Soane and Death John Soane, 1996 Sir John Soane's Influence on Architecture from 1791 Mr Oliver Bradbury, 2015-03-28 Through examinations of internationally renowned architects Bradbury demonstrates that Sir John Soane's influence has been truly international in the pre modern era reaching throughout the British Isles and beyond to North America and even colonial Australia Through his inclusion of select detailed case studies Bradbury contends that Soane's is a continuing not negated legacy in architecture

The Architecture of Ruins Jonathan Hill, 2019-03-25 The Architecture of Ruins Designs on the Past Present and Future identifies an alternative and significant history of architecture from the sixteenth century to the twenty first century in which a building is designed occupied and imagined as a ruin This design practice conceives a monument and a ruin as creative interdependent and simultaneous themes within a single building dialectic addressing temporal and environmental questions in poetic psychological and practical terms and stimulating questions of personal and national identity nature and culture weather and climate permanence and impermanence and life and death Conceiving a building as a dialogue between a monument and a ruin intensifies the already blurred relations between the unfinished and the ruined and envisages the past the present and the future in a single architecture Structured around a collection of biographies this book conceives a monument and a ruin as metaphors for a life and means to negotiate between a self and a society Emphasising the interconnections between designers and the particular ways in which later architects learned from earlier ones the chapters investigate an evolving interdisciplinary design practice to show the relevance of historical understanding to design Like a history a design is a reinterpretation of the past that is meaningful to the present Equally a design is equivalent to a fiction convincing users to suspend disbelief We expect a history or a novel to be written in words but they can also be delineated in drawing cast in concrete or seeded in soil The architect is a physical novelist as well as a physical historian Like building sites ruins are full of potential In revealing not only what is lost but also what is incomplete a ruin suggests the future as well as the past As a stimulus to the imagination a ruin s incomplete and broken forms expand architecture s allegorical and metaphorical capacity indicating that a building can remain unfinished literally and in the imagination focusing attention on the creativity of users as well as architects Emphasising the symbiotic relations between nature and culture a building designed occupied and imagined as a ruin acknowledges the coproduction of multiple authors whether human non human or atmospheric and is an appropriate model for architecture in an era of increasing climate change Housing the New

Romans Katharine T. von Stackelberg, Elizabeth Macaulay-Lewis, 2017 In the last twenty years reception studies have significantly enhanced our understanding of the ways in which Classics has shaped modern Western culture but very little attention has been directed toward the reception of classical architecture Housing the New Romans Architectural Reception and Classical Style in the Modern World addresses this gap by investigating ways in which appropriation and allusion facilitated the reception of Classical Greece and Rome through the requisition and redeployment of classicizing tropes to create neo Antique sites of dwelling in the 19th and early 20th centuries The volume across nine essays will cover both European and American iterations of place making including Sir John Soanes house in London the H tel de Beauharnais in Paris and the Getty Villa in California By focusing on structures and places that are oriented towards private life houses hotels clubs tombs and gardens the volume directs the critical gaze towards diverse and complex sites of curatorial self fashioning The goal of the volume is to provide a multiplicity of interpretative frameworks e g object agency enchantment hyperreality memory infrastructure that may be applied to the study of architectural reception This critical approach makes Housing the New Romans the first work of its kind in the emerging field of architectural and landscape reception studies and in the hitherto textually dominated field of classical reception The Production Sites of Architecture Sophia
