The Private World Of Jean Giono:

The Private World of Jean Giono W. D. Redfern, 1967 Private World of Jean Giono W. D. Redfern, 1984 The Facts on File Companion to the French Novel Karen L. Taylor, 2006 French novels such as Madame Bovary and The Stranger are staples of high school and college literature courses This work provides coverage of the French novel since its origins in the 16th century with an emphasis on novels most commonly studied in high school and college courses in world literature and in French culture and civilization Giono Norma Lorre Goodrich, 2015-03-08 Since his death in October 1970 Jean Giono's reputation as a major French novelist has steadily increased In order to treat most powerfully the essential nature of modern man confronted with the worst problems of the twentieth century he adapted into prose the tried and true literary modes the epic the pastoral Greek tragedy Shakespearean tragedy and autobiography In Giono's work the old modes and familiar forms continue to fulfill the age old functions of great literature we see the Christian epic suddenly made relevant to everyday life or the pagan epic re explain modern male savagery In Giono's hands the novel explains man to himself shows man more clearly the world about him and offers to men everywhere renewed courage and hope Originally published in 1973 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 English Language Criticism on the Foreign Novel: 1965-1975, 1989 Critical interest in foreign novels especially the Latin American and African novel has burgeoned in the past two decades The purpose of this reference bibliography is to provide easier access to the criticism produced from 1965 to 1975 on novels published in Africa Latin America Europe Asia Canada Australia and the middle East A second volume will cover criticism between 1976 and 1985 Throughout this work the term foreign novel includes novels and other longer works of fiction produced in all countries other than the United States and the United Kingdom Coverage ranges in time of writing from Apuleius Metamorphosis first century A D and Murasaki's Tale of Genji 11th century to Garcia Marquez's 100 Years of Solitude 1967 and Margaret Atwood's Surfacing 1972 The 277 journals chosen primarily because of their wide circulation and 584 books indexed for relevant material contribute to the 13 000 bibliographic citations on 1 500 authors This is a reference tool which is surely essential for any library or world literature scholar Fragments of a Paradise Jean Giono, 2024-11-05 Giono's prose is a singularly fine blend of realism and poetic sensibility The Washington Post Giono's very own Moby Dick a sensational maritime journey that follows a crew inwards on a spiritual tale of evocative sea glimpses An allegorical critique of modern civilization and the damages of war Giono's oft overlooked seafaring tale sweeps the reader along a narrative as poetic and undulating as the wind tacking between the sea's mysteries and the intricacies of the men's conversations and inner thoughts as they attempt to grasp the sensory reality around them I no longer have any interest in living under the conditions that this era allows writes the Captain of L Indien a ship whose radio remains packed in a crate in the hold The men aboard won t be needing it they have no interest in connecting with the world of ordinary men With enough provisions to last them five years they set sail in July of 1940 for the South Seas leaving civilization behind in search of the unknown Hastening onwards Giono s men steer deeper into themselves seeking a purpose beyond the world in upheaval they left behind a moving and spiritual work written by one of Europe s most ardent 20th century pacifists A sensational novel that delves into the unknown reaches of the sea and soul perfect for readers seeking a poetic escape that challenges the political and social status quo Jean Giono's Hidden Reality Edward Bruce Ford,2004 This volume demonstrates that throughout his career Jean Giono believed that true reality was hidden behind appearances Re-Embroidering the Robe Suzanne Bray,Adrienne E. Gavin,Peter Merchant,2009-10-02 Religious faith myths and legends have always been present in literature However their role has changed over time Since the middle of the nineteenth century with the diminishing role of religion in European society writers with some kind of belief system whether religious or political have tended to use myth in two different ways They have either retold the old familiar myths of the past so that they carry fresh messages relevant to a contemporary audience or created their own new myths as modern vehicles of traditional truths Many writers have combined the two techniques Such is the transforming artistry which the eighteen essays in Re Embroidering the Robe examine the remaking or new minting of myth in literature from 1850 to the present day so that what it embodies and expresses speaks powerfully to the modern reader In widely differing ways therefore all of the texts analysed here compel attention
