The Politics Of Worship Reforming The Language And Symbols Of Liturgy:

The Politics of Worship William Johnson Everett, 1999 Everett offers a new way to examine the language and symbols of liturgy Acknowledging the important contributions that anthropology sociology and psychology have made to liturgical reform he points out that we still lack the models to adequately address the underlying monarchical imagery What is needed he believes is an understanding of political theory an understanding consistent with a Christian ethic of inclusiveness and mutuality BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved Making My Way in Ethics, Worship, and Wood William Johnson Everett, 2021-09-17 William Everett has taught in Catholic and Protestant theological schools in the United States Germany India and South Africa Out of these rich and varied experiences he lays out here in concise manner the main concepts theories and commitments that have emerged in his work From his origins in Washington DC to his later research in Germany India South Africa and Cyprus he reflects on how his experience and life story have shaped his intellectual and religious vision This exposition of his thought ranges from construction of frameworks for relating Christianity to the behavioral sciences to substantive engagement with concepts of covenant and constitutionalism the oikos of work family and faith and ecological and restorative justice Moving beyond the academic he shows us how his poetry liturgies historical fiction and woodcraft also manifest many of these themes in other forms In this exposition and interrogation of his life and work Everett invites us into deeper reflection on the connections that constitute our own

Essays on the Real Church Dirk J. Smit, 2024-08-15 The spirit of the Reformation is often expressed in the well known slogan that Reformed churches are always being reformed according to God's Word ecclesia reformata semper reformanda secundum verbum Dei Over the last century the spirit of this slogan motivated someone like Dietrich Bonhoeffer to argue that the visible form and life of the church should reflect the truth and message of the church Already in his doctoral dissertation called Sanctorum Communio the communion of the saints the young Bonhoeffer combined theological claims and traditions with social theory and analysis in this spirit in an innovative way to study the nature and integrity and witness of the church At the time this was a radical claim with major consequences and challenges for Protestant churches Their life which meant their order structure actions statements convictions public presence and role was to be measured by their gospel which meant their message proclamation convictions claims They could no longer proclaim one truth yet live a different life It was this spirit which led to the well known Theological Declaration of Barmen in 1934 and to the formation of the Confessing Church in Nazi Germany Many called this a moment of truth a status confessionis It was this same spirit which later inspired the struggle in South Africa for the integrity and faithfulness of the church and for the credibility of its message proclamation and witness The contributions in this volume 52 papers essays sermons studies were all produced in this spirit Most of them have not been published before They were all occasional pieces written over several decades in different contexts and for different purposes and audiences yet they all breathe this self critical spirit of the Reformation considering whether the real church the concrete every day actual living church that people know and experience and perhaps belong to truly strives to embody the gospel itself the message which it claims and proclaims They all inquire under different circumstances and in diverse ways about different social forms of the real church from worship to congregation from denomination to ecumenical church from individual believers to movements and organisations whether and how they embody the truth of the church or not Together these contributions tell a story the story of this spirit in South African circles over several decades but also in the ecumenical church in our globalizing world They offer one small glimpse into different concrete moments in the story of this spirit in the life of this tradition and community of faith Hopefully some of these accounts may resonate with others who also shared the same spirit and still share it today in new and ongoing ways

