Roberta de Monticelli

The Enigma Of The Gift:

The Enigma of the Gift Maurice Godelier, 1999 A reassessment of the function and importance of gifts in social life and in the constitution of social relations based on the work of Marcel Mauss In 1921 Mauss advanced a theory of the gift which drew sharp criticisms from Levi Strauss among others Like earlier thinkers the author analyses things one gives and things one sells he begins however with those things that can be neither given nor sold but which must be kept chief among which are sacred objects After a fresh analysis of the potlatch and the kula which lay at the heart of Mauss's theory he shows that the enigmas which stymied Mauss are resolved once one sees that objects can be at the same time given and kept what is given is the alienable right of usage what is kept is the inalienable ownership He then explains why this rule applies to valuables that are given but not to sacred objects which must be kept

The Enigma of the Gift Maurice Godelier, 1999-02-03 When we think of giving gifts we think of exchanging objects that carry with them economic or symbolic value But is every valuable thing a potentially exchangeable item whose value can be transferred In The Enigma of the Gift the distinguished French anthropologist Maurice Godelier reassesses the significance of gifts in social life by focusing on sacred objects which are never exchanged despite the value they possess Beginning with an analysis of the seminal work of Marcel Mauss and Claude Lévi Strauss and drawing on his own fieldwork in Melanesia Godelier argues that traditional theories are flawed because they consider only exchangeable gifts By explaining gift giving in terms of sacred objects and the authoritative conferral of power associated with them Godelier challenges both recent and traditional theories of gift giving provocatively refreshing a traditional debate Elegantly translated by Nora Scott The Enigma of the Gift is at once a major theoretical contribution and an essential guide to the history of the theory of the gift

Enigma of Gift and Sacrifice Edith Wyschogrod, Jean-Joseph Goux, Eric Boynton, 2018

Social Solidarity and the Gift Aafke E. Komter, 2005 This book brings together two traditions of thinking about social ties sociological theory on solidarity and anthropological theory on gift exchange The purpose of the book is to explore how both theoretical traditions may complete and enrich each other and how they may illuminate transformations in solidarity The main argument supported by empirical illustrations is that a theory of solidarity should incorporate some of the core insights from anthropological gift theory The book presents a theoretical model covering both positive and negative selective and excluding aspects and consequences of solidarity

Paul and the Gift John M. G. Barclay, 2017-09-11 John Barclay explores Pauline theology anew from the perspective of grace Arguing that Paul's theology of grace is best approached in light of ancient notions of gift Barclay describes Paul's relationship to Judaism in a fresh way Barclay focuses on divine gift giving which for Paul he says is focused and fulfilled in the gift of Christ He both offers a new appraisal of Paul's theology of the Christ event as gift as it comes to expression in Galatians and Romans and presents a nuanced and detailed consideration of the history of reception of Paul including Augustine Luther Calvin and Barth

'The Gift' in Nietzsche's Zarathustra Emilio Carlo Corriero, 2021-07-29 Tracing the notion of the gift in Nietzsche's

Thus Spoke Zarathustra Emilio Corriero provides a new interpretation of this essential text alongside the gift's evolution as a key concept in the history of western philosophy and Christianity The last phase of Nietzsche's thought including his writings on the death of God The Will to Power the Overman and eternal recurrence are analysed anew in Corriero's reading of Thus Spoke Zarathustra From Nietzsche's Prologue in which Zarathustra presents the idea of the Overman as a gift of love and wisdom up to the fourth and final book in which the theme of hospitality and sacrifice are inextricably linked to the concept of donation highlighting the novelty and exceptionality of Zarathustra's gift Building on these ideas this book reveals how the gift of Zarathustra put forward by Nietzsche rethinks the relationships between individuals based on Christian doctrine enabling new forms of coexistence and sociality to thrive

The Question of the Gift Mark Osteen, 2013-09-13 The Question of the Gift is the first collection of new interdisciplinary essays on the gift Bringing together scholars from a variety of fields including anthropology literary criticism economics philosophy and classics it provides new paradigms and poses new questions concerning the theory and practice of gift exchange In addressing these questions contributors not only challenge the conventions of their fields but also combine ideas and methods from both the social sciences and humanities to forge innovative ways of confronting this universal phenomenon

