from four Asian countries India Indonesia Malaysia and Thailand and includes a wealth of insights that both critique and expand popular notions of the rural urban divide The volume is relevant not just to Asian contexts but to social scientific research on population dynamics more generally Rather than deploying a single study to chart national trends three chapters on each country make possible much more complex perspectives As a result this volume does more than extend our understanding of the interplay between cities and hinterlands within Asia It enhances our notions of rural urban cleavages connections and conflicts more generally with data and analysis ready for application to other contexts Of interest to diverse scholars across the social sciences and Asian studies this work includes accounts ranging from rural youth real estate entrepreneurs in Hyderabad India to social development in Aceh province in Indonesia devastated by the 2004 tsunami to the relationship between urban space and commonly held notions of the supernatural in Thailand's northern city of Chiang Mai     Uneven Development in South East Asia Chris Dixon, David Drakakis-Smith, 2019-03-25 First published in 1997 this volume responds to the rapid change in mid 1980s South East Asia exploring the uneven distribution of development within the region and providing broad coverage of different aspects of this unevenness at both the regional and national levels Specialists in economics geography planning and South East Asian studies contribute on issues including ethnicity and development in Malaysia disadvantaged groups in Singapore and the impact of social and historical forces on uneven development in the region
