Successful Schools And Competent Students:

Successful Schools and Competent Students James Garbarino, C. Elliott Asp, 1981      Successful Schools and Competent Students James Garbarino, C. Elliott Asp, 1981      How Successful Schools Are More than Effective Christopher Day, David Gurr, 2024-07-25

Arising from new research of members of the International Successful School Principalship Project this book presents cases of school and leadership success from across 12 countries. It provides critically informed writing informed by ecological systems theory which questions the uncritical application of single lens adjectival leadership models. It challenges critical theorists' views of teachers and leaders as necessarily compliant with so-called neoliberal policy agendas. In their place, the chapters provide compelling evidence not only of who successful leaders are and what they do but how they do it as they meet and manage the challenges of building and sustaining success in uncertain times in a range of cultures and social contexts. In these schools, principals assert their broad educational values, professional identities, agency and resilience, drawing upon a range of strategies, technical and human relating qualities and skills in building and sustaining success for all. Whilst they acknowledge the influence of cultural policy and community contexts, they are not oppressed by these. The chapters provide a brief description of country and school contexts, the life and work of the principal, their leadership strategies and how they contribute to teacher wellbeing and teaching quality, leadership development in others, pedagogical leadership, cultures of trust and community engagement. There is also consideration of how school leaders manage tensions and dilemmas, how success differs from effectiveness and the characteristics and qualities of leaders that lead to success. It is a book which will stimulate school leaders and aspiring school leaders to consider more deeply their own work and its directions. For researchers and system leaders, it provides multi-level, multiple perspective case studies as part of the largest international educational leadership project ever undertaken. It is a must-read, rich, timely, professionally connected book.

Successful Schools Dan Kahler, 2001-11-19

How can teachers ensure that every student who graduates is competent in subject matter and responsible in citizenship? Dan Kahler explains how through the STAR theory. Successful Teachers Are Real. Not only are excellent teachers sound in pedagogy, they are genuine, empathetic and have a high regard for all students. This handbook illustrates how, through specific examples, educators can positively affect their students for life. Kahler also demonstrates how school and district conditions cause success in connection with an excellent teaching staff. More than simply a book on pedagogy or a handbook for school reform, Successful Schools is an inspirational tool that will aid anyone involved in education.

Successful Schools for Young Adolescents Joan Lipsitz, 2019-01-22

At a time when the public, researchers and policymakers are losing confidence in public schooling, this presentation of case studies of four schools offers solutions and concrete models of diverse ways in which excellence can be attained in middle grade schools. Asking what effectiveness means for the young adolescent age group, a hitherto unexplored area in research literature, how effective schools come about and how they achieve acceptance in their communities, Lipsitz identifies and examines successful middle grade schools noting that the major problem in schooling is meeting the massive individual differences in the development of early adolescents      Research Review for School Leaders William G. Wraga, Peter S. Hlebowitsh, Founding Editor Tanner, Daniel Tanner, 2012-08-06 The Research Review for School Leaders Volume III is specifically designed as a practical resource for school leaders whose schedules preclude opportunities to locate and review key research on every issue they must address It places comprehensive current and accessible reviews of educational research at their fingertips and is organized to make the research and practices it summarizes useful to them in their professional endeavors This is the third volume of the Review Although the title has changed its purpose and substance is continuous with the work of the earlier volumes The first Annual Review of Research for School Leaders 1996 summarized research on the status of public schooling interdisciplinary curriculum and educational applications of computers The second volume 1998 addressed the topics of middle level education the extracurriculum mathematics education reform and drop outs The present Volume III offers educational leaders reviews of research on five timely educational issues citizenship education multicultural education gifted and talented education classroom assessment and scheduling A basic premise of this volume is that to make sound decisions professionals need to be up to date on current research related to the problems with which they grapple A second premise is that research cannot simply be imposed in a formulaic way on a local setting the nature of the particular problem to be solved will always bear upon the relevance of research to a specific context Thus this volume is envisioned as a helpful resource for school leaders as they engage in important discussions of the research with teachers school board members parents and other interested parties as they collaboratively seek effective resolutions to local educational problems      PISA 2018 Results (Volume V) Effective Policies, Successful Schools OECD, 2020-09-29 The OECD Programme for International Student Assessment PISA examines what students know in reading mathematics and science and what they can do with what they know this is one of six volumes that present the results of the PISA 2018 survey the seventh round of the triennial assessment Volume V Effective Policies Successful Schools analyses schools and school systems and their relationship with education outcomes more generally      Ten Traits of Highly Effective Schools Elaine K. McEwan-Adkins, 2008-07-16 The redoubtable Grandma this book is a sequel to Grandma Drove the Snowplow is at it again After all her hard work collecting the towns garbage and plowing the roads Grandma deserves a day off and what better day than Labor Day All she has to do is sit back and enjoy a nice boat ride with her littlest grandson Billy while her sons catch the lobsters for the town Lobster Bake But what happens when the waves get choppy the fog rolls in and all the boats are in difficulty Can Grandma take the helm and get the lobsters back to shore in time More great fun as our intrepid heroine is again placed at the center of small town life and in the middle of a local celebration      Parents and Schools Angela L. Carrasquillo, Clement B. London, 2013-11-26 This book is based on the premise that schools and parents need to work together for the social emotional cognitive and academic development of children While the school provides a leadership model parents act as reinforcers of learning and prime movers in their children's education. The authors emphasize throughout the book that parents and educators need to celebrate the pleasure of teaching. In clear and accessible language, this work presents theories on learning and human relations. It then charts and reviews the important components of a successful school-parent partnership, giving specific recommendations on the best way to involve diverse groups of parents. Chapters are: US Families in the Context of Change; The African American Experience in Family Context; The Hispanic American Experience in Family Context; The Asian American Experience in Family Context; Communities of Education; Concepts Defined; Empowerment for all Parents Required; A Positive Self-Concept; Successful Schools: A Parents and Educators Partnership; Successful Students: Ability, Effort, and Parental Involvement; Parents: First and Most Important Teachers; Recommendations for the Improvement of Parental School Involvement; Advocacy for School and Home Partnership; author and subject indexes.

