The Power Of The Poor In History Selected Writings:

The Power of the Poor in History Gustavo Gutiérrez, 1983 The God That the Poor Seek Rupen Das, 2022-01-31 The assumption that conversion looks the same regardless of culture or religious context is challenged by a growing number of missiologists both in the Majority World and in the West In this book Rupen Das explores the particularities of conversion for some of the world's poorest populations Sharing the stories of Syrian refugees and Indian slum dwellers Das positions their voices within a missiological framework of contextualization seeking to understand what attracts the marginalized to the gospel of Christ This book is filled with practical insights for those ministering to the world's poor in contexts of missions development or local outreach It also offers a powerful glimpse into the identity of the crucified God who knows human pain and does not turn his back on human suffering

Religion, Torture and the Liberation of God Mario I Aguilar, 2015-04-17 If God can be used by the powerful to justify violence in the name of order he can also be used by the weak to illuminate the position of the victims of political conflict Religion Torture and the Liberation of God explores the theological possibilities of a God who is a prisoner and a victim of torture The book relocates God to the horrors of the military abuse of human rights in Chile and the systematic rape of women in the Democratic Republic of Congo Aguilar argues that this theological exercise offers us new ways of understanding the abuse of power whether it be the clerical abuse of children violence against women or homophobia This examination of torture and rape becomes through a theology of praxis and compliance an examination of solidarity love and affection The book concludes with an exploration of the possibilities of a tortured God who liberates

Church in the Round Letty M. Russell, 1993-01-01 Ideas of the Christian church are changing and Letty Russell envisions its future as partnership and sharing for all members around a common table of hospitality Russell draws on her pastorate in Harlem her classes in theology and many ecumenical conversations to help the newly emerging church face the challenges of liberation for all people

Uncivil Disobedience David M. Gides, 2022-12-13 This book addresses the need for theological reflection on uncivil disobedience Existing scholarship in theology and politics mostly treats church state relations theoretically with studies in non violent resistance or civil disobedience or in other ways largely assuming traditional forms of governance and means of protest all while paying little to no attention to post modern political philosophies Recent eruptions of uncivil disobedience oftentimes involving violence like we have seen with Antifa Black Lives Matter protests the storming of the U S Capitol Building and in the actions of other right wing leftist and religious groups assume new ways of protesting and new forms of organizing or mobilizing Additionally these groups and their activities are often informed by post modern philosophies These new political dynamics present an opportunity for theologians to produce scholarship in response After establishing philosophical underpinnings related to uncivilly disobedient action the contributors cover traditional historical and theological responses to political unrest as a foundation for considering or evaluating attempts to address theologically present day manifestations of uncivil disobedience

Research as Accompaniment Martín Renzo Rosales, LaShaune P. Johnson, Alexander Rödlach, 2024-06-03 This volume expands conversations about participatory community engaged and action oriented research that inspires social change The authors contend that long term community partnerships inspired by solidarity and characterized by equality and reciprocity result in a deep understanding of community concerns and increase the likelihood that research findings will have an impact on both the community partners and the broader society Such research relationships the authors maintain are best understood as accompaniment This book recognizes the potential as well as constraints of conceptualizing research as accompaniment and emphasizes that this approach is both a continuum and a process Suitable for students and scholars of ethnographic and qualitative methods and professionals using those methods such as those in non government organizations it will appeal to those interested in research with communities in a wide variety of social science and other disciplines including anthropology nursing and public health amongst others Speaking of God in an Inhumane World, Volume 1 Christopher Rowland, 2024-02-28 This two volume collection of essays on the Bible and social justice liberation theology and radical Christianity by Christopher Rowland addresses the question raised by Gustavo Gutierrez about how we can speak of God as a loving parent in a world that continues to be so inhumane These essays by an esteemed New Testament scholar represent intellectual interests of a lifetime as he integrated exegesis of the New Testament texts in their first century contexts and located their interpretations within the quests for meaning and significance that exist within contemporary society These essays represent mostly the latter concern exploring Christian Scripture which has informed the lives of men and women down the centuries as they interpret both contexts and in doing so make a significant contribution to contextual theology that should be heard by the inhabitants of both contexts The first volume of Speaking of God in an Inhumane World includes essays on liberation theology and radical Christianity the second volume focuses primarily on radical Christianity and includes reflections on Gerrard Winstanley William Blake William Stringfellow and others Christ Is a Native American Achiel Peelman, 2006-03-14 During his 1984 visit to Canada Pope John Paul II declared Christ in the members of his body is himself Indian Who is this native Christ What is his place in the spiritual universe of native people Achiel Peelman examines these questions in this timely and groundbreaking book which is the result of research he has carried out since 1982 in native communities across Canada While Peelman s book is a work of theology and Christology it is also a work of profound friendship that will help its readers know more deeply the Amerindian experience Church, Liberation and World Religions Mario I. Aguilar, 2012-11-02 This work proposes a theological investigation of the community of the Church as outlined by liberation theology and a possible conversation with liberation from suffering in Tibetan Buddhism What unites both is the human process of sublimation for others whereby liberation theologians as well as enlightened lamas give the best of themselves for the liberation of others At this stage of discussions between inclusivists and exclusivists this work proposes that dialogue with world religions and therefore with Buddhism is not about finding possible dogmatic similarities but a

The Ten Green Commandments of Laudato Si'

Joshtrom Kureethadam, 2019-01-03 The publication of Laudato Si' a papal encyclical on a defining issue of our times was a moment of great importance for Catholics and for the world Now Fr Joshtrom Kureethadam one of the church's top experts on the document provides a thoughtful passionate and highly accessible commentary on its key ideas and themes Faithfully attentive to the outline of the six chapters of the encyclical Fr Joshtrom has also insightfully arranged the book according to the See Judge Act methodology that is increasingly used in spirituality moral theology and the social sciences If Pope Francis is right when he insists that the solution to our environmental problems cannot be found only in technocratic approaches by governments and institutions but by a wide and thoughtful embrace by all of us of our common responsibility then Fr Joshtrom's book is precisely what we need at this time
