

TEN FILM CLASSICS A Re-Viewing

A collage of film stills in a red and black color scheme, featuring various actors and scenes from classic movies. The collage includes a man in a hat, a man with a mustache, a man with glasses, a woman with blonde hair, and a man with a beard. The images are layered and tilted, creating a dynamic and nostalgic feel.

migrated into other media and particularly in his own time to the stage Since then Dickens has continuously apparently inexhaustibly functioned as the wellspring for a robust mini industry sourcing plays films television specials and series operas new novels and even miniature and model villages If in his lifetime he was justly called The Inimitable since his death he has become just the reverse the Infinitely Imitable The essays in this volume all appearing within the past twenty years cover the full spectrum of genres Their major shared claim to attention is their break from earlier mimetic criteria does the film follow the novel to take the new works seriously within their own generic and historical contexts Collectively they reveal an entirely other Dickensian oeuvre which ironically has perhaps made Dickens better known to an audience of non readers than to those who know the books themselves
