The Ethics Of Marginality A New Approach To Gay Studies:

The Ethics of Marginality John Champagne, 1995 Is celebration of culturally marginalized people by the dominant culture actually benefitting those who are oppressed Whose stakes are served in such a celebration and how are existing power relations altered These are some of the questions John Champagne asks in this original and timely critique which moves gay studies beyond both identity politics and the rights discourse within which much of contemporary gay studies is positioned Champagne argues that in the modern West culturally marginalized people such as gays cannot define and legitimate their own existence outside the framework established for them by the dominant group To illustrate his premise Champagne analyzes a number of recent films including Paris is Burning and Urinal and Marlon Riggs 1989 video Tongues Untied along with gay pornography using the work of such critics of difference as Jacques Derrida Michel Foucault and Gayatri Spivak He calls on the marginalized individual to elaborate a practice of critical self conduct and to work to understand his or her own subjectivity as having been produced as an entity along a variety of different registers only some of which might be said to be marginalized The Ethics of Marginality situates itself at the intersection of English cultural studies film studies and gay and lesbian studies It offers a powerful critique of contemporary approaches to studies of the other while promising to establish a groundbreaking and controversial new theoretical model for such studies

Empowering Settings and Voices for Social Change Mark S. Aber, Kenneth I. Maton, Edward Seidman, 2010-11-17 Empowering Settings and Voices for Social Change combines a focus on understanding social settings as loci for empowering intervention with a focus on understanding and giving voice to citizens Volume chapters illuminate advances in theory and method relevant to changing a broad spectrum of social settings from a strengths based perspective Postcolonial, Queer John C. Hawley, 2001-08-30 These thirteen essays address possible ramifications arising from the globalization of western notions of gay and lesbian identities Examining postcolonial literature economics and psychology from a queer perspective leads to self reflexive consideration of the canonization of postcolonial studies and queer theory in western academe Other Chinas Ralph A. Litzinger, 2000 An ethnographic study of how ethnic minorities negotiate Chinese nationalism in post Mao China Chaucer's Pardoner and Gender Theory NA NA, 2016-04-30 Chaucer's Pardoner and Gender Theory the first book length treatment of the character examines the Pardoner in Chaucer's Canterbury Tales from the perspective of both medieval and twentieth century theories of sex gender and erotic practice Sturges argues for a discontinuous fragmentary reading of this character and his tale that is genuinely both premodern and postmodern Drawing on theorists ranging from St Augustine and Alain de Lille to Judith Butler and Eve Kosofsky Sedgwick Sturges approaches the Pardoner as a representative of the construction of historical and sexual identities in a variety of historically specific discourses and argues that medieval understandings of gender remain sedimented in postmodern discourse Sometimes

Always True Jeremy Barris, 2015-01-02 Sometimes Always True aims to resolve three connected problems First we need an undogmatic pluralist standpoint in political theory metaphysics and epistemology But genuine pluralism suffers from the contradiction that making room for fundamental differences in outlook means making room for outlooks that exclude pluralism Second philosophy involves reflecting on the world and meaning as a whole yet this means adopting a vantage point in some way outside of meaning Third our lived experience of the sense of our lives similarly undermines its own sense as it involves having a vantage point in some way wholly outside ourselves In detailed engagement with among others Davidson Rorty Heidegger Foucault Wilde and gender and sexuality theory the book argues that these contradictions are so thoroughgoing that like the liar's paradox they cancel the bases of their own meaning Consequently it argues they resolve themselves and do so in a way that produces a vantage point on these issues that is not dogmatically circular because it is workably both within and outside these issues sense The solution to a genuinely undogmatic pluralism then is to enter into these contradictions and the process of their self resolution

Virtuous Vice Eric O. Clarke, 2000-03-14 Uses queer theory and Marx's theory of value to explore issues of assimilation representation and equivalence tracing the concepts through selected 19th century texts and contemporary gay and lesbian studies

