A Cultural Landscape Approach to Submerged Cultural Resource Management Zachary Leo Meyer, 2014 The interdisciplinary field of marine and environmental affairs focuses on the dynamic relationships between society and the natural world These interactions overtime create a cultural landscape where archaeological resources such as historic shipwrecks serve as a tangible link to the interactions between humans and nature that have shaped the modern landscape The cultural landscape approach offers a framework to address interconnected social ecological systems in a holistic manner consistent with the direction of modern natural and cultural resource management This thesis utilizes the cultural landscape approach and the ideals of ecotourism to develop tourism recommendations for incorporating shipwrecks and other submerged cultural resources into the modern social ecological system of Lake Union Seattle Washington

Out of the Blue John H. Jameson, Della A. Scott-Ireton, 2007-04-15 While there are several books in the field of preservation and heritage protection for terrestrial archaeology there are very few resources for archaeologists working with maritime and submerged cultural heritage This book brings together state of the art ideas research and scholarship associated with maritime public education and interpretation It will add to a limited body of knowledge in a field that is steadily growing

The Oxford Handbook of Maritime Archaeology Alexis Catsambis, Ben Ford, Donny L. Hamilton, 2014-02 This title is a comprehensive survey of maritime archaeology as seen through the eyes of nearly fifty scholars at a time when maritime archaeology has established itself as a mature branch of archaeology

International Handbook of Underwater Archaeology Carol V. Ruppe, Jane F. Barstad, 2013-11-11 Although underwater archaeology has assumed its rightful place as an important subdiscipline in the field the published literature has not kept pace with the rapid increase in the number of both prehistoric and historic underwater sites The editors have assembled an internationally distinguished roster of contributors to fill this gap In addition to both geographical and topical approaches the chapters also focus on technology law public and private institutional roles and goals and the research and development of future technologies and public programs
