The Fall Of Icarus The Childrens Art Series:

The Fall of Icarus Gabriel Deblander, Pieter Bruegel, Claire Léonard, 1978 Recounts the Greek myth of Icarus who flew too close to the sun using the details from the 16th century painting by Pieter Bruegel the Elder Landscape with the Fall of Icarus Children's Books on Ancient Greek and Roman Mythology Antoine Brazouski, Mary J Klatt, 1993-11-23 The classical heritage continues to impact modern culture in many ways This bibliography lists and describes those books on Greek and Roman mythology from the mid 19th century to the present which are useful for introducing children to the classical world The volume begins with a brief history of children s books on classical mythology in the United States A chapter then discusses the various techniques through which classical myths were adapted for children The annotated bibliography follows with each entry including a critical annotation on how closely the work adheres to the original myth Each entry also includes an indication of the grade level of each book Indexes allow the user to locate sources according to title illustrator time period myth and subject Monographic Series Library of Congress, 1981 National Union Catalog , 1982

Representations of Art and Art Museums in Children's Picture Books Perry Nodelman, 2024-10-17 What happens when the assumptions and practices of museum curators and art educators intersect with the assumptions and practices of publishing for children This study explores how over three hundred children s picture books most of them published in the last three decades in English introduce children to art and art museums It considers how the books emerge from and relate to a range of theories and assumptions about childhood and childhood development children s literature and culture illustration visual art museology and art education As well as examining how these theories and assumptions influence what picture books teach young readers about visiting museums and about how to look at and think about art it examines which artists and artworks appear most often in picture books and offers a survey of different kinds of art related picture books ones that claim to be purely informational ones that make looking at art a game or a puzzle ones in which children visit art museums and many more Since the books all include reproductions of or allusions to museum artworks the study also considers the problems illustrators face in depicting museum artworks in illustrations in a different style National Union Catalog, 1981 , 1982 Show and Tell Dilys Evans, 2008-03-26 Looking at the wide variety of artistic genius in children s books Show and Tell teaches the reader how to look for the perfect marriage of art and text and is an invaluable guide for anyone interested in children s books and the art of illustration The Posthuman Child Karin

Murris, 2016-03-17 The Posthuman Child combats institutionalised ageist practices in primary early childhood and teacher education Grounded in a critical posthumanist perspective on the purpose of education it provides a genealogy of psychology sociology and philosophy of childhood in which dominant figurations of child and childhood are exposed as positioning child as epistemically and ontologically inferior Entangled throughout this book are practical and theorised examples of philosophical work with student teachers teachers other practitioners and children aged 3 11 from South Africa and Britain

These engage arguments about how children are routinely marginalised discriminated against and denied especially when the child is also female black lives in poverty and whose home language is not English The book makes a distinctive contribution to the decolonisation of childhood discourses Underpinned by good quality picturebooks and other striking images the book s radical proposal for transformation is to reconfigure the child as rich resourceful and resilient through relationships with non human others and explores the implications for literary and literacy education teacher education curriculum construction implementation and assessment It is essential reading for all who research work and live with children

A Companion to Modernist Poetry David E. Chinitz, Gail McDonald, 2014-06-23 A COMPANION TO MODERNIST POETRY A Companion to Modernist Poetry A Companion to Modernist Poetry presents contemporary approaches to modernist poetry in a uniquely in depth and accessible text The first section of the volume reflects the attention to historical and cultural context that has been especially fruitful in recent scholarship The second section focuses on various movements and groupings of poets placing writers in literary history and indicating the currents and countercurrents whose interaction generated the category of modernism as it is now broadly conceived The third section traces the arcs of twenty one poets careers illustrated by analyses of key works The Companion thus offers breadth in its presentation of historical and literary contexts and depth in its attention to individual poets it brings recent scholarship to bear on the subject of modernist poetry while also providing guidance on poets who are historically important and who are likely to appear on syllabi and to attract critical interest for many years to come Edited by two highly respected and notable critics in the field A Companion to Modernist Poetry boasts a varied list of contributors who have produced an intense focused study of modernist poetry Art and the Platonic Matrix Jürgen Lawrenz, 2011-05-25 For two millennia philosophy has restlessly stalked a fundamental problem the answer to the question what is art really Aesthetic discourse focused on the Platonic Matrix of truth and beauty arthood and object imitation and representation form and idea has not delivered on its promise leaving us in bewilderment over principles that are either ignored or contradicted by the arts themselves In this searching critique some astonishing faux pas are brought to light Notably that aesthetics makes do without a knower the heuristics of art and the dynamics of self exploration that are central to the aesthetic experience What this book seeks to accomplish is a thorough reformulation of the terms of reference based on the actual form of life that is art This amounts to a framework for a wholly new philosophy of art It demonstrates that art is quintessentially involved in the meaning of life and through its heuristic dimension serves our impulse for self knowledge and an understanding of the human condition The book is in the first instance a philosophical treatise and therefore suitable for academic study in all grades though perhaps with greatest benefit at post graduate level But it has been written in an approachable style to encourage a wider audience to engage with its tenets accordingly it seeks also to address art aficionados whether professional or dilettante as well as general readers with an interest in these ever perplexing and profoundly intriguing issues of our human estate Retelling Stories, Framing Culture John Stephens, Robyn McCallum, 2013-01-11 What happens to traditional stories when they are retold in another time and cultural context and for a different audience This first of its kind study discusses Bible stories classical myths heroic legends Arthurian romances Robin Hood lore folk tales oriental tales and other stories derived from European cultures One chapter is devoted to various retellings of classics from Shakespeare to Wind in the Willows The authors offer a general theory of what motivates the retelling of stories and how stories express the aspirations of a society An important function of stories is to introduce children to a cultural heritage and to transmit a body of shared allusions and experiences that expresses a society's central values and assumptions However the cultural heritage may be modified through a pervasive tendency of retellings to produce socially conservative outcomes because of ethnocentric androcentric and class based assumptions in the source stories that persist into retellings Therefore some stories such as classical myths are particularly resistant to feminist reinterpretations for example while other types such as folktales are more malleable In examining such possibilities the book evaluates the processes of interpretation apparent in retellings Index included News of War Rachel Judith Galvin, 2018 A new work of scholarship that considers several of the most prominent poets writing from the outbreak of the Spanish Civil War to the end of World War II The Renaissance of Art in France lady Emilia Frances S.
