Kuru, 2019-08-01 Why do Muslim majority countries exhibit high levels of authoritarianism and low levels of socio economic development in comparison to world averages Ahmet T Kuru criticizes explanations which point to Islam as the cause of this disparity because Muslims were philosophically and socio economically more developed than Western Europeans between the ninth and twelfth centuries Nor was Western colonialism the cause Muslims had already suffered political and socio economic problems when colonization began Kuru argues that Muslims had influential thinkers and merchants in their early history when religious orthodoxy and military rule were prevalent in Europe However in the eleventh century an alliance between orthodox Islamic scholars the ulema and military states began to emerge This alliance gradually hindered intellectual and economic creativity by marginalizing intellectual and bourgeois classes in the Muslim world This important study links its historical explanation to contemporary politics by showing that to this day ulema state alliance still prevents creativity and competition in Muslim countries Muslims and the New Media Göran Larsson,2016-04-22 Scholars from an extensive range of academic disciplines have focused on Islam in cyberspace and the media but there are few historical studies that have outlined how Muslim ulama have discussed and debated the introduction and impact of these new media Muslims and the New Media explores how the introduction of the latest information and communication technologies are mirroring changes and developments within society as well as the Middle East s relationship to the West Examining how reformist and conservative Muslim ulama have discussed the printing press photography the broadcasting media radio and television the cinema the telephone and the Internet case studies provide a contextual background to the historical social and cultural situations that have influenced theological discussions focusing on how the ulama have debated the usefulness or dangers of the information and communication media By including both historical and contemporary examples this book exposes historical trajectories as well as different and often contested positions in the Islamic debate about the new media

Synoptic gospels and their interrelationships the Synoptic Problem and especially those defending or contesting the existence of the source Q are increasingly being called upon to justify their position with reference to ancient media practices Still others go so far as to claim that ancient media realities force a radical rethinking of the whole project of Synoptic source criticism and they question whether traditional documentary approaches remain valid at all This debate has been hampered to date by the patchy reception of research on ancient media in Synoptic scholarship Seeking to rectify this problem Alan Kirk here mounts a defense grounded in the practices of memory and manuscript transmission in the Roman world of the Two Document Hypothesis He shows how ancient media memory approaches in fact offer new leverage on classic research problems in scholarship on the Synoptic Gospels and that they have the potential to break the current impasse in the Synoptic Problem The results of his analysis open up new insights to the early reception and scribal transmission of the Jesus tradition and cast new light on some long conflicted questions in Christian origins Code and Clay, Data and Dirt Shannon Mattern, 2017-11-01 For years pundits have trumpeted the earthshattering changes that big data and smart networks will soon bring to our cities But what if cities have long been built for intelligence maybe for millennia In Code and Clay Data and Dirt Shannon Mattern advances the provocative argument that our urban spaces have been smart and mediated for thousands of years Offering powerful new ways of thinking about our cities Code and Clay Data and Dirt goes far beyond the standard historical concepts of origins development revolutions and the accomplishments of an elite few Mattern shows that in their architecture laws street layouts and civic knowledge and through technologies including the telephone telegraph radio printing writing and even the human voice cities have long negotiated a rich exchange between analog and digital code and clay data and dirt ether and ore Mattern s vivid prose takes readers through a historically and geographically broad range of stories scenes and locations synthesizing a new narrative for our urban spaces Taking media archaeology to the city s streets Code and Clay Data and Dirt reveals new ways to write our urban media and cultural histories Read in the Name of Your Lord Nermeen Mouftah, 2024-11-05 Egypt s January 2011 uprising spurred millions to action with a cacophony of demands including the call to address Egypt s education crisis and adult literacy rates Read in the Name of Your Lord traces the push for universal literacy as a project caught between revolutionary activism and Islamic reformism in post Mubarak Egypt Despite their many disagreements religious reformers revolutionaries and state actors converged on literacy as the first step toward realizing aspirations of the revolution They invoked the verse Muslims believe was the first to be revealed Read in the name of your Lord to teach literacy as a religious duty and the foundation for the country s future Nermeen Mouftah unravels how this religiously inspired push for universal literacy was born of twenty first century scripturalism and simultaneously went beyond the Quran to make reading and writing virtuous acts of the liberal state While revolutionary literacy campaigns soon vanished and adult literacy rates remained stubbornly low their efforts revealed the importance of recognizing alternative modes of text processing and the personhood and knowledge of nonliterate people

Read in the Name of Your Lord demonstrates how the rise in modern scripturalism underpinned literacy activism blurring the binary between secular and religious knowledge
