Lawrence, 2015-10-13 Stay informed on every aspect of breastfeeding from basic data on the anatomical physiological biochemical nutritional immunological and psychological aspects of human lactation to the problems of clinical management of breastfeeding Learn from the award winning author and co founder of the Academy of Breastfeeding Medicine Dr Ruth Lawrence and her son Dr Rob Lawrence Make appropriate drug recommendations including approved medications over the counter medications and herbal remedies Provide thoughtful guidance to the breastfeeding mother according to her circumstances problems and lifestyle from integrated coverage of evidence based data and practical experience Find what you need quickly with a new streamlined approach Treat conditions associated with breastfeeding and effectively manage the use of medications during lactation thanks to extensive up to date evidence based information Breastfeeding and HIV/AIDS Edith White, 1999-01-01 The spread of the AIDS virus has introduced a new element into the formula versus breastfeeding controversy Mothers particularly those in developing nations have been urged to breastfeed in order to better nourish their infants and protect them from disease or contaminants in the water used to prepare formula Now however mothers and healthcare workers must consider the danger of transmitting AIDS via breastfeeding When HIV infected women nurse their children they significantly increase the risk of transmitting the virus The issue is further complicated in countries where the alternatives are not very promising and in cultures that stigmatize women for even undergoing AIDS testing This informative analysis includes the development of research into HIV and breastfeeding the medical and political questions surrounding the controversy and options and solutions for women to consider in feeding their infants Fully indexed this book is an important contribution to the social and medical studies of one of the most tragic facets of the HIV AIDS epidemic practical pregnancy and birth Irene Bourquin, 2005 Breastfeeding Patricia Stuart-Macadam, 2017-09-29 Breastfeeding is a biocultural phenomenon not only is it a biological process but it is also a culturally determined behavior As such it has important implications for understanding the past present and future condition of our species In general scholars have emphasized either the biological or the cultural aspects of breastfeeding but not both As biological anthropologists the editors of this volume feel that an evolutionary approach combining both aspects is essential One of the goals of their book is to incorporate data from diverse fields to present a more holistic view of breastfeeding through the inclusion of research from a number of different disciplines including biological and social cultural anthropology nutrition and medicine The resulting book presenting the complexity of the issues surrounding very basic decisions about infant nutrition will fill a void in the existing literature on breastfeeding

The Management of Breastfeeding Rebecca F. Black, Leasa Jarman, Jan Simpson, 1998 The Management of Breastfeeding covers the developmental stages of infancy including sensory capabilities and reflexes nutritional needs of the mother infant dyad And The assessment and management of infant and mother health issues related to breastfeeding The exams at the end of Modules 1 2 3 and 4 while still useful in preparing For The IBCLC exam are not eligible for CERPS or Continuing Education credits for registered dietitians or nurses The Lactation Specialist Self Study Series is comprised of four modules Module 1 The Support of Breastfeeding 0 7637 0208 0 Module 2 The Process of Breastfeeding 0 7637 0195 5 Module 3 The Science of Breastfeeding 0 7637 0194 7 Module 4 The Management of Breastfeeding 0 7637 0193 9 the modules may be purchased separately or as a complete set 0 7637 1974 9

Evolution, Early Experience and Human Development Darcia Narváez, 2012-11-29 The field of cognitive psychology has expanded rapidly in recent years with experts in affective and cognitive neuroscience revealing more about mammalian brain function than ever before In contrast psychological problems such as ADHD autism anxiety and depression are on the rise as are medical conditions such as diabetes obesity and autoimmune disorders Why in this era of unprecedented scientific self knowledge does there seem to be so much uncertainty about what human beings need for optimal development Evolution Early Experience and Human Development asserts that human development is being misshaped by government policies social practices and public beliefs that fail to consider basic human needs In this pioneering volume scientists from a range of disciplines theorize that the increase in conditions such as depression and obesity can be partially attributed to a disparity between the environments and conditions under which our mammalian brains currently develop and our evolutionary heritage For example healthy brain and emotional development depends to a significant extent upon caregiver availability and quality of care These include practices such as breastfeeding co sleeping and parental social support which have waned in modern society but nevertheless may be integral to healthy development As the authors argue without a more informed appreciation of the ideal conditions under which human brains minds develop and function human beings will continue to struggle with suboptimal mental and physical health and as problems emerge psychological treatments alone will not be effective The best approach is to recognize these needs at the outset so as to optimize child development Evolution Early Experience and Human Development puts forth a logical empirically based argument regarding human mammalian needs for optimal development based on research from anthropology neurobiology animal science and human development The result is a unique exploration of evolutionary approaches to human behavior that will support the advancement of new policies new attitudes towards health and alterations in childcare practices that will better promote healthy human development FNS,1983
