Telling The Truth The Theory And Practice Of Documentary Fiction:

Telling the Truth Barbara C. Foley, 2018-03-15 Barbara Foley here focuses on the relatively neglected genre of documentary fiction novels that are continually near the borderline between factual and fictive discourse. She links the development of the genre over three centuries to the evolution of capitalism but her analyses of literary texts depart significantly from those of most current Marxist critics. Foley maintains that Marxist theory has yet to produce a satisfactory theory of mimesis or of the development of genres and she addresses such key issues as the problem of reference and the nature of generic distinctions. Among the authors whom Foley treats are Defoe, Scott, George Eliot, Joyce, Isherwood, Dos Passos, William Wells Brown, Ishmael Reed, and Ernest Gaines.

The Boundaries of Fiction Everett Zimmerman, 1996 Focusing on canonical works by Daniel Defoe, Henry Fielding, Laurence Sterne, and others, this book explains the relationship between British fiction and historical writing when both were struggling to attain status and authority. History was at once powerful and vulnerable in the empiricist climate of seventeenth and eighteenth century England, suspect because of its reliance on testimony yet essential if empiricism were ever to move beyond natural philosophy. The Boundaries of Fiction shows how in this time of historiographical instability the British novel exploited analogies to history. Titles incorporating the term history, pseudo editors presenting pseudo documentary evidence, and narrative theorizing about historical truth were some of the means used to distinguish novels from the fictions of poetry and other literary forms. These efforts, Everett Zimmerman maintains, amounted to a critique of history's limits and pointed to the novel's power to transcend them. He offers rich analyses of texts central to the tradition of the novel, chiefly Clarissa, Tom Jones, and Tristram Shandy, and concludes with discussions of Sir Walter Scott's development of the historical novel and David Hume's philosophy of history. Along the way, Zimmerman refers to such other important historical figures as John Locke, Richard Bentley, William Wotton, and Edward Gibbon, and engages contemporary thinkers including Paul Ricoeur and Michel Foucault, who have addressed the philosophical and methodological issues of historical evidence and narrative.

Mary Lee Settle's Beulah Quintet Brian C. Rosenberg, 1991-10-01 In the mid 1950s when Mary Lee Settle published The Love Eaters and The Kiss of Kin, critics hailed her as a sharp and acidic writer. However, when in subsequent novels the focus of her work shifted from contemporary social realism to historical fiction, the same critics who previously had praised her work lost enthusiasm. In Mary Lee Settle's Beulah Quintet: The Price of Freedom, Brian Rosenberg examines Settle's work, especially Prisons, O Beulah Land, Know Nothing, The Scapegoat, and The Killing Ground, to show the magnitude and artistic merit in a single continuous fiction, a fiction of major importance. According to Rosenberg, the Beulah quintet is one of the few grandly ambitious works of historical fiction written by an American woman. In the novels, Settle attempts to apply a European tradition of historical recreation to American experience and in so doing to adapt a largely conservative form to the demands of a revolutionary history and ideology.