Effective Schools Dennis M. McInerney, Martin Dowson, Shawn Van Etten, 2006-04-01

Students arrive in our classrooms with complex sociocultural histories that include family, cultural, physical, social, emotional, and prior learning experiences. In order to be effective, schools must directly address these complex histories in meaningful, relevant, and creative ways. The aim of this volume is to examine research on effective schooling from a sociocultural perspective, with a focus on developing the capacities of diverse students in diverse educational contexts. The chapters in this volume cover a wide range of important topics as listed below.

EQ + IQ = Best Leadership Practices for Caring and Successful Schools Maurice J. Elias, Harriett Arnold, Cynthia Steiger Hussey, 2002-11-20. Schools cannot teach character. School has to create an environment that models and promotes character development, and then they have to allow the children to catch character from the behavior of the adults and students around them. From Chapter 1 by James P. Comer: Let today's educational leaders show you how to create a safe, healthy, and successful classroom community. Combining emotional intelligence (EQ) with academic intelligence (IQ) is the essential key to developing knowledgeable, caring, healthy, and successful students in today's troubled world. Social-emotional skills often are not taught at home, but they are in fact the crucial connection that enables students to master and retain content knowledge while also creating a classroom atmosphere filled with proficient, civic-minded students with sound judgment and problem-solving skills that will last a lifetime. In this dynamic book, today's educational leaders offer their best ideas for building school communities that are safe, smart, caring, successful, and emotionally intelligent. Key topics include: Transforming the Lives of Children; James P. Comer; Leadership for Academic, Social, and Emotional Learning; Mary Utne-O'Brien; Roger P. Weissberg; Timothy P. Shriver; How New Knowledge About the Brain Applies to Social and Emotional Learning; Ronald S. Brandt; A Vision of Schools with Heart and Spirit; Linda Lantieri; Institutionalizing Programming for Social and Emotional Learning; Linda Bruene Butler; Jeffrey S. Kress; Jacqueline A. Norris; Implementing a Social and Emotional Learning Program; Carol Apacki.

Coast Schools Merge Mason Ross, 2025-02-27

Coast Schools Merge delves into the integration of traditional indigenous knowledge with modern education in Maori coastal communities It highlights the critical need for educational models that honor indigenous perspectives promoting both equity and cultural identity The book reveals how weaving carving and traditional storytelling are incorporated into the curriculum alongside experiential learning and mentorship from elders This approach challenges Eurocentric educational norms by valuing Te Ao Maori worldview and tikanga customs The book argues for a genuine partnership between schools and tribal communities embedding Maori language culture and values within the curriculum It begins by outlining the historical context of Maori education including the impact of colonization and then examines case studies of coastal schools The later sections evaluate academic performance cultural identity development and overall student well being This academic history provides insights into culturally responsive teaching and curriculum development offering valuable lessons for scaling up such models in other indigenous communities     Assessment, Bureaucracy, and Consolidation Donald Parkerson, Jo Ann

Parkerson, 2015-06-09 American education has changed dramatically over the last century The small locally controlled school supported by a concerned educational village fostered learning personal accountability patriotism and economic growth for a young nation Today however American schools are typically large consolidated bureaucratic organizations controlled by state and or municipal governments The administration of these schools is hierarchical and corporate in form while its curriculum is oriented toward the needs of the business community Assessment through standardized testing moreover has become the cornerstone of American education Assessment Bureaucracy and Consolidation The Issues Facing Schools Today examines this remarkable transformation in the form and function of education and assesses the problems and possibilities for the future of schools and our nation Additional key features of this book include A clear comprehensive history of the modern American school from the nineteenth century to the present and its impact on teachers students parents and the community at large An Explanation of the impact of bureaucratic organization and the movement toward large schools Critiques of past reform experiments in public education A Placement of the contemporary standardized assessment movement in historical context A reevaluation of the relationship between education and business An evaluation of returning education to locally controlled schools reconnecting educational practitioners with the educational village     Places where Children Succeed
