The Impact Of Chinese Secret Societies In Malaya A Historical Study:

The Impact of Chinese Secret Societies in Malaya Wilfred Blythe, 1969 Historical background and study of the extent of political leadership and influence of Chinese secret interest groups and societies in Malaysia and Singapore includes a survey of the place of such societies in the history of China and covers organisation and rituals of such societies social implications and economic implications of their influence psychological aspects of their maintenance of Chinese traditions relationships with political parties etc Bibliography The Impact of Chinese Secret Societies in Malaya Wilfred Blythe, 1969

Secret Societies Reconsidered: Perspectives on the Social History of Early Modern South China and Southeast Asia David Ownby, Mary F. Somers Heidhues, 2016-09-16 A discussion of the development of secret societies within China and among Chinese communities in colonial Southeast Asia in the late 18th and 19th centuries Ethnic Chinese

Business In Asia: History, Culture And Business Enterprise Ching-hwang Yen, 2013-09-13 This unique volume provides a broad introduction to the ethnic Chinese business in Asia with focus on the ethnic Chinese in East and Southeast Asia The growing interest in ethnic Chinese business reflects its importance in these two regional economies and its relations with China's economy the world's new economic powerhouse It examines the nature and characteristics of the ethnic Chinese business such as business networks family business and conglomerates concepts of xinyong and guanxi and entrepreneurship and management It also examines the input of history and culture in the formation and operation of ethnic Chinese business The second half of the book is devoted to detailed regional studies covering the Chinese in Thailand Malaysia and Singapore Indonesia the Philippines Hong Kong and Taiwan This book provides an excellent introduction for tertiary students in business schools and for prospective businessmen who wish to do business with the Chinese in East and Southeast Asia

The Hidden History of Crime, Corruption, and States Renate Bridenthal, 2017-06 Renowned historical sociologist Charles Tilly wrote many years ago that banditry piracy gangland rivalry policing and war making all belong on the same continuum This volume pursues the idea by revealing how lawbreakers and lawmakers have related to one another on the shadowy terrains of power over wide stretches of time and space Illicit activities and forces have been more important in state building and state maintenance than conventional histories have acknowledged Covering vast chronological and global terrain this book traces the contested and often overlapping boundaries between these practices in such very different polities as the pre modern city states of Europe the modern nation states of France and Japan the imperial power of Britain in India and North America Africa's and Southeast Asia's postcolonial states and the emerging postmodern regional entity of the Mediterranean Sea Indeed the contemporary explosion of transnational crime raises the question of whether or not the relationship of illicit to licit practices may be mutating once more leading to new political forms beyond the nation state

Histories, Cultures, Identities Sharon A. Carstens, 2005 Histories Cultures Identities deals with two central questions relating to the Chinese community in Malaysia First how has being Chinese shaped the responses of this community to political economic and social developments in the country And second how have their experiences in Malaysia affected the way in which immigrants from China and their descendants identify themselves as Chinese Chinese Business in the Making of a Malay State, 1882-1941 Wu Xiao An, 2003-12-08 An examination of how Chinese family and business networks have been closely interlocked with economic and social structures around which government and states developed New Terrains in Southeast Asian History Abu Talib Ahmad, Liok Ee Tan, 2003 Annotation Southeast Asian scholars may have special insights into their respective countries but they are just as easily infected by political and didactic functions of their national histories as any historian The editors a professor and former professor with the School of Humanities U Sains Malaysia present 15 papers in which Southeast Asian scholars turn a critical eye on their national historiographies Five of the papers explore broad methodological issues while others examine particular historiographic traditions from Burma Myanmar Singapore Malaysia and Thailand The final group consists of case studies of the application of new methodologies and understandings to particular historical events or periods Annotation c 2003 Book News Inc Portland OR booknews com

