Paul Stevens, 2000-09-05 In this provocative book Stevens writes the clergy laity division has no basis in the New Testament and challenges all Christians to rediscover what it means to live daily as God's people Exploring the theological structural and cultural reasons for treating laypeople as the objects of ministry Stevens argues against the idea of clericalism and in favor of equipping people for ministry in their homes workplaces and neighborhoods      Liberation Theologies Ronald G. moral sense can be used to justify any action The author argues that this is not genuine authenticity Instead they consider that authenticity rests upon loyalty to something greater than oneself and for Christians this is the character of the God in whose image they are created and are being formed This book is illuminating reading for students and scholars of theological anthropology pastoral theology ethics and moral philosophy
