Fanon Jinadu, 2021-12-24 First published in 1986 Fanon In Search of the African Revolution is different from other books on Fanon in that it approaches him as both a political philosopher and political sociologist of the African experience It suggests that Fanon's political writings be viewed in terms of his concern with how relations are structured in colonial and post colonial Africa and the implications of those structural arrangements for political conflict in Africa Fanon's attempt to explain the pathologies and contradictions of African politics in terms of class and the historical processes that influence and constrain class political behavior is provocative and insightful But the moral dimension that informs Fanon's theoretical perspectives is no less important if only because it attests to his strong advocacy of the need for revolutionary change as a condition for the restructuring of African political systems

The Value of Disorder Julien Brachet, Judith Scheele, 2019-05-09 Based on long term research in northern Chad this book provides a unique account of mobility wealth and aspirations to political autonomy at the heart of the contemporary Sahara

Translocality, 2010-01-25 This volume discusses globalising processes from the perspective of the humanities and social sciences It focuses on the global south notably the Middle East Asia and Africa Densely researched case studies examine a variety of approaches for their potential to understand connecting processes on different scales The studies seek to overcome the main traps of the globalisation paradigm such as its occidental bias its notion of linear expansion its simplifying dichotomy between local and global and an often found lack of historical depth They elaborate the asymmetries mobilities opportunities and barriers involved in globalising processes Their new perspective on these processes is captured by the concept of translocality which aims at integrating a variety of theoretical and methodological approaches from different disciplines hinterland over three centuries      Decolonization, Self-Determination, and the Rise of Global Human Rights Politics A. Dirk Moses, Marco Duranti, Roland Burke, 2020-07-16 This volume presents the first global history of human rights politics in the age of decolonization The conflict between independence movements and colonial powers shaped the global human rights order that emerged after the Second World War It was also critical to the genesis of contemporary human rights organizations and humanitarian movements Anti colonial forces mobilized human rights and other rights language in their campaigns for self determination In response European empires harnessed the new international politics of human rights for their own ends claiming that their rule with its promise of development was the authentic vehicle for realizing them Ranging from the postwar partitions and the wars of independence to Indigenous rights activism and post colonial memory this volume offers new insights into the history and legacies of human rights self determination and empire to the present day

Allman, 2004-09-09 Everywhere in the world there is a close connection between the clothes we wear and our political expression To date few scholars have explored what clothing means in 20th century Africa and the diaspora In Fashioning Africa an international group of anthropologists historians and art historians bring rich and diverse perspectives to this fascinating topic From clothing as an expression of freedom in early colonial Zanzibar to Somali women's headcovering in inner city Minneapolis these essays explore the power of dress in African and pan African settings Nationalist and diasporic identities as well as their histories and politics are examined at the level of what is put on the body every day Readers interested in fashion history material and expressive cultures understandings of nation state styles and expressions of a distinctive African modernity will be engaged by this interdisciplinary and broadly appealing volume Contributors are Heather Marie Akou Jean Allman A Boatema Boateng Judith Byfield Laura Fair Karen Tranberg Hansen Margaret Jean Hay Andrew M Ivaska Phyllis M Martin Marissa Moorman Elisha P Renne and Victoria L Rovine      The World and a Very Small Place in Africa Donald R. Wright, 2015-05-18 Niumi a small little known territory located on the bank of the Gambia River in West Africa is seemingly far from the reaches of world historical events And yet the outside world has long had a significant and increasingly profound impact on Niumi This fascinating work shows how global events have affected people's lives over the past eight centuries in this small region in Africa's smallest country. Drawing on written and oral testimony and writing in a clear and personal style, Donald R. Wright connects globalization with real people in a real place. This new edition updates discussions of global history and African history based on current studies and new developments that have been factored into the interpretive framework. Reflecting on recent visits to Niimi, Wright extends the story into 2009 to consider the impact of global recession and domestic political repression under a regime in power for the past fifteen years. Punctuating the narrative are photographs, maps, and Perspectives boxes on selected topics such as the sale of slaves five centuries ago, colonial sexism, the fate of press freedom, and how popular culture affects growing up in a traditional society. Throughout, the author deals with African history seriously, global trends critically, and human lives sensitively.

Metropolitan Fetish John Warne Monroe, 2019-09-15 From the 1880s to 1940, French colonial officials, businessmen, and soldiers returning from overseas postings brought home wooden masks and figures from Africa. This imperial and cultural power play is the jumping off point for a story that travels from sub-Saharan Africa to Parisian art galleries, from the pages of fashion magazines through the doors of the Louvre to world fairs and international auction rooms into the apartments of avant-garde critics and poets to the streets of Harlem and then full circle back to colonial museums and schools in Dakar, Bamako, and Abidjan. John Warne Monroe guides us on this journey, one that goes far beyond the world of Picasso, Matisse, and Braque to show how the Modernist avant-garde and the European colonial project influenced each other in profound and unexpected ways. Metropolitan Fetish reveals the complex trajectory of African material culture in the West and provides a map of that passage, tracing the interaction of cultural and imperial power. A broad and far-reaching history of the French reception of African art, it brings to life an era in which the aesthetic category of primitive art was invented. African American Art and Artists Samella S. Lewis, 2003 Examines the lives and works of African American artists from the eighteenth century to the present with biographical and critical text and illustrated examples of their work.

European-language Writing in Sub-Saharan Africa Albert S. Gérard, 1986 The Underestimated Arts of Africa Sabrina Eiya Makein, 2014-01-15 The definition of fashion is quite infinite as we continue to explore the various minds and cultures that alter the world of haute couture, but whilst we endure the investigation of imitation, fashion then seems to consist of an area that inevitably lingers on the mind of an individual, an area that is known of but is yet to be well understood. Culture is a concept that allows one to feel and see the beauty within various textiles from various continents and acknowledge the exquisiteness of the minds behind cultural haute couture. Questioning African Cinema Nwachukwu Frank Ukadike, 2002 Saharan Crossroads Tara F. Deubel, Hélène Tissières, Scott M. Youngstedt, 2014-06-26 Saharan Crossroads Exploring historical, cultural, and artistic linkages between North and West Africa counteracts the traditional scholarly conception of the Sahara Desert as an impenetrable barrier dividing the continent by employing an interdisciplinary lens to examine myriad interconnections between North and West Africa through travel, trade, communication, cultural exchange and correspondence that have been ongoing for several millennia Saharan Crossroads offers a unique contribution to existing scholarship on the region by uniting a diverse group of African European and American scholars working on various facets of trans Saharan history social life and cultural production and bringing their work together for the first time This trilingual volume includes eleven chapters written in English five chapters in French and three chapters in Arabic reflecting the multicultural nature of the Sahara and this international project Saharan Crossroads explores historical and contemporary connections and exchanges between populations living in and on both sides of the Sahara that have led to the emergence of distinctive cultural and aesthetic expressions This contact has been fostered by a series of linkages that include the trans Saharan caravan trade the spread of Islam the migration of nomadic pastoralists and European colonization The book includes three major sections 1 history culture and identity 2 trans Saharan circulation of arts music ritual performance and architecture and 3 religion law language and writing While the gaze of international political analysts has turned toward the Sahara to follow problematic developments that pose serious threats to human rights and security in the region it is especially timely to recall that the people and countries of the Sahelo Saharan world have maintained long histories of peaceful coexistence interdependence and cooperation that are too often overlooked in the present
