The Politics Of Silence The National Week Lectures By:

Who's Who in Lesbian and Gay Writing Gabriele Griffin, 2003-09-02 A lively and accessible guide to lesbian and gay literary culture Featuring authors of works with lesbian or gay content as well as known lesbian and gay writers it offers an invaluable guide to a rich and varied literary culture

AIDS Narratives Steven F. Kruger, 2013-10-28 This is the first book length study of the rich fiction that has emerged from the AIDS crisis Examining first the ways in which scientific discourse on AIDS has reflected ideologies of gender and sexuality such as the construction of AIDS as a disease of gay men part of a battle over masculinity and thus largely excluding women with AIDS from public attention the book considers how such discourses have shaped narrative understandings of AIDS On the one hand AIDS is seen as an invariably fatal weakening of an individual's bodily defenses a depiction often used to reconfirm an identification between disease and a weak and vulnerable gayness On the other hand AIDS is understood in terms of an epidemic attributable to gay immorality or unnaturalness The fiction of AIDS depends upon these two narratives with one major subgenre of AIDS novel presenting narratives of personal illness decline and death and a second focusing on epidemic spread These novels also question the narrative structures upon which they depend intervening particularly against the homophobia of those structures though also sometimes reinforcing it

Silent Victories John W. Ward, Christian Warren, 2007 Americans health improved dramatically over the twentieth century Public health programs for disease and injury prevention were responsible for much of this advance Over the century America's public health system grew dramatically employing science and political authority in response to an increasing array of health problems As the disease burden of the old scourges of infection perinatal mortality and dietary deficiencies began to lift public health's mandate expanded to take on new health threats such as those resulting from a changing workplace the rise of the automobile and chronic and complex conditions caused by smoking diet and other lifestyle and environmental factors Public health measures almost always occur on contested ground accordingly controversies and recriminations over past failures often persist In contrast public health's many successes even the imperfect ones become part of the fabric of everyday life a fact already apparent early in the last century when C E A Winslow reminded his peers that the lives saved and healthy years extended were the silent victories of public health In its exploration of ten major public health issues addressed in the 20th century Silent Victories takes a unique approach for each issue leading scientists in the field trace the discoveries practices and programs that reduced morbidity and mortality from disease and injury and an accompanying chapter by a historian or social scientist highlights key moments or conflicts that shaped public health action on that issue The book concludes with a look toward the challenges public health must face in the future Silent Victories reveals the lessons of history in a format designed to appeal to students health professionals and the public seeking to understand how public health advanced the country's health in the 20th century and the challenges to protecting health in the future The Politics of Mourning Micki McElya, 2016-08-15 Arlington National Cemetery is America's most sacred shrine a destination for four million visitors who each year tour its grounds and honor those buried there For many Arlington's symbolic importance places it beyond politics Yet as Micki McElya shows no site in the United States plays a more political role in shaping national identity School Library Journal ,1994 The Saturday Review of Politics, Literature, Science and Art ,1859 Silent Cinema and the Politics of Space Jennifer M. Bean, Anupama Kapase, Laura Horak, 2014-04-02 In this cross cultural history of narrative cinema and media from the 1910s to the 1930s leading and emergent scholars explore the transnational crossings and exchanges that occurred in early cinema between the two world wars Drawing on film archives from around the world this volume advances the premise that silent cinema freely crossed national borders and linguistic thresholds in ways that became far less possible after the emergence of sound These essays address important questions about the uneven forces geographic economic political psychological textual and experiential that underscore a non linear approach to film history The messiness of film history as demonstrated here opens a new realm of inquiry into unexpected political social and aesthetic crossings of silent cinema The Politics and Practice of Religious Diversity Andrew Dawson, 2016-04-20 The Politics and Practice of Religious Diversity engages with one of the most characteristic features of modern society An increasingly prominent and potentially contentious phenomenon religious diversity is intimately associated with contemporary issues such as migration human rights social cohesion socio cultural pluralisation political jurisdiction globalisation and reactionary belief systems This edited collection of specially commissioned chapters provides an unrivalled geographical coverage and multidisciplinary treatment of the socio political processes and institutional practices provoked by and associated with religious diversity Alongside chapters treating religious diversity in the BRIC countries of Brazil Russia India and China are contributions which discuss Australia Finland Mexico South Africa the UK and the United States This book provides an accessible distinctive and timely treatment of a topic which is inextricably linked with modern society's progressively diverse and global trajectory Written and structured as an accessible volume for the student reader this book is of immediate interest to both academics and laypersons working in mainstream and political sociology sociology of religion human geography politics area studies migration studies and religious studies