Although the immediate subject is the history of a region in West Virginia the deeper subject is nothing less than the history of America the beliefs conflicts and illusions that gave rise to and continue to distinguish American culture Rosenberg also treats the reaction to the Beulah quintet among literary critics He looks at the neglect and misjudgment the novels have suffered by being labeled historical fiction a genre often thought to consist largely of romance novels and explains why the quintet should be placed among the canonical works of contemporary American literature Rosenberg includes in his book the transcript of an interview he conducted with Settle in which she reflects on both her intentions as a writer and the reception of her work Mary Lee Settle's fiction has for too long been misperceived Brian Rosenberg's thorough analysis of the Beulah quintet will allow a larger audience to understand the nature and scope of her achievement A Companion to the Modern American Novel, 1900 - 1950 John T. Matthews, 2013-06-10 This cutting edge Companion is a comprehensive resource for the study of the modern American novel Published at a time when literary modernism is being thoroughly reassessed it reflects current investigations into the origins and character of the movement as a whole Brings together 28 original essays from leading scholars Allows readers to orient individual works and authors in their principal cultural and social contexts Contributes to efforts to recover minority voices such as those of African American novelists and popular subgenres such as detective fiction Directs students to major relevant scholarship for further inquiry Suggests the many ways that modern American and fiction carry new meanings in the twenty first century The Routledge Companion to American Literary Journalism William Dow, Roberta Maguire, 2019-11-13 Taking a thematic approach this new companion provides an interdisciplinary cross cultural and international study of American literary journalism From the work of Frederick Douglass and Walt Whitman to that of Joan Didion and Dorothy Parker literary journalism is a genre that both reveals and shapes American history and identity This volume not only calls attention to literary journalism as a distinctive genre but also provides a critical foundation for future scholarship It brings together cutting edge research from literary journalism scholars examining historical perspectives themes venues and genres across time theoretical approaches and disciplinary intersections and new directions for scholarly inquiry Provoking reconsideration and inquiry while providing new historical interpretations this companion recognizes interacts with and honors the tradition and legacies of American literary journalism scholarship Engaging the work of disciplines such as sociology anthropology African American studies gender studies visual studies media studies and American studies in addition to journalism and literary studies this book is perfect for students and scholars of those disciplines Life Narratives, Creativity, and the Social in the Americas Wilfried Raussert, Susana Rocha Teixeira, 2024-12-02 Resorting to life narratives as a comprehensive umbrella term and embracing hemispheric American studies paradigms this edited volume explores the interrelations between life narratives the social world creativity and different forms of media to narrate and re present the self to see in which way these expressions offer new means of self representation within cultural productions from the Americas Creativity in the context of life narratives nourishes the act of narrating and propels among others the desire to link individual life stories with larger stories of social embeddedness conditioning and transformation thus pushing new forms of historiography and other forms of nonfictional writing Accordingly the creative impulse fuses individual and collective experience with a larger understanding of the social including the latter's local and global embeddedness The contributions in this volume analyze the ways in which the dynamics tensions and reciprocities between narrative creativity and the social world unfold in life narratives from the Americas In particular this volume addresses scholars and students of life writing cultural and literary studies gender disability and postcolonial studies with new insights into life narratives from the Americas Fact - Fiction - "faction" Horst Zander,1999

The Awakening of Modern Japanese Fiction Michihiro Ama,2021-02-01 The Awakening of Modern Japanese Fiction is the first book to treat the literary practices of certain major modern Japanese writers as Buddhist practices and to read their work as Buddhist literature Its distinctive contribution is its focus on modern literature and importantly modern Buddhism which Michihiro Ama presents both as existing in continuity with the historical Buddhist tradition and as having unique features of its own Ama corrects the dominant perception in which the Christian practice of confession has been accepted as the primary informing source of modern Japanese prose literature arguing instead that the practice has always been a part of Shin Buddhist culture Focusing on personal fiction this volume explores the works of literary figures and Buddhist priests who challenged by the modern development of Japan turned to Buddhism in a variety of ways and used literature as a vehicle for transforming their sense of selfhood Writers discussed include Natsume S seki Tayama Katai Shiga Naoya Kiyozawa Manshi and Akegarasu Haya By bringing Buddhism out of the shadows of early twentieth century Japanese literature and elucidating its presence in both individual authors lives and the genre of autobiographical fiction The Awakening of Modern Japanese Fiction demonstrates a more nuanced understanding of the role of Buddhism in the development of Japanese modernity Narrative Factuality Monika Fludernik,Marie-Laure Ryan,2019-12-16 The study of narrative the object of the rapidly growing discipline of narratology has been traditionally concerned with the fictional narratives of literature such as novels or short stories But narrative is a transdisciplinary and transmedial concept whose manifestations encompass both the fictional and the factual In this volume which provides a companion piece to Tobias Klauk and Tilmann K ppe s Fiktionalit t Ein interdisziplin res Handbuch the use of narrative to convey true and reliable information is systematically explored across media cultures and disciplines as well as in its narratological stylistic philosophical and rhetorical dimensions At a time when the notion of truth has come under attack it is imperative to reaffirm the commitment to facts of certain types of narrative and to examine critically the foundations of this commitment But because it takes a background for a figure to emerge clearly this book will also explore nonfactual types of narratives thereby providing insights into the nature of narrative fiction that could not be reached from the narrowly literary perspective of early narratology

