The Essential Films of Ingrid Bergman Constantine Santas, James M. Wilson, 2018-09-15 Ingrid Bergman was not only an incomparable beauty but one of the finest actresses of cinema's Golden Age She made her start in modest productions in Sweden before Hollywood beckoned and soon became one of film's brightest stars She appeared in many acclaimed films including Casablanca For Whom the Bell Tolls and Gaslight While her personal life was briefly tainted by an affair and a consequent falling out with the American public Bergman was eventually able to return to Hollywood and eventually earned two of her three Academy Awards In The Essential Films of Ingrid Bergman Constantine Santas and James Wilson look at the most notable performances of the award-winning actress's career From her early work in Swedish films to her final role in the mini-series A Woman Called Golda this book analyzes the entirety of Bergman's on-screen career paying special attention to those aspects of her acting that made her stand out most her undeniable range of emotion her stunning vulnerability and her indisputable beauty Among the films discussed in this volume are Casablanca Gaslight Spellbound The Bells of St Mary's Notorious Indiscreet and Murder on the Orient Express This volume looks at each of Bergman's most significant films covering nearly five decades of film-making from Swedish productions to her final films Each entry provides production history plot summaries film highlights and major award details Highlighting more than twenty productions The Essential Films of Ingrid Bergman is a must-have for every fan of the legendary actress

Runaway Hollywood Daniel Steinhart, 2019-01-22 After World War II as cultural and industry changes were reshaping Hollywood movie studios shifted some production activities overseas capitalizing on frozen foreign earnings cheap labor and appealing locations Hollywood unions called the phenomenon runaway production to underscore the outsourcing of employment opportunities Examining this period of transition from the late 1940s to the early 1960s Runaway Hollywood shows how film companies exported production around the world and the effect this conversion had on industry practices and visual style In this fascinating account Daniel Steinhart uses an array of historical materials to trace the industry's creation of a more international production operation that merged filmmaking practices from Hollywood and abroad to produce movies with a greater global scope

Movie-Made Appalachia John C. Inscoe, 2020-11-24 While Hollywood deserves its reputation for much maligned portrayals of southern highlanders on screen the film industry also deserves credit for a long-standing tradition of more serious and meaningful depictions of Appalachia's people Surveying some two dozen films and the literary and historical sources from which they were adapted John C. Inscoe argues that in the American imagination Appalachia has long represented far more than deprived and depraved hillbillies Rather the films he highlights serve as effective conduits into the region's past some grounded firmly in documented realities and life stories others only loosely so In either case they deserve more credit than they have received for creating sympathetic and often complex characters who interact within families households and communities amidst a wide array of historical contingencies They provide credible and informative narratives that respect the specifics of the times and places in which they are set Having used many of these movies as teaching tools in college classrooms Inscio demonstrates the cumulative effect of analyzing them in terms of shared themes and topics to convey far more generous insights into Appalachia and its history than one would have expected to emerge from southern California's dream factory

What Will A Man Give In Exchange For His Soul? George D. Johnson, 2011-10-26 George D Johnson's What Will A Man Give In Exchange For His Soul is an extensive study of men and women who gave their lives to Christ for the sake of others Men have exchanged their souls for much power wealth and success When the envious Pharisees asked Christ which was the greatest commandment in the law in essence he told them that loving God and their fellow man are the only two laws for which men can exchange their souls Anything apart from this means they will fall short of God's expectations And Johnson's sophisticated treatise illustrates this fact     Fearing the Dark Edmund G. Bansak, 2003-10-09 Cat People 1942 and I Walked with a Zombie 1943 established Val Lewton's hauntingly graceful style where suggestion was often used in place of explicit violence. His stylish B thrillers were imitated by a generation of filmmakers such as Richard Wallace, William Castle, and even Walt Disney in his animated Adventures of Ichabod and Mr Toad 1949. Through interviews with many of Lewton's associates, including his wife and son, and extensive research, his life and output are thoroughly examined.
