The Exact Distribution Of Exogenous Variable Coefficient Estimators:

The Exact Distribution of Exogenous Variable Coefficient Estimators Christopher L. Skeels, 1989 Statistics on Special Manifolds Yasuko Chikuse, 2012-11-12 The special manifolds of interest in this book are the Stiefel manifold and the Grassmann manifold Formally the Stiefel manifold $V_{k,m}$ is the space of k frames in the m dimensional real Euclidean space R^m represented by the set of $m \times k$ matrices X such that $XX^T = I_k$ where I_k is the $k \times k$ identity matrix k and the Grassmann manifold $G_{k,m}$ is the space of k planes k dimensional hyperplanes in R^m We see that the manifold $P_{k,m}$ of $m \times m$ orthogonal projection matrices idempotent of rank k corresponds uniquely to $G_{k,m}$ This book is concerned with statistical analysis on the manifolds $V_{k,m}$ and $P_{k,m}$ as statistical sample spaces consisting of matrices The discussion is carried out on the real spaces so that scalars vectors and matrices treated in this book are all real unless explicitly stated otherwise For the special case $k=1$ the observations from $V_{1,m}$ and $G_{1,m}$ are regarded as directed vectors on a unit sphere and as undirected axes or lines respectively There exists a large literature of applications of directional statistics and its statistical analysis mostly occurring for $m=2$ or 3 in practice in the Earth or Geological Sciences Astrophysics Medicine Biology Meteorology Animal Behavior and many other fields Examples of observations on the general Grassmann manifold $G_{k,m}$ arise in the signal processing of radar with m elements observing k targets

Handbook of Econometrics Zvi Griliches, Michael D. Intriligator, 1983 The Handbook is a definitive reference source and teaching aid for econometricians It examines models estimation theory data analysis and field applications in econometrics Comprehensive surveys written by experts discuss recent developments at a level suitable for professional use by economists econometricians statisticians and in advanced graduate econometrics courses

On the Exact Finite Sample Distributions of Generalized Classical Linear Structural Estimators R. L. Basman, 1960 Advanced Econometric Theory John Chipman, 2013-03-01 When learning econometrics what better way than to be taught by one of its masters In this significant new volume John Chipman the eminence grise of econometrics presents his classic lectures in econometric theory Starting with the linear regression model least squares Gauss Markov theory and the first principles of econometrics this book guides the introductory student to an advanced stage of ability The text covers multicollinearity and reduced rank estimation the treatment of linear restrictions and minimax estimation Also included are chapters on the autocorrelation of residuals and simultaneous equation estimation By the end of the text students will have a solid grounding in econometrics Despite the frequent complexity of the subject matter Chipman's clear explanations concise prose and sharp analysis make this book stand out from others in the field With mathematical rigor sharpened by a lifetime of econometric analysis this significant volume is sure to become a seminal and indispensable text in this area

Australian National Bibliography, 1978 Mathematical Reviews, 1996 Economics Letters, 1980 Specification, Estimation, and Analysis of Macroeconometric Models Ray C. Fair, 1984 This book gives a practical applications oriented account of the latest techniques for estimating and analyzing large nonlinear macroeconomic models Ray Fair demonstrates the application of these techniques in a detailed presentation of several actual models including his United States model his multicountry model Sargent s classical macroeconomic model autoregressive and vector autoregressive models and a small twelve equation linear structural model He devotes a good deal of attention to the difficult and often neglected problem of moving from theoretical to econometric models In addition he provides an extensive discussion of optimal control techniques and methods for estimating and analyzing rational expectations models A computer program that handles all the techniques in the book is available from the author making it possible to use the techniques with little additional programming The book presents the logic of this program A smaller program for personal microcomputers for analysis of Fair s United States model is available from Urban Systems Research Engineering Inc Anyone wanting to learn how to use large macroeconomic models including researchers graduate students economic forecasters and people in business and government both in the United States and abroad will find this an essential guidebook The Econometrics of Panel Data Lászlo Mátyás,Patrick Sevestre,2008-04-06 This restructured updated Third Edition provides a general overview of the econometrics of panel data from both theoretical and applied viewpoints Readers discover how econometric tools are used to study organizational and household behaviors as well as other macroeconomic phenomena such as economic growth The book contains sixteen entirely new chapters all other chapters have been revised to account for recent developments With contributions from well known specialists in the field this handbook is a standard reference for all those involved in the use of panel data in econometrics Working Papers in Economics and Econometrics Australian National University. JOURNAL OF ECONOMETRICS ,1985 Econometric Analysis of Cross Section and Panel Data, second edition Jeffrey M. Wooldridge,2010-10-01 The second edition of a comprehensive state of the art graduate level text on microeconomic methods substantially revised and updated The second edition of this acclaimed graduate text provides a unified treatment of two methods used in contemporary econometric research cross section and data panel methods By focusing on assumptions that can be given behavioral content the book maintains an appropriate level of rigor while emphasizing intuitive thinking The analysis covers both linear and nonlinear models including models with dynamics and or individual heterogeneity In addition to general estimation frameworks particular methods of moments and maximum likelihood specific linear and nonlinear methods are covered in detail including probit and logit models and their multivariate Tobit models models for count data censored and missing data schemes causal or treatment effects and duration analysis Econometric Analysis of Cross Section and Panel Data was the first graduate econometrics text to focus on microeconomic data structures allowing assumptions to be separated into population and sampling assumptions This second edition has been substantially updated and revised Improvements include a broader class of models for missing data problems more detailed treatment of cluster problems an important topic for empirical researchers expanded discussion of generalized instrumental variables GIV estimation new coverage based on the author's own recent research of inverse probability weighting a more complete framework for estimating treatment effects with panel data and a firmly established link between econometric approaches to nonlinear panel data and the generalized estimating equation literature popular in statistics and other fields New attention is given to explaining when particular econometric methods can be applied the goal is not only to tell readers what does work but why certain obvious procedures do not The numerous included exercises both theoretical and computer based allow the reader to extend methods covered in the text and discover new insights

Cowles Foundation Discussion Paper Yale University. Cowles Foundation for Research in Economics, 1955

The Econometrics of Panel Data László Mátyás, Patrick Sevestre, 2013-12-01 The aim of this volume is to provide a general overview of the econometrics of panel data both from a theoretical and from an applied viewpoint Since the pioneering papers by Kuh 1959 Mundlak 1961 Hoch 1962 and Balestra and Nerlove 1966 the pooling of cross section and time series data has become an increasingly popular way of quantifying economic relationships Each series provides information lacking in the other so a combination of both leads to more accurate and reliable results than would be achievable by one type of series alone Over the last 30 years much work has been done investigation of the properties of the applied estimators and test statistics analysis of dynamic models and the effects of eventual measurement errors etc These are just some of the problems addressed by this work In addition some specific difficulties associated with the use of panel data such as attrition heterogeneity selectivity bias pseudo panels etc have also been explored The first objective of this book which takes up Parts I and II is to give as complete and up to date a presentation of these theoretical developments as possible Part I is concerned with classical linear models and their extensions Part II deals with nonlinear models and related issues logit and probit models latent variable models incomplete panels and selectivity bias and point processes