Circling the Table William Johnson Everett, 2024-06-25 What if Christian worship took place as a conversation at a round table spread with elements of earth's gifts of nurture and beauty This book describes such a practice Roundtable Worship and lays out a fresh and challenging theological foundation for it Central to this foundation is the struggle to reconstruct the images of governance and justice that have always lain at the heart of a worship shaped by biblical traditions Drawing on the practice of circle conversations at the heart of movements for reconciliation and restorative justice Everett presents a theological vision rooted in biblical covenant making a social image of the Trinity and an understanding of the church as the covenanted public of Christ's Spirit Roundtable worship provides a hospitable setting where people can begin to give deeper voice to their life listen appreciatively to each other's longing for reconciliation and anticipate in imagination and action a renewed public life beyond the angry and violent polarizations of our age Sawdust and Soul William Johnson Everett, John W. de Gruchy, 2014-12-16 An American ethicist and a South African theologian reflect on their work with wood and how it has helped them find creativity and meaning in experiences of both loss and transformation Through their friendship correspondence and work together they have developed a rich narrative about the way this craftwork has shaped their relationships with family friends and their natural environment Their conversation invites both craftspeople and religious seekers to join them on a spiritual journey toward fresh insight and inspiration Beyond Ritual Siobhán Garrigan, 2017-03-02 In Beyond Ritual Siobhán Garrigan uses Habermas's theory of communicative action to suggest two things first a method by which theology can access the ritual symbols by which faith is formed and secondly a metaphor of intersubjectivity with which theology can propose an interpretative rather than an instrumental understanding of sacramentality and thus of God Through fieldwork studies of both marginal and mainstream Christian Eucharists Garrigan develops the conversation between Habermas's philosophy and Christian theology showing how ritual interactions form and challenge our very idea of God Exodus Church and Civil Society Scott R. Paeth, 2016-04-15 This book investigates the intersection of theology and social theory in the work of Jürgen Moltmann In particular it examines the way in which his concept of the Exodus Church can illuminate the importance of the idea of civil society for a Christian public theology The concept of civil society can aid in moving from the narrower category of political theology a term used frequently by Moltmann to emphasize the church's public commitment to a broader understanding of theology's public task which takes into account the plurality of ends and institutions within society The idea of the Exodus Church enables deeper understanding of Christian ethical participation within a complex modern society Consenting to God and Nature Byron C. Bangert, 2006-03-08 This book an exploration in theological ethics is motivated by two central questions First How can we think and speak with integrity about God as One who is active in human affairs and the world How can God make a difference in our world and in our lives Second and no less important What is the character of God's activity in the world and how are we to relate and respond to this activity How does God make a difference in our world and our lives and what are some of the implications for our own actions As the book's title indicates Bangert claims that a proper engagement in theological ethics requires both consenting to God and consenting to nature This means both consenting to the reality that is God the One with whom we ultimately have to do and the acceptance of the natural or physical world as hugely determinative of the limits and possibilities of human life and all existence He argues that this calls for a theocentric naturalistic theological ethics Bangert shows how the work of three major contemporary Protestant thinkers James M Gustafson Sallie McFague and David Ray Griffin may be fruitfully appropriated for the articulation of just such an ethics one that is responsive to the Christian tradition while also sharing the modern commitment's appeal to human experience and reason Each of these three thinkers eschews a priori appeal to the authority of religious tradition as each takes seriously scientific knowledge of our world Each accents ways in which current scientific understandings inform and in some cases are informed by contemporary appropriations of the language and thought of Christian tradition Each is also concerned to relate his or her approach to human valuing life and action A critical appraisal of their work shows that none provides a sufficient basis for an intellectually and religiously adequate theological ethics but that each contributes elements necessary to the articulation of such an ethics within the Protestant Christian tradition as it confronts the religious and intellectual challenges of today's world

Becoming a New Church Malcolm L. Warford, 2000 Since church membership has entered into a period of rapid decline the church is being challenged to renew and redefine itself and its ministries by liberating itself from past constraints and crafting new ways of being the church Becoming A New Church offers Malcolm Warford's well reasoned articulate reflections on what meeting this challenge means For Warford renewal is not a matter of restoring what already has been but being committed to thoughtful faith based innovation He invites us to think of ourselves as pilgrims in a community where there are no clearly marked road signs but where we have a shared memory of Jesus who made us free to live open to the world and its potential for transformation

The Eucharistic Liturgy Jameson K. Pallikunnil, 2017-03-20 The Malankara Mar Thoma Syrian Church exists as a hybrid church by blending the Eastern liturgical elements of the Oriental Orthodox Church and the evangelical ideas of the Protestant Reformation of the sixteenth century This Church is a bridging church connecting Protestantism and Oriental Orthodoxy The reformation in the Malankara Church 1836 instigated a new impetus for this church in constructing an ecclesial identity and pattern of mission A major missiological imperative employed by CMS missionaries in India was solely centered on the scripture Against this popular understanding the Mar Thoma Church through its reformation process showed that liturgy can also be an imperative for mission The translation and revision of the Eucharistic liturgy is the basic visible expression of reformation in the Malankara Church Hence this book explicitly places how the Eucharistic liturgy of the Mar Thoma Church is observed as the foundation for mission in its course of growth In order to accomplish this objective the writer has examined the historical evolution and the developmental process of the Eucharistic liturgy of the church which is a revised version of the liturgy of St James In a nutshell this study is an appraisal of various missiological themes reflected in the Eucharistic liturgy of the church This study throws ample light on how the Mar Thoma Church integrated liturgy and evangelism in its course of development The writer systematically illustrates how the church made a serious effort to bring missional themes employed in the liturgy into the practical realm by its ancillary organizations convention gatherings and sociocharitable works This volume asserts that an emphasis on Eucharist centred ecclesiology guides and motivates the church to enliven a mission oriented life which is crucial for accomplishing a relevant mission
