Cataloging and Classification Lois Mai Chan, Athena Salaba, 2015-12-14 The fourth edition of the late Lois Mai Chan's classic Cataloging and Classification covers the analysis and representation of methods used in describing organizing and providing access to resources made available in or through libraries Since the last edition published in 2007 there have been dramatic changes in cataloging systems from the Library of Congress The most notable being the shift from AACR2 to Resource Description and Access RDA as the new standard developed by the Library of Congress With the help of the coauthor Athena Salaba this text is modified throughout to conform to the new standard Retaining the overall outline of the previous edition this text presents the essence of library cataloging and classification in terms of three basic functions descriptive cataloging subject access and classification Within this framework all chapters have been rewritten to incorporate the changes that have occurred during the interval between the third and fourth editions In each part the historical development and underlying principles of the retrieval mechanism at issue are treated first because these are considered essential to an understanding of cataloging and classification Discussion and examples of provisions in the standards and tools are then presented in order to illustrate the operations covered in each chapter Divided into five parts a general overview record production and structure encoding formats and metadata records RDA subject access and controlled vocabularies and the organization of library resources each part of the book begins with a list of the standards and tools used in the preparation and processing of that part of the cataloging record covered followed by suggested background readings selected to help the reader gain an overview of the subject to be presented This book is the standard text for the teaching and understanding of cataloging and classification

Introduction to Technical Services G. Edward Evans, Sheila S. Intner, Jean Weihs, 2010-11-11 Used in library schools worldwide this standard text provides students with a thorough understanding of technical services Updated and expanded the eighth edition further emphasizes the rapidly changing environment in which technical services are conducted The book covers all aspects of the field from acquisitions to managing the cataloging department with five new chapters Technical Services Issues includes material related to physical space needs E resources Issues examines how the growth of e materials impact technical services work Copy Cataloging reflects the ever increasing need to be more efficient and also to save limited funds for technical services activities Overview and Decisions addresses the issue of why and how the local OPAC has become a gateway to the universe of knowledge and Processing Materials covers the activities involved in making sure items that go into a library's collection are properly identified as belonging to the library and where the item is physically located in the collection All other chapters have been extensively rewritten and updated to reflect 2010 technical service functions and activities Complete with helpful illustrations statistics and study guide questions this text is a must for library and information science students Education and Training for Catalogers and Classifiers Ruth C. Carter,1987

Education and Training for Catalogers and Classifiers discusses the education of librarians particularly the teaching of cataloging as part of that education It argues that relevant high quality library education and on the job training programs are necessary in preparing librarians to meet the challenges of understanding the issues of bibliographic control and relating a library s catalog to regional national and international bibliographic databases Academic Library Cataloging Practices Benchmarks ,2008 This 254 page report presents data from a survey of the cataloging practices of approximately 80 North American academic libraries In more than 630 tables of data and related commentary from participating librarians and our analysts the report gives a broad overview of academic library cataloging practices related to outsourcing selection and deployment of personnel salaries the state of continuing education in cataloging and much more Survey participants also discuss how they define the catalogers range of responsibilities how they train their catalogers how they assess cataloging quality whether they use cataloging quotas or other measures to spur productivity what software and other cataloging technology they use and why and how they make outsourcing decisions and more Data is broken out by size and type of college and for public and private colleges Just a few of the reports many findings are presented below More than 70% of the libraries in the sample say that their catalogers have salary levels that are comparable to those of public service librarians at their institutions About 27 3% of the survey participants routinely use paraprofessional staff for original cataloging Public colleges were more than three times more likely than private colleges to use paraprofessionals for original cataloging and larger colleges were more than twice as likely as smaller ones to do so 41 56% of the libraries in the sample outsource authority control obtaining new and updated authority records About 15 6% of the libraries in the sample outsource the cataloging of e journals close to 28% of research universities do so 20 78% of libraries in the sample use MarcEdit or other MARC editor to preview records and globally edit to local standards prior to loading 29 7% of the libraries in the sample have technical services areas that track turnaround time from Acquisitions receipt to Cataloging to shelf ready distribution About 24 7% of the libraries in the sample use paraprofessional support staff for master bibliographic record enrichment in OCLC Most of those doing so were public colleges and offered beyond the B A degree Authority control experience was considered a very important criterion for hiring by only 8 11% of survey participants while a bit more than 35% considered it important 21 62% considered authority control experience not so important as a hiring criterion Cataloging Correctly for Kids Michele Zwierski,Joanna F. Fountain,Marilyn McCroskey,2021-06-22 With advice contributed by experienced practicing librarians this one stop resource offers a complete overview of the best methods for enabling children to find the information they want and need Reference Services and Technical Services Gordon Stevenson,Sally Stevenson,2019-12-05 This book first published in 1984 analyses the provision of more effective library service by relying more heavily on collaboration between reference and technical services librarians

Cataloging and Classification Standards and Rules John J

Rierner,2013-04-03 This is the first book to examine standards specifically as they apply to cataloging and classification while at the same time considering the field of library science as a whole The developments in standards detailed in Cataloging and Classification Standards and Rules portend great time savings in the cataloging process for those catalogers willing to advocate the necessary programming to their systems officer or bibliographic utility Standards in the library and information science community underlie and impact the work of librarians and information specialists on a daily basis yet remain inconspicuous to even the most knowledgeable in the field Cataloging and Classification Standards and Rules reviews the state of a full range of formal and informal standards and rules utilized in cataloging and classification It also provides historical perspective commentary assessment of significance and anticipation of future developments and evaluates the connections and interrelationships that exist among the various standards Chapters in Cataloging and Classification Standards and Rules are written by professionals who have been key figures in the development of standards and have accessed primary source material for the preparation of their articles They address these what exactly constitutes a standard how something becomes a standard how standards undergo change evaluation of and commentary on the effectiveness of current standards the latest information on several standards currently in development testing or implementation what the future may hold Cataloging and Classification Standards and Rules is a valuable reference book for both beginning and experienced professional librarians As managers and consumers of bibliographic information it is crucial that librarians understand the nature and status of a variety of formal and informal standards This book will assist them in this task Library school students specializing in cataloging and classification will also find this book an indispensable guide as they prepare themselves for employment in the field Encyclopedia of Library and Information Science Allen Kent,1997-05-08
