Smith, 2018-11-23 This sequel to A Life of Experimental

Economics Volume I continues the intimate history of Vernon Smith's personal and professional maturation after a dozen years at Purdue. The scene now shifts to twenty six transformative years at the University of Arizona then to George Mason University and his recognition by the Nobel Prize Committee in 2002. The book ends with his most recent decade at Chapman University. At Arizona, Vernon and his students studied asset trading markets and learned how wrong it had been to suppose that price bubbles could not occur where markets were full information transparent. Their work in computerization of the lab facilitated very complex supply and demand experiments in natural gas pipeline communication and electricity markets that paved the way for implementing through decentralized market processes the liberalization of industries traditionally believed to be natural monopolies. The Smart Computer Assisted Market was born. Smith's move to George Mason University greatly facilitated government and industry work in tandem with various public and private entities whereas his relocation to Chapman University coincided with the Great Recession whose similarity with the Depression was evident in his research. There he integrated two fundamental kinds of markets with laboratory experiments: Consumer non durables the supply and demand for which was stable in the lab and in the economy and durable assets whose bubble tendencies made them unstable in the lab as well as in the economy witness the great housing mortgage market bubble run up of 1997-2007. This book's conversational style and emphasis on the backstory of published research accomplishments allows readers an exclusive peak into how and why economists pursue their work. It's a must read for those interested in experimental economics, the housing crisis and economic history.

Cruel Deception Gregg Olsen, 2007-04-01 Gregg Olsen tells the whole shocking story of this true crime in Cruel Deception. In and out of hospitals since birth, angelic nine month old Morgan Reid finally succumbed to what appeared to be Sudden Infant Death Syndrome. Morgan's Texas born mother Tanya, a nurse and devoted wife, pulled up stakes with her grieving husband Jim and moved on. It was the best way to put the past behind them. Until their son Michael, a boy who by all accounts was terrified of his mother, began showing signs of the same affliction that stole the life of his baby sister. First the suspicion Munchausen Syndrome by Proxy. Then Tanya was charged and convicted with felony child abuse of her son. She was later tried and ultimately convicted for first degree murder of Morgan. It would become a landmark trial that unfolded in a series of reversals and bizarre twists of fate as it gradually revealed another side of Tanya Reid, of her own troubling childhood and the dark secrets that drove a woman to the cruelest deception of all.

A True Crime Collection Gregg Olsen, 2016-03-29 Master true crime writer Gregg Olsen's has been hailed by Ann Rule as searing and brilliant and this collection featuring three of his most shocking cases shows why. Abandoned Prayers: Eli Stutzman, the son of an Amish bishop, was by all appearances a dedicated farmer and family man in the country's strictest religious sect. But behind his quiet facade was a man involved with pornography, sadomasochism and drugs. After the suspicious death of his pregnant wife, Stutzman took his preschool age son Danny and hit the road on a sexual odyssey ending with his conviction for murder. But the mystery of Eli Stutzman and the fate of his son didn't end on the barren Nebraska plains. It was just beginning. A Twisted
