The Eye Of The Needle Toward Participatory Democracy In South Africa:

The Eye of the Needle Richard Turner, 1980 The Eye of the Needle Richard Turner, 1978 In a Province: Studies in the Writing of South Africa Derek Attridge, Laura Pechey, 2022-01-15 This volume brings together the most significant essays on South African literature by the distinguished critic Graham Pechey who died in 2016 They combine an acute sense of the historical and geopolitical situation of South African writing before during and after apartheid with a sensitive ear to literary detail The African Novel of Ideas Jeanne-Marie Jackson, 2021-01-12 This study focuses on the role of the philosophical novel a genre that favors abstract concepts or thinking about thinking over style plot or character development and the role of philosophy more broadly in the intellectual life of the African continent The Climate Crisis Vishwas Satgar, 2018-02-01 Essays that address the question how can people and class agency change this destructive course of history Capitalism's addiction to fossil fuels is heating our planet at a pace and scale never before experienced Extreme weather patterns rising sea levels and accelerating feedback loops are a commonplace feature of our lives The number of environmental refugees is increasing and several island states and low lying countries are becoming vulnerable Corporate induced climate change has set us on an ecocidal path of species extinction Governments and their international platforms such as the Paris Climate Agreement deliver too little too late Most states including South Africa continue on their carbon intensive energy paths with devastating results Political leaders across the world are failing to provide systemic solutions to the climate crisis This is the context in which we must ask ourselves how can people and class agency change this destructive course of history Volume three in the Democratic Marxism series The Climate Crisis investigates eco socialist alternatives that are emerging It presents the thinking of leading climate justice activists campaigners and social movements advancing systemic alternatives and developing bottom up just transitions to sustain life Through a combination of theoretical and empirical work the authors collectively examine the challenges and opportunities inherent in the current moment This volume builds on the class struggle focus of Volume 2 by placing ecological issues at the centre of democratic Marxism Most importantly it explores ways to renew historical socialism with democratic eco socialist alternatives to meet current challenges in South Africa and the world Predicaments of Knowledge Suren Pillay, 2024-09 Predicaments of Knowledge explores the difficult questions South African universities face after apartheid Is there a difference between Africanising a university and decolonising a university What about differences between deracialising and decolonising the curricula taught at universities across disciplines Through a range of reflections on race language colonial postcolonial and decolonial knowledge projects from Africa and Latin America this book explores the pitfalls and possibilities that face a post apartheid generation inventing the future of knowledge The distinctions between Africanisation decolonisation and deracialisation are often conflated in the political demands put to universities Suren Pillay emphasises all three as important but distinct imperatives If an intervention is undertaken with the aim of decolonising the university while actually addressing

deracialisation it can undermine the effort to decolonise Similarly if an initiative to Africanise the university does not address decolonisation both processes can be undermined Drawing on more than two and a half decades of the author's participation in these debates these essays aim to intervene in and elucidate questions and predicaments rather than offering blue prints they are dialogical in spirit even when polemical in tone In conversation with existing continental African and Latin American experiences they offer incisive reflections on current South African debates

Rick Turner's Politics as the Art of the Impossible Michael Onyebuchi Eze, Lawrence Hamilton, Laurence Piper, Gideon van Riet, Paula Ensor, Daryl Glaser, Christine Hobden, Billy Keniston, Ayesha Omar, John Sodiq Sanni, Tendayi Sithole, Crain Soudien, 2024-07 Revisits the work of Rick Turner a South African political theorist and addresses contemporary debates Rick Turner was a South African academic and anti apartheid activist who rebelled against the apartheid state at the height of its power For this he was assassinated in 1978 at just 32 years of age but his life and work are testimony to the power of philosophical thinking for humans everywhere Turner chose to live freely in an unfree time and argued for a non racial socialist future in a context where this seemed unimaginable This book takes seriously Rick Turner's challenge that political theorising requires thinking in a utopian way Turner's seminal book The Eye of the Need Towards a Participatory Democracy laid out some of his most potent ideas on a radically different political and economic system His demand was that we work to escape the limiting ideas of the present carefully design a just future based on shared human values and act to make it a reality both politically and in our daily lives The contributors to this volume engage critically with Turner's work on race relations his relationship with Steve Biko his views on religion education and gender oppression his participatory model of democracy and his critique of enduring forms of poverty and economic inequality They show how in his life and work Turner modeled how we can dare to be free and how hope can return as the future always remains open to human construction This book makes an important contribution to contemporary thinking and activism where the need for South Africans to define their understanding of their greater common good is of crucial importance

Complicities Mark A. Sanders, 2002-12-25 A theoretically informed study of five major pro and anti apartheid intellectuals showing the inevitability of complex and compromised positions and the impossibility of pure ones

Race in Education Gerhard Mare, 2019-05-31 There is global evidence that the ghostse of notions of essentialist differences between human groups continue to haunt in various forms People draw upon ideas of religion race ethnicity gender and sexuality and nation to draw distinctions Racism xenophobia sexism and right wing populism are ongoing and increasing phenomena In addition genetic science has introduced new forms of evidence which lends itself to misuse to confirm the common sense perceptions The valuable contributions of the authors in this publication not only warn against such notions but offer ways of exploring exposing and challenging the ghosts and the fears engendered through their contemporary forms

Improvising Reconciliation Ed Charlton, 2021-11-15 Improvising Reconciliation lobbies for an expanded approach to South Africa's formal transition from apartheid grappling with reconciliation's ongoing potential

