The Face:

The Gift of the Face Shamoon Zamir, 2014-08-14 Edward S. Curtis's The North American Indian is the most ambitious photographic and ethnographic record of Native American cultures ever produced. Published between 1907 and 1930 as a series of twenty volumes and portfolios, the work contains more than two thousand photographs intended to document the traditional culture of every Native American tribe west of the Mississippi. Many critics have claimed that Curtis's images present Native peoples as a vanishing race, hiding both their engagement with modernity and the history of colonial violence. But in this major reappraisal of Curtis's work, Shamoon Zamir argues instead that Curtis's photography engages meaningfully with the crisis of culture and selfhood brought on by the dramatic transformations of Native societies. This crisis is captured profoundly and with remarkable empathy in Curtis's images of the human face. Zamir also contends that we can fully understand this achievement only if we think of Curtis's Native subjects as coauthors of his project. This radical reassessment is presented as a series of close readings that explore the relationship of aesthetics and ethics in photography. Zamir's richly illustrated study resituates Curtis's work in Native American studies and in the histories of photography and visual anthropology. Seeing the Face, Seeing the Soul Simon Swain, George Boys-Stones, Jas Elsner, Antonella

Ghersetti, Robert Hoyland, Ian Repath, 2007-03-09 Polemon of Laodicea near modern Denizli, south west Turkey, was a wealthy Greek aristocrat and a key member of the intellectual movement known as the Second Sophistic. Among his works was the Physiognomy, a manual on how to tell character from appearance, thus enabling its readers to choose friends and avoid enemies on sight. Its formula of detailed instruction and personal reminiscence proved so successful that the book was re-edited in the fourth century by Adamantius in Greek, translated and adapted by an unknown Latin author of the same era, and translated in the early Middle Ages into Syriac and Arabic. The surviving versions of Adamantius, Anonymus Latinus, and the Leiden Arabic more than make up for the loss of the original. The present volume is the work of a team of leading Classicists and Arabists. The main surviving versions in Greek and Latin are translated into English for the first time. The Leiden Arabic translation is authoritatively re-edited and translated, as is a sample of the alternative Arabic Polemon. The texts and translations are introduced by a series of masterly studies that tell the story of the origins, function, and legacy of Polemon's work, a legacy especially rich in Islam. The story of the Physiognomy is the story of how one man's obsession with identifying enemies came to be taken up in the fascinating transmission of Greek thought into Arabic. Sri Ramakrishna, the Face of Silence Dhan Gopal Mukerji III, Swami Nikhilananda, 2011-12-05 An inspiring in-depth look at the nineteenth-century Godman of India and Prophet of Harmony, Sri Ramakrishna, one of the greatest spiritual personalities of our time, is widely recognized as the Prophet of the Harmony of Religions. After perfecting the practice of several religions, including Christianity, Islam, and various traditions of Hinduism, he declared, "As many faiths, so many paths." For the first time, two classic biographies, Dhan Gopal Mukerji's The Face of Silence (1926) and Swami Nikhilananda's Sri Ramakrishna (1942) are brought together to provide a fuller understanding of the life and spiritual significance of Sri Ramakrishna as well as the systems of Indian religious thought intimately connected with him Pairing legend with fact memory with history this unique volume including an Introduction to Sri Ramakrishna s God consciousness by Swami Adiswarananda succeeds in intimately examining the teachings of Sri Ramakrishna and conveying the true story of this great mystic whose leaping flame of spiritual realization continues to influence the modern spiritual search The Face of Jesus Peter M. Kalellis,2013 The disciples of Christ and those who followed him and listened to his teachings were more impressed by his message than his appearance Fascinated by his amazing teachings compassion forgiveness justice love and witnessing the miracles he performed among people and over nature his followers embraced the truth and the ideals that he brought into their life Perceptions about Jesus human appearance vary from person to person What stands out is that his physical image shines through the greatest story ever told in the Gospel Truly it matters not what Jesus looked like What matters is the reality of his appearance in what he did among his people what he taught them and what our faith in him accomplishes Do you want to see the face of Jesus Take a look at those around you the baby that smiles young people adults the elderly the ill and inmates There you can find Jesus incarnated in each one The Face of Immortality Davide Stimilli,2005-01-01 Argues for a new kind of criticism one that mediates between literal and allegorical modes of interpretation The Face of Christ Dr. H.S. The Trace of the Face in the Politics of Jesus John Patrick Koyles, 2013-06-26 Taking its cue from Mark Nation's regret that John Howard Yoder refrained from a fuller engagement with the Western philosophical tradition this book is an effort to explore the possibilities inherent in that conversation. It develops a dialogue between Yoder and the French philosopher Emmanuel Levinas. The placement of Yoder's work alongside of Levinas' conception of otherness cashes out the embedded hope in Nation's remarks by demonstrating the continuing relevancy of Yoder's thought for current Christian sociopolitical discourse. This book is especially aimed at those who seek to continue exploring the themes and ideas of John Howard Yoder. The Face of the Ancient Orient Sabatino

