changeable sense of being part of a world In this book Ratcliffe argues that existential feelings form a distinctive group by virtue of three characteristics they are bodily feelings they constitute ways of relating to the world as a whole and they are responsible for our sense of reality He explains how something can be a bodily feeling and at the same time a sense of reality and belonging He then explores the role of altered feeling in psychiatric illness showing how an account of existential feeling can help us to understand experiential changes that occur in a range of conditions including depression circumscribed delusions depersonalisation and schizophrenia The book also addresses the contribution made by existential feelings to religious experience and to philosophical thought A Companion to Phenomenology and Existentialism Hubert L. Dreyfus, Mark A. Wrathall, 2008-04-15 A Companion to Phenomenology and Existentialism is a complete guide to two of the dominant movements of philosophy in the twentieth century Written by a team of leading scholars including Dagfinn Føllesdal, John N. Downcast Eyes Martin Jay, 1993 Long considered the noblest of the senses vision has increasingly come under critical scrutiny by a wide range of thinkers who question its dominance in Western culture These critics of vision especially prominent in twentieth-century France have challenged its allegedly superior capacity to provide access to the world They have also criticized its supposed complicity with political and social oppression through the promulgation of spectacle and surveillance Martin Jay turns to this discourse surrounding vision and explores its often contradictory implications in the work of such influential figures as Jean-Paul Sartre, Maurice Merleau-Ponty, Michel Foucault, Jacques Lacan, Louis Althusser, Guy Debord, Luce Irigaray, Emmanuel Levinas and Jacques Derrida Jay begins with a discussion of the theory of vision from Plato to Descartes then considers its role in the French Enlightenment before turning to its status in the culture of modernity From consideration of French Impressionism to analysis of Georges Bataille and the Surrealists Roland Barthes's writings on photography and the film theory of Christian Metz Jay provides lucid and fair-minded accounts of thinkers and ideas widely known for their difficulty His book examines the myriad links between the interrogation of vision and the pervasive antihumanist, antimodernist and counter-enlightenment tenor of much recent French thought Refusing however to defend the dominant visual order he calls instead for a plurality of scopical regimes Certain to generate controversy and discussion throughout the humanities and social sciences Downcast Eyes will consolidate Jay's reputation as one of today's premier cultural and intellectual historians Neuroproteomics Oscar Alzate, 2009-10-26 In this the post-genomic age our knowledge of biological systems continues to expand and progress As the research becomes more focused so too does the data Genomic research progresses to proteomics and brings us to a deeper understanding of the behavior and function of protein clusters And now proteomics gives way to neuroproteomics as we beg "The" Medical Times and Gazette ,1877 Voices of the Asian American and Pacific Islander Experience Sang Chi,Emily Moberg Robinson,2012-02-13 This unique work presents an extraordinary breadth of contemporary and historical views on Asian America and Pacific Islanders conveyed through the voices of the men and women who lived these experiences over more than 150 years In 1848 the First Wave of Asian immigration arrived in the United States By the first decade of the 21st century Asian Americans were the nation s fastest growing racial group Through a far ranging array of primary source documents Voices of the Asian American and Pacific Islander Experience shares what it was like for these diverse peoples to live and work in the United States for better and for worse Organized chronologically by ethnicity the book covers a panoply of ethnic groups including recent Asian immigrants and mixed race mixed heritage Asian Americans There is also a topical section that showcases views on everything from politics to class to gender dynamics underscoring that the Asian American population is not nor has it ever been monolithic In choosing material the editors strove to make the volume as comprehensive as possible Thus readers will discover documents written by transnational adopted and homosexual Asian Americans as well as documents written from particular religious positions The Gentleman's Magazine ,1801
