Abraham,2017-10-27 Divine Agency and Divine Action Volume II builds on Volume I which established that no generic concept of action will suffice for understanding the character of divine actions explicit in the Christian faith Volume II argues that in order to understand divine action one must begin with the array of specific actions predicated of God in the Christian tradition William J Abraham argues that one must practice theology in order to analyze properly the concept of divine action Abraham offers a careful review and evaluation of the particularities of divine action as they appear in the work of biblical patristic medieval and Reformation era theologians Particular attention is given to the divine inspiration of scripture creation incarnation transubstantiation in the Eucharist predestination and divine concurrence The work does not simply repeat the doctrinal formulations found in the Christian tradition but examines them in order to find fresh ways of thinking about these issues for our own time especially with respect to the contemporary debates about divine agency and divine action British Books ,1912 The Christian Work and the Evangelist ,1910 The Publisher ,1912 The Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record ,1912 Cosmos and Revelation Peter R. Johnson,2013-01-15 In a collection of essays spanning some 35 years Luke Timothy Johnson takes on some of the most contested issues in the study of Christian Origins and the New Testament from the historical Jesus and the Jesus of the Gospels through exegetical studies of Luke Acts and Paul to questions pertaining to the development of early Christian history relations with Judaism the uses of polemic sexuality and law Johnson s work is characterized by close attention to texts and a concern for methodological rigor Far from representing scholarly consensus these essays consistently display independence of judgment whether concerning the authorship of Paul s disputed letters the legitimacy of the quest for the historical Jesus or the toxic character of some early Christian texts Fibre & Fabric ,1897
