Subverting Hatred The Challenge Of Nonviolence In Religious Traditions:

Subverting Hatred Daniel L. Smith-Christopher, 2000 Essays on nonviolence in the world's great religious traditions challenge the notion that religion begets violence around the world Original Subverting Hatred Daniel L. Smith-Christopher, 2007 Representatives of nine world religions offer insights into the teachings of nonviolence within their tradition how practice has often fallen short of the ideals and how they can overcome the contagion of hatred through a return to traditional teachings on nonviolence Nonviolence and Peace Psychology Daniel Mayton, 2009-05-28 Recent trends and events worldwide have increased public interest in nonviolence pacifism and peace psychology as well as professional interest across the social sciences Nonviolence and Peace Psychology assembles multiple perspectives to create a more comprehensive and nuanced understanding of the concepts and phenomena of nonviolence than is usually seen on the subject Through this diverse literature spanning psychology political science religious studies anthropology and sociology peace psychologist Dan Mayton gives readers the opportunity to view nonviolence as a body of principles a system of pragmatics and a strategy for social change This important volume Draws critical distinctions between nonviolence pacifism and related concepts Classifies nonviolence in terms of its scope intrapersonal interpersonal societal global and pacifism according to political and situational dimensions Applies standard psychological concepts such as beliefs motives dispositions and values to define nonviolent actions and behaviors Brings sociohistorical and cross cultural context to peace psychology Analyzes a century's worth of nonviolent social action from the pathbreaking work of Gandhi and King to the Courage to Refuse movement within the Israeli armed forces Reviews methodological and measurement issues in nonviolence research and suggests areas for future study Although more attention is traditionally devoted to violence and aggression within the social sciences Nonviolence and Peace Psychology reveals a robust knowledge base and a framework for peacebuilding work granting peace psychologists activists and mediators new possibilities for the transformative power of nonviolence

Nonviolent Struggle Sharon Erickson Nepstad, 2015 From Gandhi's movement to win Indian independence to the Arab Spring uprisings of 2011 an expanding number of citizens have used nonviolent action to win political goals While such events have captured the public imagination they have also generated a new surge of scholarly interest in the field of nonviolence and civil resistance studies Although researchers have produced new empirical data theories and insights into the phenomenon of nonviolent struggle the field is still quite unfamiliar to many students and scholars In Nonviolent Struggle Theories Strategies and Dynamics sociologist Sharon Nepstad provides a succinct introduction to the field of civil resistance studies detailing its genesis key concepts and debates and a summary of empirical findings Nepstad depicts the strategies and dynamics at play in nonviolent struggles and analyzes the factors that shape the trajectory and outcome of civil resistance movements The book draws on a vast array of historical examples including the U S civil rights movement the Indonesian uprising against President Suharto the French Huguenot resistance during World War II and Cesar Chavez's

United Farm Workers Nepstad describes both principled and pragmatic nonviolent traditions and explains various categories of nonviolent action concluding with an assessment of areas for future research A comprehensive treatment of the philosophy and strategy of nonviolent resistance Nonviolent Struggle is essential reading for students scholars and anyone with a general interest in peace studies and social change The Wisdom of Tolerance Daisaku Ikeda,Abdurrahman Wahid,2015-04-15 What do Buddhism and Islam have in common And what positive characteristics might Buddhist Japan and Muslim Indonesia be able to offer one another In this thoughtful and wide ranging discussion which draws on creative artists and thinkers as diverse as Beethoven Goethe Tolstoy Thomas Jefferson and Akira Kurosawa distinguished representatives from each country demonstrate that meaningful dialogue between religions and cultures begins with a one to one conversation between individuals Addressing the similarities of their nations as island peoples with a shared history of trade and cultural exchange Abdurrahman Wahid and Daisaku Ikeda agree that the aim of dialogue like that of Buddhism and Islam alike is fundamentally the goal of peace A pivotal moment in the conversation comes when reference is made to the Indonesian story of the Bamboo Princess from the Chronicle of the Kings of Pasai this is seen to bear close resemblance to the Japanese Taketori Monogatari or Tale of the Bamboo Cutter Such narrative interrelationship which can be discerned even in the midst of religious and cultural distinctiveness emerges as a powerful symbol of the common humanity not just of Indonesia and Japan but of all cultures Both thinkers continue to draw on their respective traditions on their personal experiences of war and adversity and especially on the lives of the Buddha and the Prophet Mohammed to show that harmony springs from an attitude of tolerance and nonviolence which is where true courage resides Whether masterfully expounding the teachings of Nichiren or indicating that a proper understanding of jihad is not about religious conflict but about communicating the truth of Allah the discussants mutually transform our understandings of value pluralism and amity

