The Confirmation Of Otherness In Family Community And Society:

The Confirmation of Otherness, in Family, Community, and Society Maurice S. Friedman, 1983 The confirmation of otherness transcends the bounds of the intrapsychic the traditional province of psychology in its concern with the realm of the between p xi preface

Communication and Community Ronald C. Arnett, 1986 Martin Buber s work suggests that real life begins with two individuals engaged in dialogue not just taking care of one s own needs as described in social Darwinism Arnett argues that the end of the age of abundance demands that we give up the communicative strategies of the past and seek to work together in the midst of limited resources and an uncertain future Today s situation calls for an unwavering commitment to Buber s narrow ridge concern for both self and community Arnett illustrates the narrow ridge definition of interpersonal communication with rich examples His vignettes demonstrate effective and ineffective approaches to human community An effective approach he makes clear incorporates not only openness to others points of view but also a willingness to be persuaded

The specific focus of Martin Buber and the Human Sciences is dialogue as the foundation of and integrating factor in the human sciences using dialogue in the special sense which Buber has made famous mutuality presentness openness meeting the other in his or her uniqueness and not just as a content for one s own thought categories and knowing as deriving in the first instance from mutual contact rather than knowledge of a subject about an object By the human sciences the authors editors mean material that can be meaningfully approached in a dialogic way hence the humanities education psychology speech communication anthropology history sociology and economics The essays in Martin Buber and the Human Sciences demonstrate that thirty years after Buber s death his influence is still resonating in many countries and in many fields

Genuine Dialogue and Real Partnership Maurice Friedman, 2011-03-30 Building Genuine Community emphasizes a notion of a community in which people are bound together by a common life situation and a common purpose without using that common purpose as an exclusionary factor that distinguishes between those who belong and those who do not belong to the community Without being scholarly technical or obscure Building Genuine Community lays the foundation for true community which is the seeking need of the age True community is difficult to define What makes some communities thrive and others fail True community is not an ideal or a specific goal Rather it is a twofold direction of movement a movement within each particular structure of family community and society to discover the maximum possibilities of the confirmation of individuals as true others within that structure as well as a movement from structure to structure toward more genuine community Building Genuine Community proposes nothing less than to do away with the old and tired polarities of the individual versus society individualism versus collectivism competition versus cooperation and free enterprise versus socialism In place of all these ideals this treatise confirms that otherness is the only meaningful direction of movement for friendship marriage family community and society within a democracy

A Communication Ethic of Dialogic Reformation Michael R. Kearney, 2025-03-10 Calls for reformation were widespread across the medieval Roman Catholic Church but few were as nuanced or philosophically rich as the lifelong work of Cardinal Nicholas of Cusa 1401 1464 Cusa centralized the coincidentia oppositorum the coincidence of opposites in our knowledge of God and the mystical institution of the Church In his book Michael R Kearney traces Cusa s historical impact on philosophy of communication and communication ethics with an eye toward the health of institutions in a postmodern moment of cynicism and decline Cusa loved the church and fought passionately for its reform energized by the clouded vision of a God who is beyond opposites This champion of dialogic reformation offers churches and communities an unfinished task with a unity of contraries at its heart upholding local narrative ground with tenacious loyalty while working in an increasingly large world
