Race: My Story & Humanity's Bottom Line Lauren Joichin Nile, 2014-01-20 Lauren Joichin Nile introduces what she believes is humanity s racial bottom line with a compelling account of her personal experiences growing up in 1950 s and 60 s segregated New Orleans In so doing she posits what she believes is humanity s universal racial story Lauren explains how starting out from Southern Africa fully formed human beings over thousands of years walked out of Africa populated the entire rest of Planet Earth and over 2 000 generations physically adapted to their new environments gradually taking on the appearance of the many races of modern day humanity making all of us literally one biologically related human family She then provides an abbreviated account of some of the most significant events of humanity's racial history and an explanation of how that history has affected the American racial present. She also analyzes a number of controversial topics including whether there are truly superior and inferior races. Finally, Lauren shares what she believes are the specific actions that humanity must take in order to heal from our wretched racial past, realize that across the planet we all truly can love one another, and as a species walk into a wiser, more empathetic, compassionate human future. Lauren Joichin Nile is an author, keynote speaker, trainer, and licensed attorney who specializes in assisting organizations in increasing their emotional intelligence, compassion, and productivity. The goal of her work with organizations is to help create environments in which understanding and kindness are valued, and as a result, every person is equally welcomed and uniformly appreciated, irrespective of all demographic differences. The goal of Lauren's speaking and training in the greater society is to help the human species grow in both wisdom and compassion.

A Life in Short Stories Skip Johnson, 2024-12-20. This little book is a series of personal vignettes by award-winning author/journalist Skip Johnson that are just plain down fun to read, like how his fiancée introduced him to her best friend whom a year later he married, or how he joined a venerable local charity's board and two months later found himself president and only member of the board, a board that was 50,000 in debt with no idea how to pay it, and it was up to him and him alone to fix things, or how he very accidentally single-handedly captured an armed and dangerous bank robber, or how some very bad decisions early in his life led him into a thirty-year career as a newspaper reporter, columnist, and editor. Some of these stories are light, some are serious, some are tear-jerkers, some are important, and some are just intriguing. Some deal with events related to his life as a journalist, and others with family and other facets of life. But all of them, you will agree, are readable. But once you read them, beware! They very well may make you want to write your own book of personal vignettes, and you probably should. Don't you wish your grandparents had?

Transforming Lives Alexander Rödlach, 2020-07-23. Faith community nursing and health ministry programs in congregations have increasingly been recognized as having a significant impact on the health and well-being of individuals. Based on a case study in Omaha, Nebraska, Transforming Lives: Health Initiatives in Faith Communities documents how nurses and health ministers touch and transform the recipients of their services, and the participants in activities they organize. Alexander Rödlach argues that much of their success is due to their ability to collaborate with leadership in congregations and health systems. These programs have the potential to become significant partners with health systems and governments in providing health services to communities.

Narrating the Storm Kristen Barber, Danielle A. Hidalgo, 2009-03-26. For those interested in learning more about the personal impact of Hurricane Katrina and its aftermath, Narrating the Storm serves as an essential read. This important and timeless volume is a compilation of sixteen narratives that address the experiences of Gulf Coast residents, faculty, and graduate students who were caught up in the largest, not-so-natural disaster in United States history. Each contributor deploys storytelling sociology as a methodological approach in order to illustrate how personal experiences with disaster are not so personal but rather reflect and are informed by larger social phenomena related to issues including race class gender age bureaucracy risk collective memory the blas and more The narratives in this volume exemplify how inequality and injustice are unveiled exacerbated and created by the occurrence of disaster and reveal the sociological in everyday and not so everyday experiences Unmoored Yet Unbroken Susan Bodnar, Chrystal L.