The Wedding Present Louise Purbrick, 2016-02-17 In this fascinating work Louise Purbrick offers an alternative analysis of contemporary domestic consumption She investigates the ritualized presentation of objects upon marriage and their subsequent cycles of exchange within the domestic sphere Focusing on gift giving in Britain from 1945 to the present comparative context is provided by material from North America and Europe Presenting new material on the enactment of exchange relationships within everyday domesticity the book makes significant historical theoretical and methodological contributions to the analysis of contemporary consumption It also re-evaluates consumption theory as well as examining the methodology of recent studies in consumption and domesticity pressing for a more rigorous approach to the use of case studies By considering how the specific contexts in which consumption occurs such as married domesticity can limit possible versions of selfhood The Wedding Present tests the assumption that consuming creates individual identities Thus the book argues consumption cannot be isolated as an explanation of individual or social formation

Giving Beyond the Gift Elliot R. Wolfson, 2014-02-03 This book explores the co-dependency of monotheism and idolatry by examining the thought of several prominent twentieth century Jewish philosophers Cohen Buber Rosenzweig and Levinas While all of these thinkers were keenly aware of the pitfalls of scriptural theism to differing degrees they each succumbed to the temptation to personify transcendence even as they tried either to circumvent or to restrain it by apophatically purging kataphatic descriptions of the deity Derrida and Wyschogrod by contrast carried the project of denegation one step further embarking on a path that culminated in the aporetic suspension of belief and the consequent removal of all images from God a move that seriously compromises the viability of devotional piety The inquiry into apophasis transcendence and immanence in these Jewish thinkers is symptomatic of a larger question Recent attempts to harness the apophatic tradition to construct a viable postmodern negative theology a religion without religion are not radical enough Not only are these philosophies of transcendence guilty of a turn to theology that defies the phenomenological presupposition of an immanent phenomenality but they fall short on their own terms inasmuch as they persist in employing metaphorical language that personalizes transcendence and thereby runs the risk of undermining the irreducible alterity and invisibility attributed to the transcendent other The logic of apophasis if permitted to run its course fully would exceed the need to posit some form of transcendence that is not ultimately a facet of immanence Apophatic theologies accordingly must be supplanted by a more far reaching apophasis that surpasses the theolatrous impulse lying coiled at the crux of theism an apophasis of apophasis based on accepting an absolute nothingness to be distinguished from the nothingness of an absolute that does not signify the unknowable One but rather the manifold that is the pleromatic abyss at being's core Hence the much celebrated metaphor of the gift must give way to the more neutral and less theologically charged notion of an unconditional givenness in which the distinction between giver and given collapses To think givenness in its most elemental phenomenological sense is to allow the apparent to appear as given without presuming a causal agency that would turn that given into a gift

The Gift of Beauty Stephen David Ross, 1996-07-03 Traces the history of the idea of art as an ethical movement interpreting the good as nature's abundance giving rise to an ethics of inclusion expressed in art

Paul Ricoeur and the Task of Political Philosophy Gregory R. Johnson, Dan R. Stiver, 2013-01-01 This book offers a sustained engagement with the political philosophy of Paul Ricoeur and demonstrates both the significance of the political in his own thinking throughout his career and how his understanding of the political offers something valuable to current discussions of issues in political philosophy

Politics, Economy, and Society Paul Ricoeur, 2021-07-09 The philosophy of Paul Ricoeur is rarely viewed through the lens of political philosophy and yet questions of power and of how to live together in the polis were a constant preoccupation of his writings This volume brings together a selection of his texts spanning six decades from 1958 to 2003 which together present Ricoeur's political project in its coherence and diversity In Ricoeur's view the political is the realm of a tension between rationality the attempt to provide a coherent explanation of the world and irrationality which manifests itself in force and repression This political paradox lies at the heart of politics for the claim to explain the world generates its own form of violence the more one desires the good the more one is inclined to impose it Ricoeur warns citizens the guardians of democracy against any totalizing system of thought and any dogmatic understanding of history Power should be divided and controlled and Ricoeur defends a form of political liberalism in which states are conscious of the limits of their power and respectful of the freedom of their citizens Ranging from questions of power and repression to those of ethics identity and responsibility these little known political texts by one of the leading philosophers of the twentieth century will be of interest to students and scholars of philosophy politics and theology and to anyone concerned with the great political questions of our time

The Spirit as Gift in Acts John D. Griffiths, 2022-02-28 What does Luke mean when he describes the Spirit as gift Acts 2:38 This study explores the social implications of gift giving in the Greco Roman world arguing that gifts initiate and sustain relationships Therefore the description of the Spirit as gift is inherently social which is shown in the Spirit's empowerment of the teaching unity meals sharing of possessions and worship of the early Jesus community The Spirit as gift then leads us to see that the early Jesus community is the community of the Holy Spirit

