The Emotional Craft of Fiction Donald Maass, 2016-12-30

Engage Your Readers with Emotion While writers might disagree over showing versus telling or plotting versus pantsing none would argue this If you want to write strong fiction you must make your readers feel The reader's experience must be an emotional journey of its own one as involving as your characters struggles discoveries and triumphs are for you That's where The Emotional Craft of Fiction comes in Veteran literary agent and expert fiction instructor Donald Maass shows you how to use story to provoke a visceral and emotional experience in readers Topics covered include emotional modes of writing beyond showing versus telling your story's emotional world moral stakes connecting the inner and outer journeys plot as emotional opportunities invoking higher emotions symbols and emotional language cascading change story as emotional mirror positive spirit and magnanimous writing the hidden current that makes stories move Readers can simply read a novel or they can experience it The Emotional Craft of Fiction shows you how to make that happen

Aggressive Faith Ollie

Fobbs, 2016-09-26 Aggressive Faith is about giving God the Honour and the Glory that is His to be given in return he gives us Life not that in which we have here in the earth it is an eternal thing that even as this life here expires and it will we that trust in the Lord and have chosen to walk with Him that have chosen to learn of Him that have chosen to try our level best to be like him we then move from life to life not death to death Mandates are all around us and it is those that make us who we are some mandates are good some are evil but this is where we need the Holy Spirit to be able to know the difference to have what we need to apply the gifts of the Spirit as well as the fruit of the Spirit The Mandates of the Kingdom is about learning to be educated enough in the things of God that we then can be the light that God said that we are not that we are becoming we are the salt of the earth and the light of the world not that we should be of the world but we should bring the death out

Georges Bataille Benjamin Noys, 2000-05-20 This is a guide to the life and work of the French intellectual Georges

Bataille best known as the author of the celebrated erotic novel The Story of the Eye Benjamin Noys introduces Bataille as a writer out of step with the dominant intellectual trends of his day surrealism and existentialism and shows that it was his very marginality that accounted in large part for his subsequent importance for the post structuralists and the counterculture in Europe and in the United States Treating Bataille's work as a whole rather than focusing as other studies have done on aspects of his work i.e. as social theory or philosophy Noys study is intended to be sensitive to the needs of students new to Bataille's work while at the same time drawing on the latest research on Bataille to offer new interpretations of Bataille's oeuvre for more experienced readers This is the first clear introductory reading of Bataille in English challenging current reductive readings and stressing the range of disciplines affected by Bataille's work at a time when interest in Bataille is growing

Jewish Woman in Jewish Law Moshe Meiselman, 1978 Rabbi Moshe Meiselman addresses the attitude of Jewish law to women and how the Jewish tradition views the contemporary challenge of feminism He discusses in detail such current issues as creative ritual women in a minyan aliyot for women talit and tefillin The question of agunah is also given lengthy consideration The author mixes current issues with scholarly ones and gives full treatment to other issues such as learning Torah by women women position in court both as witnesses and as litigants the marriage ceremony marital life Amazon.com

Intimate Reading Jessica Barr, 2020-04-20 Intimate Reading Textual Encounters in Medieval Women's Visions and Vitae explores the ways that women mystics sought to make their books into vehicles for the reader's spiritual transformation Jessica Barr argues that the cognitive work of reading these texts was meant to stimulate intensely personal responses and that the very materiality of the book can produce an intimate encounter with God She thus explores the differences between mystics' biographies and their self presentation analyzing as well the complex rhetorical moves that medieval women writers employ to render their accounts more effective This new volume is structured around five case studies Chapters consider the biographies of 13th century holy women from Li ge the writings of Margery Kempe Gertrude of Helfta Mechthild of Magdeburg Marguerite Porete and Julian of Norwich At the heart of Intimate Reading is the question of how reading works what it means to enter imaginatively and intellectually into the words of another The volume showcases the complexity of medieval understandings of the work of reading deepening our perception of the written word's capacity to signify something that lies even beyond rational comprehension

