Situated Literacies:

Situated Literacies David Barton, Mary Hamilton, Roz Ivanic, 2005-08-04 Situated Literacies is a rich and varied collection of key writings from leading international scholars in the field of literacy. Each contribution written in a clear accessible style makes the link between literacies in specific contexts and broader social practices. Detailed ethnographic studies of a wide variety of specific situations all involving real texts and lived practices are balanced with general claims about the nature of literacy. Contributors address a coherent set of issues: the visual and material aspects of literacy; concepts of time and space in relation to literacy; the functions of literacies in shaping and sustaining identities in communities of practice; the relationship between texts and the practices associated with their use; the role of discourse analysis on literacy studies. These studies along with a foreword by Denny Taylor make a timely and important contribution to literacy theory and suggest directions for the further development of the field. Situated Literacies is essential reading for anyone involved in literary education.

Languages and Literacies as Mobile and Placed Resources Sue Nichols, Collette Snowden, 2016-10-04 Languages and Literacies as Mobile and Placed Resources explores how languages and literacies are implicated in the complex relationship between place and mobility. It is a book that represents the next wave in literacy studies in which theories of mobility, networking and globalisation have emerged to account for the dynamic landscape of globally circulating communication resources. Authors in this volume take up a more complex way of thinking about resources, applying it to consider languages and literacies as assemblages or as parts of assemblages that are involved in learning, teaching and meaning making. The book addresses forms of text and mobility that arise in contexts outside of formal education including marketing, charity, journalism, community organisation and parenting. It also addresses school contexts and higher education settings. Key topics explored include: Consequences of workplace confinement; Literacies as placed resources in the context of rural communities; Literacy sustainability and landscapes for learning; Documenting networked knowledge on tablets; Mobilising literacy policy through resources; Global Englishes as placed resources; Languages as contextualised resources; Shaping a digital academic writing resource in a transcultural space. With an international range of carefully chosen contributors, this book is a must read text for all academics interested in semiotics and literacy studies.

Literacy Research for Political Action and Social Change Mollie V. Blackburn, Caroline T. Clark, 2007 This book and its contributors all of whom view literacy research as explicitly political and potentially transformative provide images and approaches that show how work with in the local can and must be connected to global issues in order to effect political action. Researchers and educators are urged to take activist stances that directly affect and address the needs of all people across lines of race, class, ethnicity, sexuality and gender. The book is organized into three parts each focusing on different aspects of literacy research for political action. These include theoretical considerations and methodological approaches that support this work, a reconsideration of the roles of participants as collaborators in this kind of literacy research and finally examples of projects.

specifically aimed at addressing global issues through local research for political action Literacy in Practice Patrick Thomas, Pamela Takayoshi, 2015-11-19 The rise of New Literacy Studies and the shift from studying reading and writing as a technical process to examining situated literacies what people do with literacy in particular social situations has focused attention toward understanding the connections between reading and writing practices and the broader social goals and cultural practices these literacy practices help to shape This collection brings together situated research studies of literacy across a range of specific contexts covering everyday educational and workplace domains Its contribution is to provide through an empirical framework a larger cumulative understanding of literacy across diverse contexts

Computer-Mediated Communication for Linguistics and Literacy: Technology and Natural Language Education Bodomo, Adams B., 2009-07-31 This book investigates the way humans communicate through the medium of information technology gadgets focusing on the linguistic literacy and educational aspects of computer mediated communication Provided by publisher Literacy in Times of Crisis Laurie MacGillivray, 2009-12-04 On the frontline of critical issues in education today this volume covers new ground for teachers and teacher educators for whom crisis is a daily part of their work Exploring the relationship between crisis and literacy its aims are to improve educators ability to recognize cope with and avoid crisis and to advance their understanding of the dynamic relationship between crisis and cultural historical and political literacy practices Searching for Literacy Harvey J. Graff, 2022-08-21 This book provides a critical account of the development of questions approaches methods and understandings of literacy within and across disciplines and interdisciplines It provides a critique of literacy studies including the New Literacy Studies This book completes a series that the author began in the 1970s It criticizes and revises the New Literacy Studies and how we think about literacy generally It is a revisionist study which argues that literacy and literacy studies are historical developments and must be understood in those terms to comprehend their profound impact on our traditions of thinking about and understanding literacy and how we study it Graff argues that literacy studies in its academic institutional and policy forums but also in popular parlance has lost its critical foundations and this hinders efforts to promote literacy He examines literacy over time and across linguistics anthropology psychology reading and writing across modes of communication and comprehension new literacies across digital visual performance numerical and scientific domains and history He underscores the value of new directions of negotiation and translation This book will interest scholars and students in the many fields that constitute literacy studies across the humanities social sciences education and beyond Genetic Literacy in Direct-to-Consumer Genetic Testing

Zhengpeng Luo, 2025-11-14 This book examines language and communication in a novel area of digital health Situating itself within the sociocultural paradigm of literacy research the book proposes a discourse oriented approach to genetic literacy and applies it to the study of public engagement with direct to consumer DTC genetic testing an emergent biotechnology operating at the intersection of personal genomics consumer culture and online health The author draws on a rich dataset comprising marketing materials from a leading genetic company in China interviews with genetic test users and online forum interactions involving consumers and members of the genetic company Using in depth analyses of authentic discourse data the book examines how key stakeholders in DTC genetic testing discursively construct and negotiate socially situated knowledges about genetics and health to pursue a range of interactional goals Challenging the static and cognitive view of genetic literacy as a set of decontextualised knowledge and skills in scientific and medical fields this book argues for a reconceptualisation of genetic literacy as a dynamic and socially situated discursive practice Building on key insights from medical sociology the author discusses genetic literacy within the context of broader societal shifts including the biomedicalisation of health and the rise of neoliberal ideologies and practices in contemporary healthcare Written in a clear and accessible style this book will appeal to researchers and students working in the areas of sociolinguistics discourse analysis and health communication It will also be of particular interest to practitioners in genetics and health as well as members of the general public seeking to understand the social aspects of public engagement with genetics and health

Critical Literacy Pedagogy for Bilingual Preservice Teachers Hyesun Cho, 2018-02-15 This book presents a participatory action research study exploring the social identity and academic literacies of bilingual preservice teachers It describes the transformative experiences of undergraduate students during their participation in a program specially designed to develop bilingual teachers in Hawaii USA Further it discusses how the curriculum and instruction in the classroom provide a third space for facilitating peer interaction and critical reflection on such issues as academic literacy heritage language education and teacher identity In doing so it connects ideas of social identity and academic literacies of bilingual preservice teachers to the real work of mentoring and teaching PreK 12 students themselves The Digital Reading Condition Maria Engberg, Iben Have, Birgitte Stougaard Pedersen, 2022-12-30 This volume offers a critical overview of digital reading practices and scholarly efforts to analyze and understand reading in the mediatized landscape Building on research about digital reading born digital literature and digital audiobooks The Digital Reading Condition explores reading as part of a broader cultural shift encompassing many forms of media and genres Bringing together research from media and literary studies digital humanities scholarship on reading and learning as well as sensory studies and research on multimodal and multisensory media reception the authors address and challenge print biased conceptions of reading that are still prevalent in research whether the reading medium is print or digital They argue that the act of reading itself is changing and rather than rejecting digital media as unsuitable for sustained or focused reading practices they argue that the complex media landscape challenges us to rethink how to define reading as a mediated practice Presenting a truly interdisciplinary perspective on digital reading practices this volume will appeal to scholars and graduate students in communication media studies new media and technology literature digital humanities literacy studies composition and rhetoric