The Kuomintang Movement in British Malaya, 1912-1949 Ching Fatt Yong, R. B. McKenna, 1990 The Kuomintang KMT the first legalized political party and movement in modern Malaysian and Singaporean history is studied against the background of British colonial rule the changing political circumstances and fortunes in China and the rising and waning of Malayan Chinese nationalism from 1894 While it highlights the development of the Malayan KMT Movement in terms of leadership organization and ideology it also analyzes changing British colonial policy and management techniques toward the Movement Penang Chinese Commerce in the 19th Century Wong Yee Tuan, 2016-04-29 The story of Penang would be incomplete without the Big Five Hokkien families the Khoo the Cheah the Yeoh the Lim and the Tan It was the Big Five who played a preponderant role not only in transforming Penang into a regional entrepot and a business and financial base but also in reconfiguring maritime trading patterns and the business orientation of the region in the nineteenth century Departing from the colonial vantage point this book examines a web of transnational hybrid and fluid networks of the Big Five comprising of family relationship sworn brotherhood political alliance and business partnerships which linked Penang and its surrounding states western Malay states southwestern Siam southern Burma and the north and eastern coasts of Sumatra together to form one economically unified geographical region having inextricable links to China and India With these intertwining networks the Big Five succeeded in establishing their dominance in all the major enterprises trade shipping cash crop planting tin mining opium revenue farms which constituted the linchpin of Penang's and its region's economy By disentangling and dissecting this intricate web of networks this book reveals the rise and decline of the Hokkien mercantile families nearly century long economic ascendancy in Penang and its region e Wong Yee Tuan's study of the five clans of Penang represents a major breakthrough in the study of the Malayan Chinese He documents an extremely important aspect of the nineteenth century Asian diaspora exposing the intricate links between families businesses secret societies revenue farms and public life of some of the key groups of Chinese in Penang and northern Malaya The book weaves together the various strands of overseas Chinese life not only in Malaya but also in the Netherlands Indies Siam and China Most importantly it shows the process by which the Chinese leaders gained political economic and social power as well as the way by which these powers were lost e Carl A Trocki Emeritus Professor Asian Studies Queensland University of Technology Australiae This volume can be situated within a growing historiographical current whereby regional studies of connections networks and interactions are gradually transcending national histories Incorporating commercial ethnic and social elements the history presented can be concurrently seen as a business case study a sociological exploration a political economy treatise and an inquiry into Hokkien networking Wong Yee Tuan is to be congratulated on this signal study in how local national and broader regional histories can be integrated e Geoffrey Wade ANU College of Asia and the Pacific Australian National Universitye By aligning family socio political and business interests the leading Penang Hokkien clans centralized their home port as a hub of regional commercial networks thus successfully extending the trading colonies of Chinese diaspora westward to the edge of the Indian Ocean Wong has fastidiously researched and compellingly proven this with a clear eye for relevant cross cultural collaborations with indigenous and international actors The important legacy of the Big Five clanhouses is now firmly embedded in the George Town World Heritage Site inciting further inquiry into the cultural formation of collective entrepreneurship in Southeast Asia e Khoo Salma Nasution Heritage Advocate and Local Historian Penang

China, Taiwan, Hong Kong Arlene D. C. Luster,1971

Economic Success of Chinese Merchants in Southeast Asia Janet Tai Landa,2016-11-30 This book provides an original analysis of the economic success of Overseas Chinese merchants in Southeast Asia The ethnically homogeneous group of Chinese middlemen is an informal low cost organization for the provision of club goods e g contract enforcement that are essential to merchants success The author s theory and various extensions with emphasis on kinship and other trust relationships draws on economics and the other social sciences and beyond to evolutionary biology Empirical material from her fieldwork forms the basis for developing her unique integrative and transdisciplinary theoretical framework with important policy implications for understanding ethnic conflict in multiethnic societies where minority groups dominate merchant roles

Development Stuart Corbridge,2017-05-15 The volume brings together twenty five of the most influential articles published in the field of development geography since 1960 The first part looks at the origins of development geography and the debates between modernization theorists and radicals that took shape in the 1970s Thereafter the book is organized thematically Geographers have made key contributions to development studies in four major areas all of which are represented here and include gender and households development alternatives and identities resource conflicts and political ecology and globalization and resistance The book ends with three broad ranging essays by leading figures in the field

Race and Migration in the Transpacific Yasuko Takezawa,Akio Tanabe,2022-11-25 Looking at a range of cases from around the Transpacific the contributors to this book explore the complex formulations of race and racism emerging from transoceanic migrations and encounters in the region Asia has a history of ceaseless active and multidirectional migration which continues to bear multilayered and complex genetic diversity The traditional system of rank order between groups of people in Asia consisted of multiple invisible differences in variegated entanglements including descent birthplace occupation and lifestyle Transpacific migration brought about the formation of multilayered and complex racial relationships as the physically indistinguishable yet multifacetedly racialized groups encountered the hegemonic racial order deriving from the transatlantic experience of racialization based on visible differences Each chapter in this book examines a different case study identifying their complexities and particularities while contributing to a broad view of the possibilities for solidarity and human connection in a context of domination and discrimination These cases include the dispossession of the Ainu people the experiences of Burakumin emigrants in America the policing of colonial Singapore and data governance in India A fascinating read for sociologists anthropologists and historians especially those with a particular focus on the Asian and Pacific regions

