Something About Myself:

A Grammar of the Idiom of the New Testament Georg Benedikt Winer, 1870 Visual Perception in Children and Adolescents with Visual Impairments Jeff C. Rabin, Corinna M. Bauer, Karen Harpster, Raelyn Ottenbreit, 2025-10-16

Visual perception plays a fundamental role in our understanding of the world around us. However, for children and adolescents with visual impairments, this ability is significantly compromised. Understanding the visual perception processes in this population is crucial for their development and overall well-being. The main goal of this Research Topic is to address the gaps in our understanding of visual perception in children and adolescents with visual impairments. We aim to explore the unique challenges they face, identify the specific visual processing deficits that may be present, and propose innovative approaches to support their visual development. By investigating this domain, we can enhance our knowledge of how the visual system adapts and develops in the absence of visual input, ultimately leading to improved support and intervention strategies for these individuals.

Correct English, 1899 Dear Miloš: Bohuslav Martinů's letters to Miloš Šafránek Vít Zouhar, Gabriela Coufalová, 2020. The monograph consists of a set of correspondence with Miloš, a Czech diplomat, music journalist, Martin's biographer, and a promoter of his work. The volume contains the diplomatic transcriptions of 168 letters, six postcards, five postal cards, one telegram, and one lettercard from the period of 1928-1959. The vast majority of the correspondence is unilateral, addressed to Miloš; only two of the items were sent by Miloš. The method of diplomatic transcription chosen by the authors of the edition respects the peculiarities of Martin's linguistic expression. Comprehensive annotations provide historical context and illustrate the political circumstances of the most tumultuous years of the twentieth century, but they also comment on the genesis of compositions.