Rather than correcting the contradictions that have done much to corrupt the concept it surveys the improvised approach to reconciliation that has emerged from the country's cultural sphere in recent decades

Citizenship in a Globalised World Christine Hobden, 2021-06-10 What does it mean to be a citizen of a democracy today This book challenges us to re-evaluate and ultimately reorient our state based conception of democratic citizenship in order to meaningfully account for the context in which it is lived a globalised deeply interconnected and deeply unjust world Hobden argues for a new conception of citizenship that is state based but globally oriented The book presents a new account of collective responsibility that includes responsibility for a wider range of collective outcomes Drawing upon this account Hobden argues that citizens can be held collectively morally responsible for the acts of their state both domestically and internationally The book explores how this conception of citizenship with its attendant collective responsibility can speak to citizens of today those experiencing the costs of inequality and oppression those living under semi and newly democratic regimes and those living as non citizen residents It encourages an active citizenship and presents innovative channels of participation with discussions on civic education in the media and political consumerism Offering a new lens on citizenship in a global context this book will be of great interest to scholars and students of political theory global justice citizenship democratic theory and collective responsibility

Pragmatic Humanism Marcus Morgan, 2016-01-29 Is sociology best understood as simply chipping away at our ignorance about society or does it have broader roles and responsibilities If so to what or perhaps to whom are these responsibilities Installing humanity as its epistemological and normative start and endpoint this book shows how humanism recasts sociology as an activity that does not merely do things or effect things but is also self consciously for something Rather than resurrecting problematic classical conceptions of humanism the book instead constructs its arguments on pragmatic grounds showing how a pragmatic humanism presents an improved picture of both the nature and value of the discipline This picture is based less around the claim that sociology is capable of providing authoritative revelations about society and more upon its capacity to offer representations of the social in epistemologically open transformative ethical and hopeful ways Ultimately it argues that sociology s real value can only be disclosed by replacing its image as a discipline aimed towards disinterested social enlightenment with one of itself as a practice both dependent upon and at its best self consciously aimed towards human ends and imperatives It will appeal to scholars and students across the social sciences and to those working in social theory sociology and philosophy of the social sciences in particular

Critical Engagement with Public Sociology Andries Bezuidenhout, Sonwabile Mnwana, Karl von Holdt, 2024-01-16 The idea of public sociology as introduced by Michael Burawoy was inspired by the sociological practice in South Africa known as critical engagement This volume explores the evolution of critical engagement before and after Burawoy s visit to South Africa in the 1990s and offers a Southern critique of his model of public sociology Involving four generations of researchers from the Global South the authors provide a multifaceted exploration of the formation of new knowledge through research practices of co production Tracing the historical development of critical engagement from a Global South perspective the book deftly weaves a bridge between the debates on public sociology and decolonial frameworks

Politics at a Distance from the State Lucien van der Walt, Kirk Helliker, 2022-08-23 For decades most anti capitalist and anti imperialist movements identified radical transformation with capturing state power The collapse of these statist projects from the 1970s led to a global crisis of left and working class politics But crisis has also opened space for rediscovering alternative society centered anti capitalist modes of bottom up change operating at a distance from the state These have registered important successes in practice such as the Zapatistas in Mexico and Rojava in Syria They have been a key influence on movements from Occupy in United States to the landless in Latin America to anti austerity struggles in Europe and Asia to urban movements in Africa Their lineages include anarchism syndicalism autonomist Marxism philosophers like Alain Badiou and radical popular praxis This path breaking volume recovers this understanding of social transformation long side lined but now resurgent like a seed in the soil that keeps breaking through and growing It provides case studies with reference to South Africa and Zimbabwe and includes a dossier of key texts from a century of anarchists syndicalists insurgent unionists and anti apartheid activists in South Africa Originating in an African summit of radical academics struggle veterans and social movements the book includes a preface from John Holloway

University on the Border Lis Lange, Vasu Reddy, Siseko H. Kumalo, 2021-08-27 The volume explores and thinks through the process of decolonising the South African higher education system by examining MustFall The text offers theoretical insights from a historical contemporary and multidisciplinary lens while examining the embedded meanings of the university as an institution idea and set of practices to show the shifts and changes that were inaugurated by MustFall along with the historicities that define the university both locally and globally The retro and prospective insights presented in the book surface the crisis of authority that places the university in a state of precarity which is framed in the book as the border The volume proposes the concept of the border recognising its conceptual and analytical dynamism as a generative space that can facilitate new imaginaries and articulations of this social institution the university Philosophy of Violence: A Multidisciplinary Perspective John Sodiq Sanni, Charles Mathurin Villet, 2024-04-24 This volume explores the role of violence generally but with specific reference to African concepts and themes and the significance they have for social redress The contributors interpret African concepts and themes to include accounts of violence explicitly or implicitly construed from indigenous axiological resources like Ubuntu or personhood and from those works that are not African in origin but have become central in African moral political and legal thought such as Hannah Arendt's On Violence and Walter Benjamin's Critique of Violence The volume contributes to moral philosophy social philosophy African philosophy and political philosophy theory It situates itself within the Global South specifically the African perspective to explore articulate and defend or even critique African conceptions of violence This volume also takes seriously the need to tap into the intellectual resource of the African and diasporic African episteme truththinkers such as Steve Biko Frantz Fanon and Reiland Rabaka It appeals to students and researchers working in philosophy and related disciplines on violence in Africa and the postcolonial context
