Gustafson, 1975 Is there a special relation between religious beliefs and moral behavior In particular is there a distinctive Christian moral character and how is this manifested in moral actions The influential theologian James M Gustafson probes these questions and offers an analysis of the distinctively religious reasons of the heart and mind which constitute the basis for a Christian ethics Professor Gustafson grounds his discussion in a concrete example of moral conduct which deeply impressed him The incident narrated in detail at the start and referred to throughout concerns a nonreligious colleague who came to the aid of an intoxicated soldier Although seemingly trivial this incident in the author's view approximates the normal sorts of experiences in which individuals have to make moral decisions every day it becomes a touchstone to investigate the logical social and religious elements in moral decision making
