Gathagan,William North,Charles C. Rozier,2020-12-18 New insights into interpretive problems in the history of England and Europe between the eighth and thirteenth centuries The articles in this volume of the Haskins Society Journal take the reader from early England to the thirteenth century from Europe to the Holy Land Chapters explore issues of Anglo Saxon social status and settlement and peasant agency in the France of King Louis IX while through a careful re-examination of documentary and narrative evidence further articles offer new insights into succession crises in England and the Principality of Antioch with special attention to the role of women in the assumption of political power and its narration The record and moral horizons of both First and Fourth Crusaders also receive close attention and finally a survey of the construction of the Norman past in the French Chronique de Normandie rounds out the collection CONTRIBUTORS Mark E Blincoe Andrew D Buck Wim de Clercq Theodore Evergates Alex Hurlow William Chester Jordan Alexandra Locking Alheydis Plassman Stuart Pracy Katherine Allen Smith Veerle van Eetvelde Steven Vanderputten Gerben Verbrugghe     The Haskins Society Journal 34 Person William North,Contributor Laura E Wangerin,2024-10-08 Essays illuminating a wide range of topics from Cistercian preachers and the geography of purgatory to royal and ecclesiastical justice and power This volume continues the Society's commitment to historical and interdisciplinary research from the early and central Middle Ages and demonstrates its belief that the close interrogation of primary documents yields new insights into or important recalibrations of our understanding of the past It begins by surveying the works of the Greek Fathers rendered into Latin in late antiquity exploring their reception and deployment in England before the conquest The twelfth century occupies a central place in this volume Four papers offer close readings or re readings of key authors or sources one reconstructs William of Malmesbury's journeys in the mid 1130s another offers a new reading of two of Aelred of Rievaulx's royal biographies a third considers the influence of Henry of Marcy on Herbert of Clairvaux's Liber visionum et miraculorum Clarevallensium and a fourth examines the Historia Gaufredi Ducis and its outsized impact on the history of the ritual of dubbing Two papers address royal and ecclesiastical justice in mid thirteenth century France through meticulous work with archival sources they respectively consider the case of Geoffroy de Milly and limits of sovereign authority and enquetes as a technique of power Further topics include the emerging geography of purgatory in the imagination of the twelfth and thirteenth centuries the different dimensions of medieval institutional culture as seen in the intersection of earthly and angelic power in Angevin England placed in dialogue with American medieval historiography and the evolving historiographical treatment of men of the Church employed as trusted administrators by Italian communes The volume concludes with two essays on significant moments in the history of American medieval studies examinations of the publication history of Evelyn Faye Wilson's Stella Maris of John of Garland and of the life scholarship and legacy of Bennett David Hill round out the volume The Haskins Society Journal 15 Bernard of authorisations to deliver information orally These documents were addressed to the recipient and authenticated by a seal or signature often having a greeting and a personal conclusion The messengers who took them also carried copies of laws and regulations summonses to courts and whatever else was needed for the administration of the country Without a means of speedy delivery to all concerned there could be no effective government Separate postal services developed to meet the needs of nobles the church merchants towns and the public This book discusses three meanings of the word post the letters those who carried them and the means of distribution It shows that there is some continuity from Roman times and that the postal service established throughout England after the conquest of 1066 continued until 1635 when it was officially extended to the public thus starting its amalgamation with the other services Early medieval militarisation Ellora Bennett, Guido M. Berndt, Stefan Esders, Laury Sarti, 2021-04-13 The societies of ancient Europe underwent a continual process of militarisation and this would come to be a defining characteristic of the early Middle Ages The process was neither linear nor mono causal but it affected society as a whole encompassing features like the lack of demarcation between the military and civil spheres of the population the significance attributed to weapons beyond their military function and the wide recognition of martial values Early medieval militarisation assembles twenty studies that use both written and archaeological evidence to explore the phenomenon of militarisation and its impact on the development of the societies of early medieval Europe The interdisciplinary investigations break new ground and will be essential reading for scholars and students of related fields as well as non specialists with an interest in early medieval history King Alfred's Book of Laws Todd Preston, 2014-01-10 During the early Middle Ages King Alfred reigned 871-99 gained fame as the ruler who brought learning back to England after decades of Viking invasion Although analysis of Alfred's canon typically focuses on his religious and philosophical texts his relatively overlooked law code or Domboc reveals much about his rule and how he was perceived in subsequent centuries Joining major voices in the fields of early English law and literature this exploration of King Alfred's influential text traces its evolution from its 9th century origins to reappearances in the 11th 12th and 16th centuries Alfred's use of the vernacular and representation of secular practices this work contends made the Domboc an ideal text for establishing a particularly English national identity Dynasties Intertwined Matt King, 2022-06-15 Dynasties Intertwined traces the turbulent relationship between the Zirids of Ifriqiya and the Normans of Sicily during the eleventh and twelfth centuries In doing so it reveals the complex web of economic political cultural and military connections that linked the two dynasties to each other and to other polities across the medieval Mediterranean Furthermore despite the contemporary interfaith holy wars happening around the Zirids and Normans their relationship was never governed by an overarching ideology like jihad or crusade Instead both dynasties pursued policies that they thought would expand their power and wealth either through collaboration or conflict The relationship between the Zirids and Normans ultimately came to a violent end in the 1140s when a devastating drought crippled Ifriqiya The Normans seized this opportunity to conquer lands across the Ifriqiyan coast bringing an end to the Zirid dynasty and forming the Norman kingdom of Africa which persisted until the Almohad conquest of Mahdia in 1160 Previous scholarship on medieval North Africa during the reign of the Zirids has depicted the region as one of instability and political anarchy that rendered local lords powerless in the face of foreign conquest Matt King shows that to the contrary the Zirids and other local lords in Ifriqiya were integral parts of the far reaching political and economic networks across the Mediterranean Despite the eventual collapse of the Zirid dynasty at the hands of the Normans Dynasties Intertwined makes clear that its emirs were active and consequential Mediterranean players for much of the eleventh and twelfth centuries with political agency independent of their Christian neighbors across the Strait of Sicily