Suffering in the Face of Death Bryan R. Dyer, 2017-04-20 Suffering and death are two topics that are frequently referred to in the Epistle to the Hebrews but have rarely been examined within scholarship on this important New Testament text. Dyer redresses the balance in this study of these topics conducting a thorough investigation using semantic domain analysis. He incorporates recent advancements in modern linguistics in particular the context of situation and then connects these topics to the social situation addressed in Hebrews. In so doing he is able to reveal how the author is responding to the reality of suffering in the lives of his audience. With this awareness it becomes clear how the author also responds to his audience's pain by creating models of endurance in suffering and death. These serve to motivate his audience toward similar endurance within their own social context. Dyer shows that it is possible to make significant determinations about the social setting of Hebrews based upon an examination and analysis of the language used therein. Yemen in the Face of the Storm of Storm

, 2014-06-10 The most essential factor in creating a successful salable portrait is properly lighting the face. But every face is different and each face type requires a different style of lighting. It is imperative that the photographer realizes this. From the subject's complexion and facial size to their clothing hair color and setting there are many aspects to consider when lighting a client. The photographer must also take into consideration what type of product the client wants: senior portrait, bridal portrait, glamour or professional. Each one of these requires something different. Properly and efficiently addressing all of these factors will set you and your business apart from the competition In this book Smith focuses on teaching photographers how to conceptualize and produce portraits that will please the client He emphasizes that he is not creating his own artistic vision but that he is crafting what the client wants That is not to say the results aren't artful and creative Both of those things are very important as Smith shows but the main goal as a successful professional photographer is to create portraits that the subject wants to buy Smith advises photographers to be aware of a subject's self image when creating the portrait being sure not to light them in a manner that is unflattering or distorted Success in creating salable portraits relies as much on understanding people and the way our self image functions as it does understanding the proper techniques of lighting First Smith discusses the differences between face types and what to be aware of when setting up the lighting for each Proper metering and placement of light source are essential to controlling your highlights your shadowing and the transition area in between Establishing a system for modifying your lighting setup for each subject is emphasized The concept of Camera Sight or visualizing the finished photo ahead of time to look for potential problem areas is very important As Smith admits this skill comes with experience Where he once had to take many test shots to pick out these issues he is now able to see them before he shoots a single frame This is a skill that develops over time with training and practice The author then explains the differences between shooting in a studio and shooting on location both indoors and outdoors Different equipment is required for each scenario but the equipment used for shooting outdoors can even differ depending on the time of day While the most ideal natural light occurs just after sunrise or just before sunset most customers do not want to have their portraits taken at 5am or late in the day So the photographer needs to be prepared to shoot in the harsh midday sun In addition to lighting the face the photographer must find usable light to illuminate the background properly Smith details the lighting system he uses for outdoor portraiture and presents it in the context of his shooting experiences While studio shoots provide greater levels of comfort and consistency compared to a location shoot there are still many things required to get that perfect shot Properly applying fill accent light and shadowing are just as important in the studio as they are on location Understanding the concepts of traditional lighting allows the photographer to consistently create studio portraits that will please any customer The most important part of the face to light properly is the eyes Smith explains in detail what factors a successful photographer must consider to get the final portrait every client wants Whether it is a difference in the size of the client's eyes or ears asymmetrical lips or a crooked nose there are ways to light these to correct the differences Using artistry and creative vision to adapt from the comfort of studio shoots to the complicated and diverse demands of location shoots Smith provides the reader with the tools to capture what the client wants every time
