A Diplomatic History of the United States ,1936 The Capacity of International Organizations to Conclude Treaties, and the Special Legal Aspects of the Treaties so Concluded Hungdah Chiu,2012-12-06 Mter an international organization is established if it is necessary for it to acquire certain rights or assume duties or new functions not provided in its constitution there are four techniques to achieve that 1 end The first is to amend the constitution of the organization If the organization has only a limited number of members then this technique is not too cumbersome But the procedure for amending a constitution is usually complicated and requires a substantial period of time Thus this technique has at least the disadvantage of delay 2 The second technique is to conclude a treaty among the member States of the organization The organization is not a party to that treaty but it can acquire some rights assume some duties or new functions under the treaty 3 The disadvantage of this technique is similar to the first one i e the conclusion of a multilateral treaty may mean delay since the procedure involved is so complicated and cumbersome 1 E g the Constitution of the ILO Cmd No 393 T S No 4 of 1919 1919 13 Foreign ReI U S Paris Conf 695 1947 was amended on October 9 1946 62 Stat 3485 T I A S No 1868 15 U N T S      The International Molders Union of North America Frank Tenney Stockton,1922

Exploring World History through Geography Julie Crea Dunbar,2022-09-29 Not your run of the mill world history tome this book takes readers on a fascinating journey through time to examine world history through the closely related discipline of geography From the early civilizations of ancient Mesopotamia to our present day globalized society readers will learn how humans interacted and still interact with the environment around them as well as the environment s role in not only shaping the society s world view but enabling the building of socially stratified and successful civilizations Additionally the book examines how civilizations interacted with others from developing cross boundary trade to initiating wars of expansion Finally readers will also understand the impact of the study and application of geography such as the creation and use of maps and the study of cultures and Earth s processes Readers will come away with a new understanding of the relevance of geography to not only human history but contemporary events as well as their day to day lives By presenting this history from a slightly different geographic point of view this book will inspire fresh curiosity in the world both past and present

Africa and the Shaping of International Human Rights Derrick M. Nault,2020-12-17 Africa throughout its postcolonial history has been plagued by human rights abuses ranging from intolerance of political dissent to heinous crimes such as genocide Some observers consequently have gone so far as to suggest that human rights are a concept alien to African cultures The International Criminal Court ICC s focus on Africa in recent years has reinforced the region s reputation as a hotspot for human rights violations But despite Africa s notoriety concerning human rights Africa and the Shaping of International Human Rights argues that the continent has been pivotal in helping to shape contemporary human rights norms and practices Challenging prevailing Eurocentric interpretations of human rights origins and evolution it demonstrates that from the colonial era to the present Africa s peoples have drawn attention to and prompted novel ways of thinking about human rights through their encounters with the world at large Beginning with the depredations of King Leopold II in the Congo Free State in the 1880s and ending with the ICC s current activities in Africa it reveals how African events personalities groups and nations have influenced the trajectory of human rights history in intriguing and critical ways in the end enlarging and universalizing a major discourse of our time      Pictorial History of the World's Greatest War and New International Atlas of the World ,1919