Wine and The Gift Peter Howland, 2022-12-09 Wine as commodity has received enormous academic attention while wine as gift has largely eluded significant dedicated research and analysis This book addresses this lacuna with insights from leading scholars from a range of disciplines exploring wine as gift in different moments of history across a variety of production to consumption contexts and across societies and cultures The book draws on examples from Australia China Croatia France Italy Moldova United Kingdom and Aotearoa New Zealand Through the analysis of wine as gift indeed often as a commodity gift hybrid this book significantly enhances understandings of the intertwined economic societal political and moral aspects of wine and its production exchange and consumption Wine and the Gift From Production to Consumption will appeal to researchers and undergraduates from a wide range of disciplines including sociology history anthropology cultural studies geography marketing and business studies

Tibetan Democracy Trine Brox, 2016-06-10 How do you govern 130 000 people from exile Tibet and the struggles of diaspora Tibetans are elements of an ongoing and highly debated issue The Dalai Lama's democratisation process during his time in India from 1959-2011 and the subsequent election of Lobsang Sangay as prime minister in exile marked to the Tibetan people the move away from a seemingly feudal societal structure and traditional theocratic governance Central to these Tibetan democracy aspirations is the freedom struggle in which Tibetans dream of an ideal politics which includes both Tibetans residing in Tibet and those in exile with the ultimate goal of returning to a self ruled Tibet However some have questioned whether the fight for democracy has helped or hindered a united and free Tibet To elucidate this complex debate Trine Brox has undertaken extensive fieldwork investigating how democracy is viewed and practised amongst Tibetans in exile In so doing she explores how the Tibetans living in India imagine organise and negotiate governance that is modern and democratic but uniquely Tibetan This is an important book for those with an interest in Tibet diaspora communities and democracy

Women and the Gift Morny Joy, 2013-09-17 Recent inquiries into the concept of the gift have been largely male dominated and thus have ignored important aspects of the gift from a woman's point of view In the light of philosophical work by Mauss Lévi Strauss Derrida and Bataille Women and the Gift reflects how women respond to the notion of the gift and relationships of giving This collection evaluates and critiques previous work on the gift and also responds to how women view care fidelity generosity trust and independence in light of the gift

The Philosophers' Gift Marcel Hénaff, 2019-11-05 The French philosopher and anthropologist examines contemporary philosophical conceptions of gift giving commercial exchange and social cohesion When it comes to giving philosophers love to be the most generous For them every form of reciprocity is tainted by commercial exchange Thinkers such as Derrida Levinas Henry Marion Ricoeur Lefort and Descombes have made the gift central to their work haunted by the requirement of disinterestedness As an anthropologist as well as a philosopher H naff worries that philosophy has failed to distinguish among various types of giving The Philosophers Gift returns to the seminal work of Marcel Mauss to reexamine these thinkers through the anthropological tradition H naff shows that reciprocity rather than disinterestedness is central to ceremonial giving and alliance whereby the social bond specific to humans is proclaimed as a political bond From the social fact of gift practices H naff develops an original and profound theory of symbolism the social and the relationship between self and other whether that other is an individual human being the collective other of community and institution or the impersonal other of the world Winner of the French Voices Award for excellence in publication and translation The Medieval Gift and the Classical Tradition Lars Kjaer,Lars Kjær,2019-08-29 Explores how classical ideals of generosity influenced the writing and practice of gift giving in medieval Europe The Gift of Bonds Roberta de Monticelli,2024-08-01 This book presents the idea of the gift of bonds as the core intuition of phenomenology constituting it into that method of philosophical research that Husserl had in mind when he characterized phenomenology as the culmination and fulfillment of Western philosophy The book clarifies this claim while offering a unitary key to the whole of Husserl s published and posthumous work The idea of the gift of bonds unfolds progressively as a key to understanding the related notions of essence material apriori non empirical data structure ideality and value By unveiling the unitary foundation the key concept discussed in the Third Logical Investigation the present book presents this central notion as capturing the very idea of concreteness as experienced and phenomenologically described in terms of qualitative plena and the not less important class of ideal or abstract objects The author takes this concept to be the core theoretical idea of the entire phenomenological approach to reality and philosophical research and argues for this claim in chapters IV V as it remains a leading thread throughout all chapters of this book This book appeals to students and researchers working in phenomenology The ^APerils of Partnership Jonathan H. Marks,2019-01-29 This book offers a novel critique of public private partnerships in public health The author argues these relationships create webs of influence that undermine the integrity of public health agencies and imperil public health He makes a compelling case that the paradigm interaction between governments and corporations should be at arm s length separation not collaboration