The Oxford Handbook of Religion, Conflict, and Peacebuilding Atalia Omer,R. Scott Appleby,David Little,2015 The book provides a comprehensive overview of the literature on religion conflict and peacebuilding With a focus on structural and cultural violence the volume also offers a cutting edge interdisciplinary reframing of the scope of scholarship in the field

Dharma and Ecology of Hindu Communities Pankaj Jain,2016-04-22 In Indic religious traditions a number of rituals and myths exist in which the environment is revered Despite this nature worship in India its natural resources are under heavy pressure with its growing economy and exploding population This has led several scholars to raise questions about the role religious communities can play in environmentalism Does nature worship inspire Hindus to act in an environmentally conscious way This book explores the above questions with three communities the Swadhyaya movement the Bishnoi and the Bhil communities Presenting the texts of Bishnois their environmental history and their contemporary activism investigating the Swadhyaya movement from an ecological perspective and exploring the Bhil communities and their Sacred Groves this book applies a non Western hermeneutical model to interpret the religious traditions of Indic communities With a foreword by Roger S Gottlieb Peace-Building by, between, and beyond Muslims and Evangelical Christians Mohammed Abu-Nimer, David Augsburg, 2009-02-16 This timely work addresses sensitive issues and relations between Muslims and Christians around the world The book uniquely captures the opportunity for Christians and Muslims to come together and discuss pertinent issues such as pluralism governance preaching Christian missionary efforts and general misperceptions of Muslim and Christian communities Joint authorship and discussion within the book is used to offer dialogue and responses between different contributors This dialogue reveals that Christians and Muslims hold many things in common while having meaningful differences It also shows the value of honestly sharing convictions while respecting and hearing the beliefs of another Buddhists and Christians Fredericks, James L., 2014-04-10 Buddhists and Christians examines Christian teachings about other religions to argue that the next step to dialogue is comparative theology Fredericks asks why the Buddha refused to engage in God talk and suggests that understanding the answer to this question will help Christians and Buddhists to have better communication and to find that God reveals the way to mutual comprehension and deeper solidarity

Hospitality and the Other Author, Amos Yong, 2015-03-04 Religion, Conflict, and Democracy in Modern Africa Samuel K. Elolia, 2012-03-02 Spanning various regions of Sub Saharan Africa the authors of this volume come together to explore the complex relationship between religion and democracy in contemporary Africa As a result of the end of the Cold War and the fall of the Soviet Union many African countries have come to the realization however partial that political and social change is inevitable in spite of government heavy handedness and threats It has also become evident that no political system that refuses to permit freedom of political expression and alternative systems of governance could continue to be sustained It is in precisely this political climate that religious institutions have collaborated with other elements of civil society to call for political reforms with the church often becoming the prominent voice against oppressive governments in countries such as Kenya and South Africa It is the purpose of this book to assess how religion shapes political issues and to what extent religious forces influence the civil society By acknowledging the role of the civil society the essays recognize the resilience that comes out of Africa even when the sociopolitical situation seems unbearable

John Howard Yoder J Denny Weaver, 2015-03-26 John Howard Yoder Radical Theologian shows that for John Howard Yoder both theology in particular

Christology and ethics are expressions of the meaning of the narrative of Jesus. All such statements are relative to a particular context so that theology and ethics are subject to reaching back to the narrative in order to restate the meaning in new and ever changing contexts. This methodology is visible in Yoder's Preface to Theology which has been little used in most treatments of Yoder's thought. Yoder has been characterised as standing on Nicene orthodoxy criticised for rejecting Nicene orthodoxy called heterodox and designated a postmodern thinker to be interpreted in terms of other such thinkers. None of these characterisations adequately locates the basis of his methodology in the narrative of Jesus. Thus John Howard Yoder, Radical Theologian, aims to go beyond or to supersede existing treatments with its demonstration that Yoder is a radical theologian in the historical meaning of radical that is as one who returns to the root but also relates his theology to the personal accusations that clouded his later years. For Christian faith this root is Christ. Parts II and III of the book explore the sources of Yoder's approach and its application in several contemporary contexts. Pacifism's Appeal Jorg Kustermans, Tom Sauer, Dominiek Lootens, Barbara Segaert, 2019-03-13. This volume examines the possibility or need of a revitalization of pacifism as a world political practice. It takes as its point of departure the observation that although just war thinking has long been dominant in Western debates about war and peace, recent events have served to temper enthusiasm about the doctrine. Pacifism has been much less prominent a stance in recent decades but there is the impression that it may be staging a return. Just war thinking has to a large extent failed. Outright bellicism remains as undesirable as ever. Pacifism presents itself again as a possible alternative. Once upon a time the peace movement was popular and pacifism with it. Pacifism appealed to people. It stirred hearts and minds. It inspired political action and institutional designs. This volume examines whether pacifism can claim its ground again and how it should be redefined in light of today's world political circumstances.
