Stereotypist Contradictionary:

Stereotypes and stereotyping in early modern England Koji Yamamoto, 2022-10-25 Early modern stereotypes used to be studied as evidence of popular belief something mired with prejudices and commonly held assumptions Stereotypes and stereotyping in early modern England goes beyond this view by exploring practices of stereotyping as contested processes To do so the volume draws on recent works on social psychology and sociology It thereby brings together early modern case studies and explores how stereotypes and their mobilisation shaped various negotiations of power in spheres of life such as politics religion economy and knowledge production An electronic edition of this book is freely available under a Creative Commons CC BY NC ND licence De-stereotyping Indian Body and Desire Kaustav Chakraborty, 2014-03-17

Stereotypes result in deceptive generalizations about groups and are held in a manner that renders them as derogatory As such this volume advocates an active goal oriented effort in order to reduce prejudice through contact Deconstructing the motivated otherizing of the marginalized the book offers an alternative reading of the representations of Indian body and desire in both literature and media that are often politically inscribed as abnormal and unnatural due to their non conformity Poststructural and postcolonial theories have argued that the body is a cultural construct rather than a natural entity This argument is based on the assumption that there is no unalloyed body with any singular signification but there are bodies onto which a multiplicity of meanings are inscribed and enforced The responsibility of this inscription lies with the agencies that hold power in a culture and the infused meanings will consequently facilitate the ideologies of such agencies In other words the bodies of a certain culture are the embodiment of the ideas of those who hold power in that culture The corporality of the body in this sense is a cultural site in which the subtle political ideologies are deftly imposed and accordingly correct and sanctioned desire is expected to germinate Consequently it may be argued that apparently unified or non contradictory bodies of normal desire should be suspected of having subtle hegemonic mechanisms in their formation As a corollary to this an investigation into such abnormal bodies with unnatural desires may have the effect of subverting such a power structure Today s world believes in de stereotyped thinking and stereotyped living Language has already been declared as a means more of camouflage than of revelation As a result there is a need to deconstruct the so called radical representations and expose the undercurrent of the norm Otherization through stereotyping agencies and ideologies motivates racist sexist and other de humanizing positions and perspectives This book which is the outcome of the UGC sponsored National Seminar organised by the Department of English at Southfield College Darjeeling is an endeavour to demystify the politics behind stereotyping and to advocate the justification of de stereotyping As such it represents a significant contribution to numerous disciplines including subaltern studies women and gender studies queer studies and minority discourse National Stereotyping, Identity Politics, European Crises ,2021-05-17 The articulation of collective identity by means of a stereotyped repertoire of exclusionary characterizations of Self and Other is one of the longest standing literary traditions in Europe and as such has become part of a global modernity Recently this discourse of Othering and national stereotyping has gained fresh political virulence as a result of the rise of Identity Politics What is more this newly politicized self other discourse has affected Europe itself as that continent has been weathering a series of economic and political crises in recent years The present volume traces the conjunction between cultural and literary traditions and contemporary ideologies during the crisis of European multilateralism Contributors Aelita Ambrulevičiūtė Jürgen Barkhoff Stefan Berger Zrinka Blažević Daniel Carey Ana María Fraile Wulf Kansteiner Joep Leerssen Hercules Millas Zenonas Norkus Aidan O'Malley Raúl Sánchez Prieto Karelíma Luc Van Doorslaer Ruth Wodak Handbook of Prejudice, Stereotyping, and Discrimination Todd D.

Nelson, 2015-08-20 This Handbook is a comprehensive and scholarly overview of the latest research on prejudice stereotyping and discrimination The Second Edition provides a full update of its highly successful predecessor and features new material on key issues such as political activism economic polarization minority stress same sex marriage laws dehumanization and mental health stigma in addition to a timely update on how victims respond to discrimination and additional coverage of gender and race All chapters are written by eminent researchers who explore topics by presenting an overview of current research and where appropriate developing new theory models or scales The volume is clearly structured with a broad section on cognitive affective and neurological processes and there is inclusion of studies of prejudice based on race sex age sexual orientation and weight A concluding section explores the issues involved in reducing prejudice The Handbook is an essential resource for students instructors and researchers in social and personality psychology and an invaluable reference for academics and professionals in sociology communication studies gerontology nursing medicine as well as government and policymakers and social service agencies Stereotyping as Inductive Hypothesis Testing

Leadership: An Investigation about Leaders' Perception Elena Tecchiati, 2015-02 The objective of this study is to evaluate gender and cultural differences in the perception of male and female leaders in a feedback situation The research is based upon considerations from a literature review in the fields of gender bias and stereotypes previously conducted Subjects from Spain and Germany were asked to evaluate a director male or female in a fictive feedback situation that was described prior to a short questionnaire The questions of the questionnaire were based on previous research and findings of the literature review We tested if previous experience with a woman leader was related to a higher evaluation of the female leader and if there was a relationship between the previous experience with a female leader and the preference to work for a certain leader's gender Results from the study show that gender culture and previous experience with a female leader had no influence on the leader's evaluation. A discussion with possible interpretations of the findings and implication for further research follows. Gender Equality and Stereotyping in Secondary Schools Maria Tsouroufli, Dorottya Rédei, 2021-08-23. This book explores gender stereotyping and gender inequalities in secondary education in England, Hungary, and Italy. The authors highlight the importance of addressing student and teacher attitudes if long-term changes in mindset are desired, as well as the underlying stereotypes that persist and linger in these educational contexts. Promoting a whole-school culture change approach, this book explores views of gender stereotypes from teachers and students concerning subject and career choices, as well as collaborative work with teachers, experts, and NGOs in implementing and evaluating gender equality charters. Drawing on extensive research, this book employs an intersectional and cross-country approach while the authors acknowledge the challenges and opportunities of researching gender equality frameworks across different countries. Ultimately, these link to the UN Sustainable Development goal of gender equality.

Cognitive Processes in Stereotyping and Intergroup Behavior David L. Hamilton, 2015-08-11. Originally published in 1981, this volume brings together contributions by several of the authors whose research had contributed significantly to the recent advances in our understanding of the role of cognitive processes in stereotyping and intergroup behaviour at the time. While each chapter reflects a cognitive approach to its subject matter, a broad range of topics, issues, and contexts is addressed by this collection of authors. In the introductory chapter, the authors present an historical overview of psychological research on stereotyping, discussing historical trends in this literature and summarizing the conceptual orientations which had guided research in this area at the time. This chapter not only provides useful background information for the reader but also presents a broader context within which the current cognitively oriented research on which the remaining chapters focus can be viewed. Each of the next six chapters reports on an integrative program of studies bearing on some aspect of the relationship of cognitive functioning to stereotyping and/or intergroup behaviour.
