Stella Street And Everything That Happened:

Stella Street Elizabeth Honey,1998 When the Phonies move into Stella Street Henni and her buddies expose some of their criminal practices Stella Street Elizabeth Honey,1998 In the tradition of the great detective novels Henni keeps a journal of the events on Stella Street recounted with a battalion of zany 11 year old truths and insights When the Phonies move into 45 Stella Street the neighborhood is in for a shake up explains Henni Former occupant Auntie Lillie s open door welcome becomes Mr and Mrs Phonies magazine house of swanky new appliances Keep away The Phonies through their attorneys launch an artillery of snottily outrageous litigious letters at the friendly folks at 47 Stella Street complaining about garbage rummaging blocked driveways and a fence for being painted magenta Zev Henni Danielle and Frank feel as ff the sun has stopped shining on Stella Street Then when the kids are called in for questioning over a case of arson at the Phonies the goodies smell a rat and turn into super sleuths Their energetic clue collecting romp which investigates the Phonies new new car a keen interest in satellite soccer games and a foreign receipt for an expensive purchase in francs not Franks uncovers a worldwide money laundering scheme Hot on the scent of Mrs Phonie s putrid perfume the kids wrap up the case with an outlandish disguise and chase scene at the international airport A highly inventive funny whirlwind of a story narrated with great charm by 11 year old Henni Fiddle-back Elizabeth Honey,2000-09-01 Cover title The Oxford Companion to Children's Literature Daniel Hahn,2015-03-26 The last thirty years have witnessed one of the most fertile periods in the history of children s books the flowering of imaginative illustration and writing the Harry Potter phenomenon the rise of young adult and crossover fiction and books that tackle extraordinarily difficult subjects The Oxford Companion to Children s Literature provides an indispensable and fascinating reference guide to the world of children s literature Its 3 500 entries cover every genre from fairy tales to chapbooks school stories to science fiction comics to children s hymns Originally published in 1983 the Companion has been comprehensively revised and updated by Daniel Hahn Over 900 new entries bring the book right up to date A whole generation of new authors and illustrators are showcased with books like Dogger The Hunger Games and Twilight making their first appearance There are articles on developments such as manga fan fiction and non print publishing and there is additional information on prizes and prizewinners This accessible A to Z is the first place to look for information about the authors illustrators printers publishers educationalists and others who have influenced the development of children s literature as well as the stories and characters at their centre Written both to entertain and to instruct the highly acclaimed Oxford Companion to Children s Literature is a reference work that no one interested in the world of children s books should be without Bush, City, Cyberspace John Foster,Ern Finnis,Maureen Nimon,2005-06-01 Aimed at academic professional and general readers Bush city cyberspace provides a snapshot of the state of Australian children s and adolescent literature in the early twenty first century and an insight into its history In doing so it promotes a sense of where Australian literature for young people may be going and captures a literary and critical mood with which readers in Australia and beyond will identify The title of the work is intended to capture the fact that the field has changed dramatically in the century and a half that Australian children's literature has existed from the bush myths and heroism that inform the past and the present through the recognition that the vast majority of authors and readers live in cities to the third wave of cyberliterature that incorporates multimedia hypertext weblinks and e books none of which lessens the enduring enthusiasm of practitioners and readers for books Bush city cyberspace is not meant to be an encyclopedic volume Rather well known recent and or award winning works have been emphasised with the addition of others where these help to illuminate particular points The book is similar in coverage and approach to Australian Children's Literature An Exploration of Genre and Theme written by the same three authors and published by the Centre for Information Studies in 1995 In the intervening period much has changed in the field notable examples including the blurring of the dividing line between quality and popular literature the blending of genres the rise of a truly indigenous literature the demise to a significant extent of Outbackery in fiction the acceptance of multiculturalism as the norm and the advent of the literature of cyberspace with new methods and the sheer speed of communication between writer and reader All these trends and others are reflected in this work

45 + 47 Stella Street and Everything that Happened Elizabeth Honey, 1995-01-01 This is Henni Octon's diary about the amazing things that happened to the kids on her street after the New Next Doors moved in The kids thought they must be spies but the truth was even more amazing Ages 9-12

The Cherry Dress Elizabeth Honey, 1999 When Sally grows too big for the cherry dress it is passed on to Lucy then Maria and then Fiona and when it is all worn out it goes to Fiona's teddy Sally's father takes a photo of Sally Lucy Fiona and Ted to send to Grandma who made the dress for Sally so many years before