Ah Ku and Karayuki-san James Francis Warren, 2003 Among the groups of workers whose labour built Singapore in the 20th century were women who travelled from China and Japan to work in Singapore as prostitutes This study explores the trade in women and children in Asia and looks at the daily lives of prostitutes in the colonial city Planting Empire, Cultivating Subjects Lynn Hollen Lees, 2017-12-21 Planting Empire Cultivating Subjects examines the stories of ordinary people to explore the internal workings of colonial rule Chinese Indians and Malays learned about being British through the plantations towns schools and newspapers of a modernizing colony Yet they got mixed messages from the harsh racial hierarchies of sugar and rubber estates and cosmopolitan urban societies Empire meant mobility fluidity and hybridity as well as the enactment of racial privilege and rigid ethnic differences Using sources ranging from administrative files court transcripts and oral interviews to periodicals and material culture Professor Lees explores the nature and development of colonial governance and the ways in which Malayan residents experienced British rule in towns and plantations This is an innovative study demonstrating how empire brought with it both oppression and economic opportunity shedding new light on the shifting nature of colonial subjecthood and identity as well as the memory and afterlife of empire Negotiating Abolition Shawna Herzog, 2020-12-10 Negotiating Abolition The Antislavery Project in the British Straits Settlements 1786 1843 explores how sex and gender complicated the enforcement of colonial anti slavery policies in the region the challenges local officials faced in identifying slave populations and how European reclassification of slave labor to systems of indenture or free labor created a new illicit trade for women and girls to the Straits Settlements of Southeast Asia Through a history of early 19th century slavery and abolition in this often overlooked region in British imperial history Herzog bridges a historiographical gap between colonial and modern slave systems She discusses the dynamic intersectionality between perceptions of race class gender and civilization within the Straits and how this informed behavior and policy regarding slavery abolition and prostitution within the settlement This book provides an important new perspective for scholars of slavery interested in Southeast Asia British imperialism in the Indian Ocean world and Asia the East India Company in the Straits and gender and sexuality in the context of empire Emerging States and Economies Takashi Shiraishi,Tetsushi Sonobe,2018-11-19 This open access book asks why and how some of the developing countries have emerged under a set of similar global conditions what led individual countries to choose the particular paths that led to their emergence and what challenges confront them If we are to understand the nature of major risks and uncertainties in the world we must look squarely at the political and economic dynamics of emerging states such as China India Brazil Russia and ASEAN countries Their rapid economic development has changed the distribution of wealth and power in the world Yet many of them have middle income status To global governance issues they tend to adopt approaches that differ from those of advanced industrialized democracies At home rapid economic growth and social changes put pressure on their institutions to change This volume traces the historical trajectories of two major emerging states China and India and two city states Hong Kong and Singapore It also analyzes cross country data to find the general patterns of economic development and sociopolitical change in relation to globalization and to the middle income trap Colonialism, Violence and Muslims in Southeast Asia Syed Muhd Khairudin Aljunied,2009-06-09 This book deals with the genesis outbreak and far reaching effects of a legal controversy and outbreak of mass violence which determined the course of British colonial rule after post World War Two in Singapore and Malaya It will be of interest to scholars of British Colonial History and Decolonization and Asian History In Pursuit of Gold Sue Fawn Chung,2011-08-01 Both a history of an overlooked community and a well rounded reassessment of prevailing assumptions about Chinese miners in the American West In Pursuit of Gold brings to life in rich detail the world of turn of the century mining towns in the Northwest Sue Fawn Chung meticulously recreates the lives of Chinese immigrants miners merchants and others who populated these towns and interacted amicably with their white and Native American neighbors defying the common perception of nineteenth century Chinese communities as insular enclaves subject to increasing prejudice and violence While most research has focused on Chinese miners in California this book is the first extensive study of Chinese experiences in the towns of John Day in Oregon and Tuscarora Island Mountain and Gold Creek in Nevada Chung illustrates the relationships between miners and merchants within the communities and in the larger context of immigration arguing that the leaders of the Chinese and non Chinese communities worked together to create economic interdependence and to short circuit many of the hostilities and tensions that plagued other mining towns Peppared with fascinating details about these communities from the intricacies of Chinese gambling games to the techniques of hydraulic mining In Pursuit of Gold draws on a wealth of historical materials including immigration records census manuscripts legal documents newspapers memoirs and manuscript collections Chung supplements this historical research with invaluable first hand observations of artifacts that she experienced in archaeological digs and restoration efforts at several of the sites of the former booming mining towns In clear analytical prose Chung expertly characterizes the movement of Chinese miners into Oregon and Nevada the heyday of their mining efforts in the region and the decline of the communities due to changes in the mining industry Highlighting the positive experiences and friendships many of the immigrants had in these relatively isolated mining communities In Pursuit of Gold also suggests comparisons with the Chinese diaspora in other locations such as British Columbia and South Africa