Gay Travels in the Muslim World Michael Luongo, 2013-04-03 Travel beyond the fear and paranoia of 9 11 to experience Muslim culture Gay Travels in the Muslim World journeys where other gay travel books fear to tread Muslim countries This thought provoking book tells both Muslim and non Muslim gay men's stories of traveling in the Middle East during these difficult political times The true very personal tales reveal how gay men celebrate their lives and meetings with local men including a gay soldier's story of his tour of duty in Iraq Insightful and at times sexy this intelligent book goes beyond 9 11 and the present political and cultural divides to illustrate the real experiences of gay men in trouble zones in an effort to seek peace for all After the collapse of the Twin Towers fears about terrorism and Muslim culture went hand in hand Gay Travels in the Muslim World enters the current war zones to bring real and very personal stories of gay men who live and travel in these dangerous areas This book challenges readers preconceptions and assumptions about both homosexuality and being Muslim while showing the wide range of experiences good and bad about the regions as well as the differences in attitudes and beliefs Excerpts from Gay Travels in the Muslim World From I Want Your Eyes by David Stevens Men by themselves are rare I pass a handsome Omani man sitting on the Corniche wall with a cigarette between his long brown fingers He wears his colourful cumma cap at a jaunty angle and his mustard coloured dishdasha has risen up to reveal tantalizingly hairy calves I note the carefully made holes in his ears not in his ear lobes but deep inside the cartilage a pre Islamic custom still practiced on some male babies to ward off evil spirits I decide it suits him From It All Began with Mamadou by Jay Davidson Drawing definitive conclusions about a society after living here for a little more than a year is not a wise safe or responsible action on my part If a society's culture is a mosaic of thousands of little tiles then I like to think that what I have been able to piece together has been a tableau in which certain aspects have become discernable some are a little less clear and others remain in a way that I will never see as whole and comprehensible From A Market and a Mosque by Martin Foreman Sylhet Bangladesh It s eight o clock in the evening and Tarique and Paritosh are taking me out to look at the cruising spots Until I flew in here this afternoon all I knew of the provincial city and the surrounding area was that it was where most of the Bangladeshis in the UK come from and since most of the Bangladeshis in the UK live in my home borough of Tower Hamlets I feel a kind of affinity with the place Whether or not Sylhet feels an affinity with me is a different matter From Work In Progress Notes From A Continuing Journey of Manufacturing Dissent by Parvez Sharma In the construction of the image and life of the queer Muslim is also the awareness of the not so well known fact that a sexual revolution of immense proportions came to the earliest Muslims some 1 300 years before the West had even thought about it This promise of equal gender rights and unlike in the Bible the stress on sex as not just reproduction but also enjoyment within the confines of marriage has all but been lost in the rhetoric spewing from loudspeakers perched on Masjid sor mosques in Riyadh Marrakech and Islamabad The same Islam that has for centuries not only tolerated but also openly celebrated homosexuality is today used to justify a state sanctioned pogrom against gay men in Egypt America s enlightened friend in the Middle East Gay Travels in the Muslim World is a refreshing well written look a

Beyond Sexuality Tim Dean, 2000-09 Beyond Sexuality points contemporary sexual politics in a radically new direction Combining a psychoanalytic emphasis on the unconscious with a deep respect for the historical variability of sexual identities this original work of queer theory makes the case for viewing erotic desire as fundamentally impersonal Tim Dean develops a reading of Jacques Lacan that rather than straightening out this notoriously difficult French psychoanalyst brings out the queer tensions and productive incoherencies in his account of desire Dean shows how the Lacanian unconscious deheterosexualizes desire and along the way he reveals how psychoanalytic thinkers as well as queer theorists have failed to exploit the full potential of this conception of desire The book elaborates this by investigating social fantasies about homosexuality and AIDS including gay men s own fantasies about sex and promiscuity in an attempt to illuminate the challenges facing safe sex education Taking on many shibboleths in contemporary psychoanalysis and queer theory and taking no prisoners Beyond Sexuality offers an antidote to hagiographical strains in recent work on psychoanalysis Foucault and sexuality

Dentato,2018 This text broadly examines many important aspects of effective and affirming practice methods with the LGBTQ community along with considering health mental health history and policy factors The content was written by social work scholars educators practitioners and students to reach across professions e g social work health mental health and across audiences e g students faculty researchers and practitioners A View from the Bottom Tan Hoang Nguyen,2014-07-29 A View from the Bottom offers a major critical reassessment of male effeminacy and its racialization in visual culture Examining portrayals of Asian and Asian American men in Hollywood cinema European art film gay pornography and experimental documentary Nguyen Tan Hoang explores the cultural meanings that accrue to sexual positions He shows how cultural fantasies around the position of the sexual bottom overdetermine and refract the meanings of race gender sexuality and nationality in American culture in ways that both enable and constrain Asian masculinity Challenging the association of bottoming with passivity and abjection Nguyen suggests ways of thinking about the bottom position that afford agency and pleasure A more capacious conception of bottomhood as a sexual position a social alliance an affective bond and an aesthetic form has the potential to destabilize sexual gender and racial norms suggesting an ethical mode of relation organized not around dominance and mastery but around the risk of vulnerability and shame Thus reconceived bottomhood as a critical category creates new possibilities for arousal receptiveness and recognition and offers a new framework for analyzing sexual representations in cinema as well as understanding their relation to oppositional political projects Seeing Red Suzanne Hindmarch,Michael Orsini,Marilou Gagnon,2018-06-01 What does it mean to think of HIV AIDS policy in a critical manner Seeing Red offers the first critical analysis of HIV AIDS policy in Canada Featuring the diverse experiences of people living with HIV this collection highlights various perspectives from academics activists and community workers who look ahead to the new and complex challenges associated with HIV AIDS and Canadian society In addition to representing a diversity of voices and perspectives Seeing Red reflects on historical responses to HIV AIDS in Canada Among the specific issues addressed are the over representation of Indigenous peoples among those living with HIV the criminalization of HIV and barriers to health and support services particularly as experienced by vulnerable and marginalized populations The editors and contributors seek to show that Canada has been neither uniquely compassionate nor proactive when it comes to supporting those living with HIV AIDS Instead this remains a critical area of public policy one fraught with challenges as well as possibilities
