Uncaging Animal Spirits Ralph Landau, 1994 Uncaging Animal Spirits collects all of Landau s major papers from the last thirty years covering his scientific discoveries his views on innovation and entrepreneurship his reflections on his own field of chemical engineering and his research on the global marketplace and on the relation of technology innovation and the economy Chemical engineering has been one of the major high tech growth industries of the post World War II period and one of the few in which U S companies have retained an international advantage over their competitors As an engineer and entrepreneur Ralph Landau played a large role in this success story Uncaging Animal Spirits collects all of Landau s major papers from the last thirty years covering his scientific discoveries his views on innovation and entrepreneurship his reflections on his own field of chemical engineering and his research on the global marketplace and on the relation of technology innovation and the economy The emphasis throughout is on Landau s view of the status of entrepreneurship in the United States as tempered by his experience in an international business and his many attempts to get the federal government to think seriously about its role in creating a reasonable playing field for entrepreneurs As Landau developed his business he became increasingly concerned about the extent to which government officials misunderstood or didn t care about the needs of technology based industries and the relationship between technology and economic growth When he sold his company in the early 1980s Landau took on the task of educating himself in economic theory and educating economists policy makers and the government about this crucial relationship He has established centers at Stanford and Harvard to focus attention on issues of technology and the economy

Knowledge and Industrial Organization Ake E. Andersson, David F. Batten, Charlie Karlsson, 2012-12-06 This volume contains a selection of papers presented at an international symposium on research and development industrial change and economic policy organized and hosted by the University of Karlstad Viinnland Sweden Situated about halfway between Stockholm and Oslo Karlstad stands on the River Klara which reaches north into the mountains of Norway Founded by King Charles IX of Sweden whose statue stands in the city centre beside the river the city celebrated its 400th anniversary in 1984 For many decades the wealth of Karlstad has been based on traditional industries such as iron timber and paper and throughout the province of Viinnland there are a considerable number of industrial communities which grew up around mines ironworks sawmills and papermills Even the cultural structure of these communities is heavily marked by the industrial environment in which they developed However for over a decade now a major structural reorientation has been taking place and the old industrial structures have been disappearing For various reasons the importance of large scale manufacturing companies has declined and as a result of intense development work with new ideas new entrepreneurs and new technology we have seen the rapid rise of small companies In this context recent research has shown that universities playing an increasingly central role in regional development Thus the continued development of the University of Karlstad is of significant regional and national interest Although fairly small in an international perspective approximately 4000 students the university is expanding rapidly

Global Digital Technology Convergence Ewa Lechman,Adam Marszk,2024-04-11 Since the 1970s we have witnessed unprecedented diffusion of digital technologies in both speed and geographic coverage These technologies are pervasive and disruptive and lead to profound shifts and transformations in societies and economies Many claim that emerging network externalities are the principal phenomenon driving the process of technology diffusion and determining its in time dynamics This book analyzes the unique role network effects play in the process of digital technology diffusion Using the time span of 1980 2022 and data from over 180 countries the authors examines the strength and determinants of emerging network externalities in the process of digital technology diffusion across the world Moreover using international case studies it traces the process of technology convergence and technology convergence club formation intending to answer whether cross country gaps are diminishing or rather growing and if countries form unique clubs within which a rapid convergence occurs Global Digital Technology Convergence is written for scholars and researchers in the fields of technology and innovation management information and communication technology economic development and the economics of innovation

Regional Innovation Potential: The Case of the U.S. Machine Tool Industry Steven R. Nivin,2018-01-12 This title was first published in 2000 Steven Nivin analyzes a process vital to economic development technological change He furthers understanding of the processes driving innovation so that we may gain a deeper insight into the development of economies Specifically the study explores the concept of innovation potential and the factors that result in variations in innovation potential across metropolitan areas using the US machine tool industry as a case study To provide a comparison the same models are also estimated for the semiconductor industry The findings indicate that urbanisation economies localization economies human capital universities and invention derived knowledge are significant factors The study assesses the contributions of three different skill levels of human capital college educated graduate degree and locally produced PhD s in mechanical and electrical engineering Only the graduate and PhD degree measures are found to be significant indicating the importance of having a highly skilled pool of labour within the region The influences of the factors appear to be similar across industries with some slight differences The transfer of knowledge through patents is also studied It is found that the transmission of this knowledge is slower between different industries relative to the transmission within the same industry