Hidden Geographies Marko Krevs, 2021-10-21 This book defines and discusses the term hidden geographies in two ways systematically and by presenting a variety of examples of the research fields and topics concerning hidden geographies with the aim of stimulating further basic and applied research in this area While the term is quite rarely used in the scientific literature more often as a figure of speech than to illustrate or problematize its deeper meaning we argue that hidden geographies are everywhere and many of them have significant impacts on other natural and social phenomena and processes subsequently triggering changes for example in landscape economy culture health or quality of life The introductory section of the book conceptualises hidden geographies and discusses cognitive geography symbolization of space and the hidden geographies in mystical literature Case studies of hidden environmental geographies address soils air pollution coastal pollution and the allocation of an astronomical tourism site Revealing hidden historical and sacred places is illustrated through examples of the visualisation of the subterranean mining landscape the analysis of the historical road network and trade border stones and historical spatial boundaries and the monastic Carthusian space Hidden urban geographies are discussed in terms of the urban development of an entire city presenting the role of geography in rescuing architecture revealing illegal urbanisation and the quality of habitation in Roma neighbourhoods Case studies of hidden population geographies shed light on the ageing of rural populations and the impact of spatial demographic disparities on fertility variations Discussions of hidden social and economic geographies problematize recent social changes and conflicts in a country present the implementation of the fourth industrial revolution and borders as hidden obstacles in the organisation of public transport Hidden geographies are explicitly linked to perceptions and explanations in case studies that address local responses to perceived marginalisation in a city the solo women travellers perceived risk and safety and hidden geographical contexts of visible post war landscapes The book brings such a diversity of views ideas and examples related to hidden geographies that can serve both to deepen their understanding and their various impacts on our lives and environment and to attract further cross disciplinary interest in considering hidden geographies in research and in our every day lives

In Old Friendship Frank G. Novak, Jr., 2007-05-14 Between 1928 and 1981 architectural and cultural critic Lewis Mumford exchanged nearly six hundred letters with Melville scholar and Harvard psychologist Henry A Murray In Old Friendship documents that richly rewarding interaction Covering fifty years of devoted camaraderie between two exceptional minds the book offers profound insights into the intellectual frustrations behind their significant careers and the emotional needs that framed their vibrant often dramatic lives To Mumford a writer who sought to change the course of world events iconoclastic Murray became a welcome confidant critic mentor and friend The letters reflect the wide range of public and private interests held by both men Love's entanglements are aired alongside literary labors By chronicling the private worlds of these intellectual icons this volume emerges as a crucial research tool for students of American intellectual history and culture literary criticism urbanism architecture and political arenas such as World War II and the Cold War It offers a unique prism through which to observe the dramatic shifts in American society and culture in the twentieth century

Reason's Muse Geneviève Fraisse, 1994-05-28 The French Revolution proclaimed the equality of all human beings yet women remained less than equal in the new society The exclusion of women at the birth of modern democracy required considerable justification and by tracing the course of this reasoning through early nineteenth century texts Genevieve Fraisse maps a moment of crisis in the history of sexual difference Through an analysis of literary religious legal philosophical and medical texts Fraisse links a range of positions on women s proper role in society to specific historical and rhetorical circumstances She shows how the Revolution marked a sharp break in the way women were represented in language as traditional bantering about the war of the sexes gave way to serious discussions of the political and social meanings of sexual difference Following this discussion on three different planes the economical the political and the biological Fraisse looks at the exclusion of women against the backdrop of democracy s inevitable lie the affirmation of an equality so abstract it was impossible to concretely apply This study of the place of sexual equality in the founding moment of democracy offers insight into a persistent question whether female emancipation is to be found through the achievement of equality with men or in the celebration of female difference

Editing Early Modern Women Sarah C. E. Ross, Paul Salzman, 2016-07-21 This volume offers a new and comprehensive exploration of the theory and practice of editing early modern women s writing

Marriage as a Fine Art Julia Kristeva, Philippe Sollers, 2016-12-20 We found so much to say to share to learn For it wasn t just the Marquis de Sade profile and the sporty thighs and calves that seduced me It was even more perhaps or certainly just as much the speed at which you used to read and still do Julia Kristeva We re married Julia and I that s a fact but we each have our own personalities our own name activities and freedom Love is the full recognition of the other in their otherness If this other is very close to you as in this case it seems to me that what s at stake is harmony within difference The difference between men and women is irreducible there s no possibility of fusion Philippe Sollers Marriage as a Fine Art is an enchanting series of exchanges in which Julia Kristeva and Philippe Sollers married for fifty years speak candidly about their love Though they live separately Kristeva and Sollers are fully committed to each other Their bond is intellectual and psychological passionate and mundane They share everything when together and lose themselves in their interests when apart Their marriage is art rich with history and meaning idiosyncratic and dynamic in its expression Yet it is also as common as they come Kristeva and Sollers have lived through the same challenges peaks and lulls as all married couples do With humor and honesty they elaborate on these moments turning marriage s familiar aspects into exceptional examples of relating struggling transcending and being

Marriage as a Fine Art is a rare chance to know these intellectuals and marriage more intimately
