Frank O. Büttner

The Illuminated Psalter:

The Illuminated Psalter Frank O. Büttner, 2004 The 150 Psalms of the Old Testament were the most important work of devotional literature in the Middle Ages The Book of Psalms came to be transmitted not only as part of the Bible but also in the form of the psalter as a text in its own right The psalter came to be illustrated often profusely as an aid to devotion at an early stage in its history and it was a book which was frequently found in the possession of lay people This volume brings together 28 contributions dealing with the 800 years between the mid eighth and mid sixteenth centuries a period in which the psalter was increasingly owned and used by the laity in the form of richly illuminated manuscripts As early as the Carolingian period the illumination of psalters went beyond a mere textual illustration and developed a narrative iconography with biblical or hagiographical content and it was largely this autonomous iconography which connected the Old Testament texts with the tenets of the Christian faith Also the frequent scenes or cycles of King David do not present illustrations of the psalms but rather of events told elsewhere in the Old Testament Renderings of individual Christian believers can also be found from the Carolingian period onwards and represent some of the most original achievements of fifteenth and early sixteenth century psalter illumination This book includes an index of psalter references a topographical list 460 illustrations and a register of some 800 manuscripts

"Gender, Piety, and Production in Fourteenth-Century English Apocalypse Manuscripts " Renana Bartal, 2017-07-05
Gender Piety and Production in Fourteenth Century English Apocalypse Manuscripts is the first in depth study of three textually and iconographically diverse Apocalypses illustrated in England in the first half of the fourteenth century by a single group of artists It offers a close look at a group of illuminators previously on the fringe of art historical scholarship challenging the commonly held perception of them as mere craftsmen at a time when both audiences and methods of production were becoming increasingly varied Analyzing the manuscripts codicological features visual and textual programmes and social contexts it explores the mechanisms of a fourteenth century commercial workshop and traces the customization of these books of the same genre to the needs and expectations of varied readers revealing the crucial influence of their female audience The book will be of interest to scholars and students of English medieval art medieval manuscripts and the medieval Apocalypse as well as medievalists interested in late medieval spirituality and theology medieval religious and intellectual culture book patronage and ownership and female patronage and ownership Cross and Culture in Anglo-Norman England John Munns, 2016 An examination of the passion and crucifixion of Christ as depicted in the visual and religious culture of Anglo Norman England The twelfth century has long been recognised as a period of unusual vibrancy and importance witnessing seminal changes in the inter related spheres of theology devotional practice and iconography especially with regard to the cross and the crucifixion of Christ However the visual arts of the period have been somewhat neglected scholarly activity tending to concentrate on its textual and intellectual heritage This book explores this extraordinarily rich and vibrant visual and religious culture offering new and exciting insights into its significance and studying the dynamic relationships between ideas and images in England between 1066 and the first decades of the thirteenth century In addition to providing the first extensive survey of surviving Passion imagery from the period it explores those images contexts intellectual cultural religious and art historical It thus not only enhances our understanding of the place of the cross in Anglo Norman culture it also demonstrates how new image theories and patterns of agency shaped the life of the later medieval church John Munns is a Fellow of Magdalene College Cambridge The New Cambridge History

Negotiating Secular and Sacred in Medieval Art Amanda Luyster, 2017-07-05 Offering original analysis of the convergence between sacred and secular in medieval works of art and architecture this collection explores both the usefulness and limitations of these terms for describing medieval attitudes The modern concepts of sacred and secular are shown to be effective as scholarly tools but also to risk imposing false dichotomies The authors consider medieval material culture from a broad perspective addressing works of art and architecture from England to Japan and from the seventh to the fifteenth century Although the essays take a variety of methodological approaches they are unified in their emphasis on the continuing and necessary dialectic between sacred and secular The contributors consciously frame their interpretations in terms and perspectives derived from the Middle Ages thereby demonstrating how the present art historical terminology and conceptual frameworks can obscure the complexity of medieval life and material culture The resonance among essays opens possibilities for productive cross cultural study of an issue that is relevant to a diversity of cultures and sub periods Introducing an innovative approach to the literature of the field this volume complicates and enriches our understanding of social realities across a broad spectrum of medieval worlds

The Culture of Medieval English Monasticism James G. Clark, 2007 Examinations of the culture artistic material musical of English monasteries in the six centuries between the Conquest and the Dissolution The cultural remains of England's abbeys and priories have always attracted scholarly attention but too often they have been studied in isolation appreciated only for their artistic codicological or intellectual features and not for the insights they offer into the patterns of life and thought the underlying norms values and mentalities of the communities of men and women which made them Indeed the distinguished monastic historian David Knowles doubted there would ever be sufficient evidence to recover the mentality of the ordinary cloister monk These twelve essays challenge this view They exploit newly catalogued and newly discovered evidence manuscript books wall paintings and even the traces of original monastic music to recover the cultural dynamics of a cross section of male and female communities It is often claimed that over time the cultural traditions of the monasteries were suffocated by secular trends but here it is suggested that many houses remained a major cultural force even on the verge of the Reformation James G Clark is Professor of History at the University of Exeter Contributors DAVID BELL ROGER BOWERS JAMES CLARK BARRIE COLLETT MARY ERLER G R EVANS MIRIAM GILL JOAN GREATREX JULIAN HASELDINE J D NORTH ALAN PIPER AND R M THOMSON
