Smith,1998-09-30 This addition to the Luftwaffe at War Series is a fully illustrated guide to the formative years of the Ju 87 dive bomber which dominated the opening campaigns of World War II Stuka Volume Two Peter C. Smith,Professor of Health Policy Imperial College Business School & Institute for Global Health Peter C Smith,2008-01-24 During the first phase of World War II the German forces advancing on all fronts the Ju87 Stuka had been an essential element in the Luftwaffe's armory attack However from mid 1943 as the War dragged on the Stuka began incurring heavy losses Dunkirk Warsaw Rotterdam and other early victories became distant memories as severe reversals came about in the East Wherever possible and often against overwhelming resources the Stukas supported the retreating German armies by conducting not just precision dive bombing missions but low level ground attack operations against enemy transport targets gun positions and ships This second and concluding volume in this series examines the role of the Stuka during these years of retreat Aspects of the Stuka's role which the book recounts includes the attacks against the Malta convoys the retreat in North Africa the war over the Arctic the Russian campaign including the battle for Stalingrad and the collapse of the Eastern front This volume contains an impressive selection of historic photos color artworks and first hand accounts from those who flew the aircraft Combat Biplanes of World War II Peter C. Smith,2015-09-30 Aviation and maritime historian Peter C Smith reveals how both Allied and Axis powers used World War I era aircraft in Combat Biplanes of World War II The era of the combat biplane is usually thought to have been between 1914 and 1938 By the outbreak of World War II most of the advanced air forces of the world had moved on to monoplane aircraft for their front line battle forces both in bomber and fighter capacities Yet despite this many biplanes did still survive both in front line service and in numerous subsidiary roles and not just as training machines but as fully operational warplanes Thus in 1939 the majority of major European powers still retained some albeit few biplane aircraft Great Britain had the bulk of such obsolescent machines including the Gladiator Swordfish Walrus Vildebeeste and Audax while the inferior Albacore meant to replace the Swordfish had yet to enter service Germany still managed to conduct missions in which biplanes like the He 50 He 51 and Hs 120 excelled Both France and Italy had active biplanes Mussolini's Regia Aeronautica attaching great importance to the type as a fighter aircraft as late as 1941 while the Soviet Union also retained some machines like the Po 2 in front line service right through the war and beyond By the time Japan and the United States entered the war two years later they had mainly rid themselves of biplanes but even here a few specialized types lingered on Combat Biplanes of World War II describes many of these gallant old warriors representing the author's own personal selection from a surprisingly large range of aircraft that despite all predictions fought hard and well

Air War on the Eastern Front Mike Guardia, 2020-10-28 A pictorial history of Nazi Germany's entire air campaign against the Soviet Union on the Eastern Front in World War II The Red Air Force versus the Luftwaffe in the skies over Eastern Europe June 1941 Having conquered most of Western Europe Adolf Hitler turned his attention to the vast Soviet Union Disregarding his Non Aggression Pact with Joseph Stalin Hitler launched Operation Barbarossa a full scale invasion of the Soviet homeland aimed squarely at Moscow In the skies over Russia the battle hardened airmen of the Luftwaffe made short work of the Red Air Force during opening days of Barbarossa To make matters worse Stalin had executed many of his best pilots during the perennial purges of the 1930s Thus much of the Red Air Force was destroyed on the ground before meeting the Luftwaffe in the skies By 1944 however the Soviet airmen had regained the initiative and fervently wrested air superiority from the now ailing Axis Powers Will be of great interest to both modelers and aircraft historians alike AMPS Indianapolis This slim survey provides a quick convenient intro to the deadly totalitarian duel Make it a launchpad to further study of Eastern Front air combat in WWII Cybermodeler The prose is smooth and provides a top level look at WWII German and Soviet air warfare Historical Miniatures Gaming Society

Children's Propaganda Games of the Second World War Nicholas Milton, 2024-07-31

From puzzles and cards to pinball and die games, find out about the children's games produced as propaganda during World War II. During the Second World War, hundreds of games were manufactured by the British, Germans, and Americans aimed at children. Despite being cheaply made due to the wartime economy, the games were often fun to play and challenging to win. They also had considerable propaganda value, helping to manipulate children into supporting the war. To get their attention, many of the games incorporated dramatic artwork and were based on real wartime events, from the evacuation of children in 1939 to the dropping of the atomic bomb in 1945. This book features a large selection of different games produced by the British, Germans, and Americans and tells the stories behind their wartime propaganda. The Nazis, in particular, prided themselves on producing games which promoted and glamourised war, exploiting children's patriotism and pride in German conquests. Some of their most insidious games included Juden Raus (Jews Out) and Bomber über England (Bomber over England). However, the British and Americans also produced unethical games like Target for Tonight, which promoted the carpet bombing of Germany, and Atomic Bomb, a dexterity puzzle about the nuclear bombing of Japan. The games featured in this book include roll and move games with a board and die, pinball and similar shooting games, dexterity, and other puzzles and card games. They were made out of paper, card, wood, rubber, bakelite, plastic, and initially metal. Remarkably, despite wartime restrictions, games were manufactured throughout the conflict to meet the demand from boys and girls as they closely followed the changing fortunes of the war. Today, many of the games have become scarce, so for collectors, a guide to their value and rarity is included A War Without Ground MICHAEL CANN,2018-05-10 Fly high above the clouds sail deep down to the ocean bottom and see how a nation demilitarized begins to achieve world dominance from above and below without a need to keep their boots on the ground Aircraft of World War II Aaron R. their opponents were steadily extracted from northern Italy and the Balkans for the final defense of the central European homeland The book commences with coverage of the final fierce air sea battles over the Aegean that preceded the advance northward to Rome and the ill conceived British attempt to secure the Dodecanese islands following the armistice with Italy The authors also deal fully and comprehensively with the advance northward following the occupation of Rome and the departure of forces to support the invasion of France from the Riviera coast coupled with the formation of a new Balkan Air Force in eastern Italy to pursue the German armies withdrawing from Yugoslavia and take possession of newly freed Greece The effect of the creation within the same area of the US and RAF strategic forces to join the Allied Combined Bombing Offensive is also discussed Includes photographs Reflects the scope of a remarkable research effort and provides valuable detail that the reader is not going to find between two covers elsewhere The NYMAS Review Guerrilla Nightmare Lovro Persen, Mario Raguz, 2018-06 STUKA The very name is synonymous with the screaming sirens and the crump of heavy bombs For the lightly armed Partisan forces it meant despair defeat and in a lot of cases death For the five long years Stuka units in the Balkan theater have come and gone depending on the Axis war fortunes They did not have permanent base as was the case with NSGR 7 for example but the bomb loads that the Ju 87 carried and the precision to deliver them was the winning combination In all major military operations in Yugoslavia against Tito's forces Stuka was an element which was always included in Commander's plans In September 1943 it was Stukas who spearheaded the defeat of the Italian forces since German land forces were few in numbers Until the last day of WW II in Yugoslavia Stuka was on the first line of fire even against a strong foe such as the Red Army