Dialogues on Cultural Studies Arif Dirlik, 2002 A collection of interviews with some of North

America's foremost cultural critics and theorists including Frederic Jameson, J. Hillis Miller, Hayden White etc. Covers topics such as culture, ideology, history, modernity, post-modernity, post-colonialism, globalisation, the role of the university and the role of the intellectual in today's society. Some of the contributions are essays, others are responses to questions and some take up all the subjects and some only focus on one subject. Includes a discussion about how cultural studies will help developing nations on the periphery of cultural studies such as China to look to the future. Modernism/Postmodernism Peter Brooker, 2014-09-25. The concepts of Modernism and Postmodernism constitute the single most dominant issue of twentieth century literature and culture and are the cause of much debate. In this influential volume Peter Brooker presents some of the key viewpoints from a variety of major critics and sets these additionally alongside challenging arguments from Third World, Black and Feminist perspectives. His excellent Introduction and detailed headnotes for each section and essay provide an indispensable guide to interpreting the many different opinions and prove to be valuable contributions in their own right. A Companion to Narrative Theory James Phelan, Peter J. Rabinowitz, 2008-04-15. The 35 original essays in A Companion to Narrative Theory constitute the best available introduction to this vital and contested field of humanistic enquiry. Comprises 35 original essays written by leading figures in the field. Includes contributions from pioneers in the field such as Wayne C. Booth, Seymour Chatman, J. Hillis Miller and Gerald Prince. Represents all the major critical approaches to narrative and investigates and debates the relations between them. Considers narratives in different disciplines such as law and medicine. Features analyses of a variety of media including film, music and painting. Designed to be of interest to specialists yet accessible to readers with little prior knowledge of the field. Subjectivity in the American Protest Novel K. Drake, 2011-04-11. In the first major study of the twentieth century American protest novel, Drake examines a group of authors who self-consciously exploited the revolutionary potential of the novel, transforming literary conventions concerning art and politics, readers and characters. Real Life Writings in American Literary Journalism: a Narratological Study Gurpreet Kaur, 2015-07-24. This referential collection of essays is an important guide to the emergence and development of literary journalism through the centuries. The book begins with the defining of genres: literature and journalism, which blur the lines between them. It also gives an insight into the theories of narratology. Some practitioners included in this book are great American writers like John Hersey, Truman Capote, Norman Mailer and Don DeLillo. These literary journalists bring to life both major as well as trivial issues of the society. New journalists coalesce all the fictional techniques with the journalistic methods to present a unique and sophisticated style which requires extensive research and even more careful reporting than done in the typical news articles. The book closes with the concluding thoughts followed by a list of works cited. Truthful Fictions: Conversations with American Biographical Novelists Michael Lackey, 2014-02-27. In this new collection of interviews, some of America's most prominent novelists identify the key intellectual developments that led to the rise of the contemporary biographical novel, discuss the kind of historical truth this novel communicates, indicate

why this narrative form is superior to the traditional historical novel and reflect on the ideas and characters central to their individual works These interviews do more than just define an innovative genre of contemporary fiction They provide a precise way of understanding the complicated relationship and pregnant tensions between contextualized thinking and historical representation interdisciplinary studies and truth production and fictional reality and factual constructions By focusing on classical and contemporary debates regarding the nature of the historical novel this volume charts the forces that gave birth to a new incarnation of this genre
